NRA Firearms For Freedom, is a unique program supporting the liberties that built this country through gifts of firearms. Guns you donate now can help preserve our American way of life in the future - and possibly provide you tax deductions and other benefits. It's more important than ever to safeguard your values and those of the NRA. Your firearms helped define your life. Now, let them be your legacy.

NRA FIREARMS FOR FREEDOM

Several times a year, donated firearms are auctioned off to NRA-friendly buyers who are eager to give your firearms a new home. World-class auction houses that specialize in firearms handle each auction and ensure that all transfers are handled professionally and with the care and attention they deserve.

These auctions serve the purpose of immediately converting your firearms into cash. Funds are then distributed to the NRA or affiliate program determined by each donor.

THE RICHARD GUCKES COLLECTION

Richard Guckes was a man from a medium sized community who had a large love of Civil War history. He was a collector of many things and at the top of his collecting interest were Civil War items. He dedicated most of his adult life to not only collecting Civil War era items but to learning the history about those items as well. His primary interest was regarding the 83rd, 111th, and the 145th Pennsylvania infantry regiment out of Erie, Pennsylvania.

Of course, Rich visited Gettysburg many times and if you were with him, you felt that you were on your own personally guided tour. Not only did he collect items of historical interest and learn the stories surrounding those items, he was also a storyteller. He enjoyed talking about the battle at Little Round Top, the site of General Strong Vincent's death, and the battle that took place at the Peach Orchard. Time after time people visiting the Gettysburg battlefield would stop and listen to Rich as he talked about the events that had taken place. They would ask questions and he willingly answered their questions and engaged in conversation about the battle and the people who had fought there. As he acquired an interesting artifact, he would show those items to other collectors. His enthusiasm was always genuine when he managed to find a particular item for which he had been searching. He could be observed at the Mansfield, Ohio show wearing a cardboard sign, secured with a string around his neck, listing the types of items he wanted to purchase!

As Rich travelled up and down the East coast, he always managed to find items that he may not have been "looking" for but may have contributed to his collection. His internal compass always got him back to Gettysburg where he could be found in the local shops or attending the Civil War shows held there. He spent time with his local reenacting group clearing the slope of Little Round Top and returning it the way it would have appeared during the Civil War. Of course, he especially looked forward to attending the Baltimore show.

Most importantly he was highly regarded by all of his fellow collectors. He will be missed by all who knew him. But everyone will remember that when Rich asked about an item that he was interested in purchasing, his first words would always be: " Can you do better than that?"

1001 - STONEBOW WITH FOREGRIP AND TANG SIGHT.
Measures 36" across the prod, 33" from stirrup to rear of stock. Iron prod with a more recent string. Release is an interesting spring loaded mechanism rather than the normally seen knut, which clamps down on the string. When the trigger is pulled, the mechanism pops up and releases the string. Bulbous foregrip affixed under forearm. Tang rear sight with V notch rear sight; front sight slot is vacant with a screw to adjust sight for windage. More traditional "firearm" style trigger guard and buttstock. CONDITION: Wood has significant insect damage along forearm and cracking in channel. Tang has been repaired at horns with fixed pins, tang sight missing screws. Metal has an even chocolate patina with oxidation throughout. String is good as of a more recent vintage. Foregrip likely a very late addition. 300 - 500

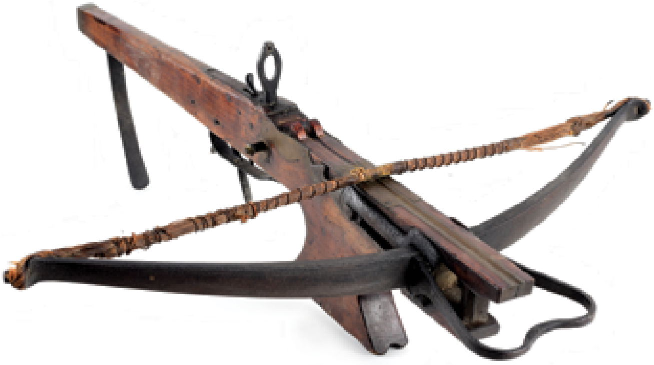
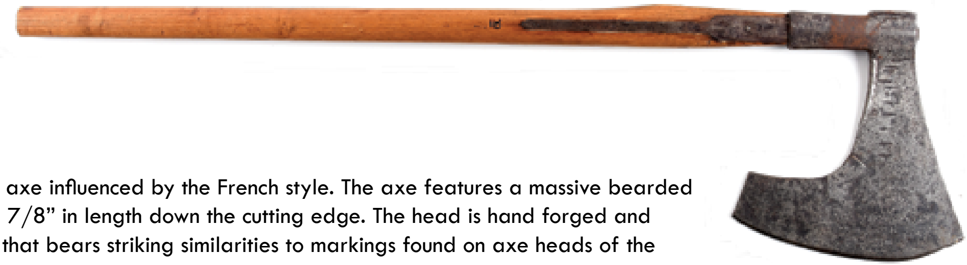
1002 - A LATE TARGET CROSSBOW, WITH INTERESTING PRIMITIVE STOCK.
Measures 29 - 1/2" across prod and 36" from stirrup to rear of stock. Iron prod with old twisted rope string and affixed by a pair of iron prod brackets. Distinct stand on underside of tiller for competitive and/or ceremonial use. Knut of wood, probably replaced, open rear sight, and cocking lever. Set trigger mechanism in a classic trigger guard with added iron to form a primitive pistol grip. A strip of iron has been affixed to the bottom of the stock to function as a primitive shoulder stock. Brass buttcap. Small brass plaque on bottom of stand with punched dots that look like "D D". CONDITIONL: Good. Metal has an even chocolate patina with even oxidation throughout. String with some fraying. Brass decorations with a deep untouched patina. Stock is strong with some marks from handling and storage throughout, termite damage, and some spots of what looks like old attempts at chemical cleaning. A lovely example. EMW 1,000 - 1,500

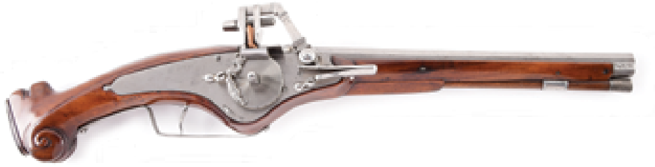


1003 - ATTRACTIVE CIRCA 17TH CENTURY FRENCH INFLUENCED BISCAYAN BEARDED AXE.
Blade Length: 10 - 7/8"
Overall Length: 46"



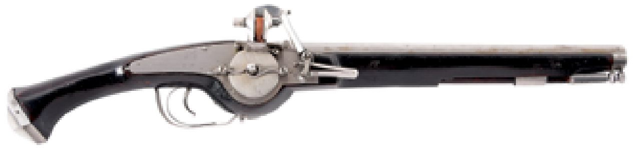
Attractive example of an early bearded axe influenced by the French style. The axe features a massive bearded blade that measures approximately 10 - 7/8" in length down the cutting edge. The head is hand forged and exhibits a clear but unidentified marking that bears striking similarities to markings found on axe heads of the same circa which were excavated around the Bay of Biscay. Similarly styled and marked axe heads have also been found in North America, as Basque and French ship crews sporadically traded their axes while on annual fishing and whaling voyages off Newfoundland and the Gulf of the St. Lawrence. The axe also features a long wood haft with two iron straps on each side, which are held in place by four nails each. The haft is likely a later replacement and is marked "1B" or "IB" just beneath the straps. CONDITION: The head exhibits clear forging flaws and delamination is evident throughout its shape. Pitting is also evident throughout its construction with small areas of surface rust. The blade exhibits various chips and dents. The haft exhibits handling wear with scattered dents and scratches. Overall good. JLD 800 - 1,200

1004 - (A) A GOOD GERMAN WHEELOCK PISTOL WITH WALNUT STOCK, CIRCA 1620.
Manufacturer: German
Model: Wheelock
Caliber/Bore: .50 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: 12 - 7/8”
FFL Status: Antique



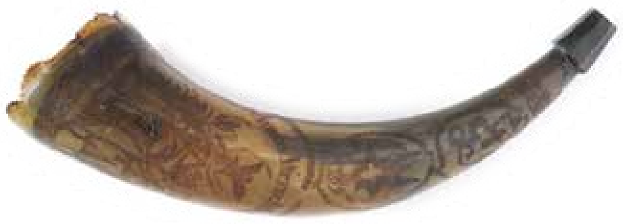
Octagonal barrel made without sights, retained by 3 pins. Nosecap with simple 3 line engraving. Ramrod, engraved with 3 lines en suite with nosecap, retained by a single thimble and feeding into an unreinforced mouth. Unsigned plain lock with a simple dragon decoration over the wheel; very bottom tip of cock engraved with scroll where it makes contact with frizzen. Ram’s head butt with flat buttcap. Walnut stock with some light incised carving. CONDITION: Very good, bright metal has been cleaned in the European style over some light spotted oxidation with delamination visible from hand forging throughout. There are a few light spots of patina that do not detract. Stock is good with light handling marks, and appears to have had an extra layer of oil added. Mechanics not verified as no spanner is included, but wheel turns slightly by hand, bore is good with some light oxidation towards muzzle. EMW 3,000 - 5,000

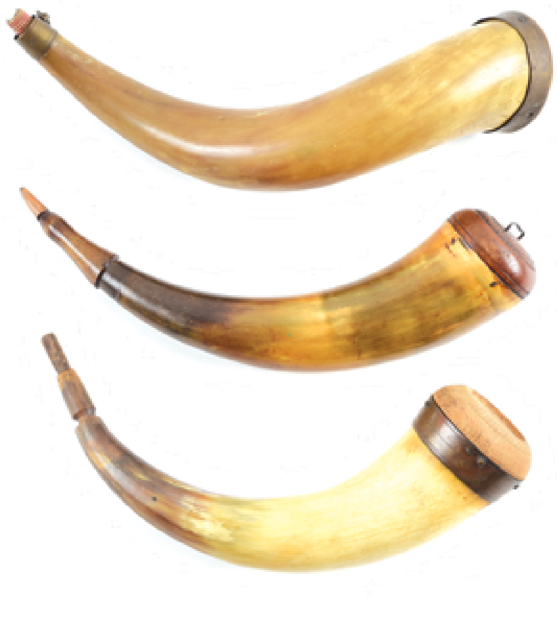
1005 - (A) A GOOD GERMAN WHEELOCK PISTOL WITH EBONIZED STOCK, CIRCA 1620.
Manufacturer: German
Model: Wheelock
Caliber/Bore: .58 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: 12 - 3/4”
FFL Status: Antique



Octagonal barrel made without sights with a proof over chamber that appears to be a crown over a mounted rider, but is soft. Barrel retained by dual pins. Ramrod with a trumpeted 2 stage head, retained by a single thimble. Plain undecorated lock. Trigger guard with simple spring that is notched to push on rear of trigger and function as a simple reset mechanism. Fishtail butt with hexagonal faceted buttcap. Ebonized stock. CONDITION: Very good, bright metal has been cleaned in the European style over some light spotted oxidation with delamination visible from hand forging throughout. Barrel has a few spots of patina that does not detract. Stock is good with handling marks throughout, including a few scrapes to bare wood through ebonization. Mechanics not verified as no spanner is included, bore is very good with a minimum of oxidation, but appears to have been aggressively cleaned as well. EMW 3,000 - 5,000

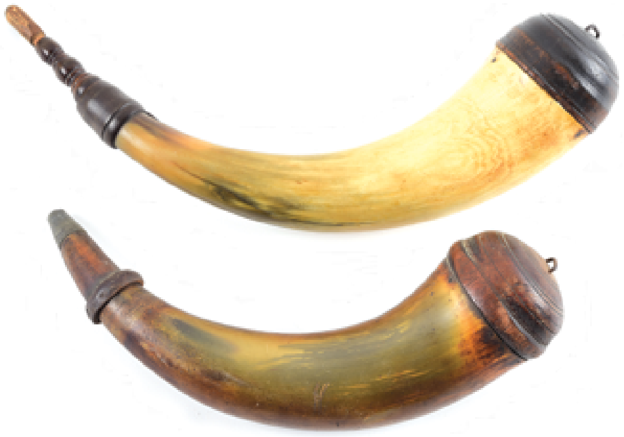
1006 - ENGRAVED BRITISH NAPOLEONIC PERIOD POWDER HORN.
Measures about 12” overall and 9” across the bow. The horn is a deep green color and is professionally engraved throughout. The conical spout is faceted and has a scalloped edge at the opening. The recessed wooden plug is pressure fit and the scalloped horn protrusions feature serrated edges. At the top third, horn is engraved with the royal “GR / III” cypher below a crown. Below this is a coat of arms surrounding a cross in the center. There are several detailed buildings and a mourning tree. Towards the base is a gentleman standing next to a memorial surrounded by a banner that reads “He Britains Moorn With Me I Pray Hear Lies My Wife And Loving Boys”. CONDITION: Very good overall with some losses to protrusions at base. A very nice professionally engraved powder horn. DMG 1,000 - 2,000





1007 - LOT OF 3: POWDER HORNS.
Lot consists of 3 powder horns. (A) Nice cream color with domed plug with notched lower edge and 2 concentric concave roped rings surrounding flat top with bracket. CONDITION: Very good. (B) Horn with banded throat and base. Base plug a crude old replacement. Tip with modern screw tip partially completed. CONDITION: Fair. C) Horn with banded base. Modern replacement domed plug partially completed. CONDITION: Fair. 200 - 400

1008 - LOT OF 2: POWDER HORNS.
Lot consists of: (A) Pewter tip horn with large raised rim at base of wood spout. Domed plug with rounded raised edge, turned rings. Flat top with staple in place. CONDITION: Very good. (B) Internal screw tip with domed plug showing simple turned channels with narrow raised ridges. CONDITION: Excellent. 600 - 800



1009 - LOT OF 2: POWDER HORNS.
Lot consists of: (A) External screwtip, brackets in place on plug and neck. Flat top low dome plug with rope border. CONDITION: Very good. (B) Horn with incised line and X marked lower edge. The tip has a wood plug. Low dome plug with serrated edge carving and top with 2 concentric rings joined by short cross cuts. Brackets in place. CONDITION: Very good. 600 - 800

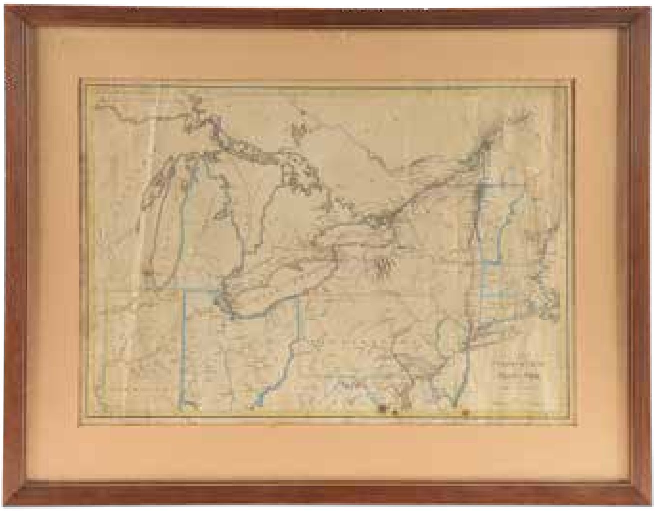
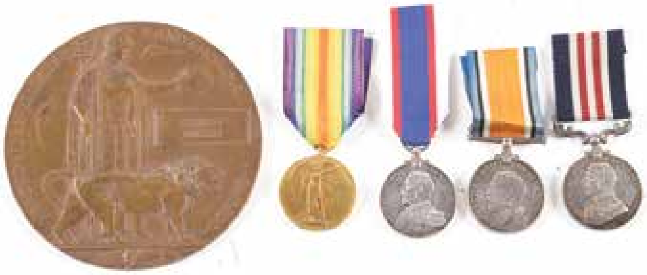
(D) Low dome plug. Double incised lines at base of horn with 4 incised lines on base of plug. Concave tip with staple. CONDITION: Good, base rings near staple show bumps. 600 - 800

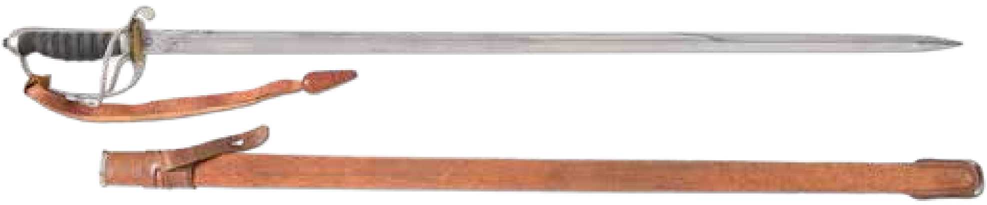
1013 - FRAMED WAR OF 1812 ERA "A CORRECT MAP OF THE SEAT OF WAR".
Published circa 1812 by John Conrad. This attractive printed map depicts the American Northeast including major towns, bodies of water, and mile markers along major routes. State outlines are done in color. While battle sites are not marked, this map could have been used to better understand news reports of the British invasion and subsequent battles. Map is framed in a simple matted wood frame. CONDITION: Very good. Map is clear overall with some light staining, foxing and a few minor tears which do not detract from the overall presentation. Frame has light wear but remains serviceable. View: 23 - 1/4" x 16 - 1/4". Overall: 30" x 23 - 1/2". BAS 1,000 - 1,500



1014 - BRITISH WWI WAR MEDAL GROUPING OF LANCE CORPORAL STEWART MCLEOD, GORDON HIGHLANDERS.
Very nice World War I British medal grouping that is identified to Lance Corporal Stewart McLeod. The only son of Adam and Marion McLeod, Stewart joined the British Army late in World War I and was assigned to Company D, 1st Battalion, Gordon Highlanders. His service record is short, as he died on October 30, 1918 at the age of 19. Combat did not claim Stewarts' life, instead the common enemy of the Triple Entente and the Central Powers, disease, put an early end to the young man's life. McLeod's service is remembered through his medals which include: (A) Military Medal, which was awarded for "acts of gallantry and devotion to duty under fire". (B) British War Medal which was awarded for service during World War I. (C) WWI Victory Medal. All of the medals are impressed with McLeod's name, unit, and is service number S/15826 on their rims. (D) "Dead Man's Penny" Memorial Plaque medallion which is named to McLeod. (E) An additional medal, the First Pattern George V Long Service and Good Conduct Medal of the Royal Fleet Reserve, is included. This medal is impressed "K.20657 CH.B. 19235 F. CHALLENGER. STO. 1. R.F.R" on the rim. CONDITION: All medals present very well with scattered blemishes and faded ribbons. Medal (D) has a replaced ribbon. Overall Good. JLD 500 - 800

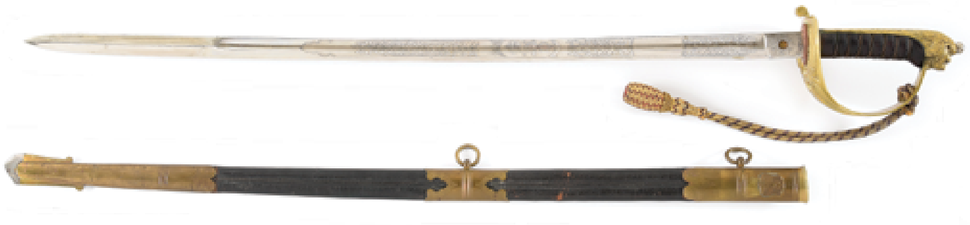


1015 - BRITISH WWI PATTERN 1821 ROYAL ARTILLERY SWORD OF AUBREY FRANCIS TOWNSEND, TRENCH MORTAR OFFICER.
Blade Length: 34 - 1/2"
Overall Length: 41"



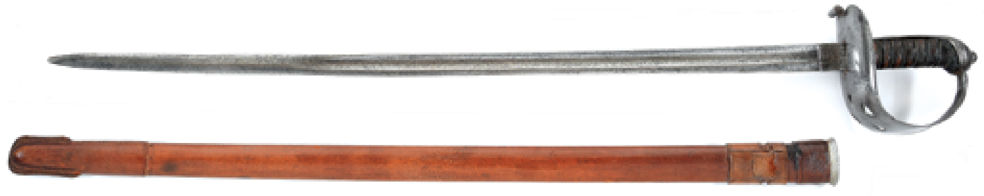
Very nice example of an identified Pattern 1821 Royal Artillery sword. The sword is inscribed on the blade to "A.F. Townsend" who was an officer in the Special Reserves to Royal Field Artillery during World War I. Townsend was appointed as a Second Lieutenant on June 15, 1915 and served as an acting Captain while commanding a Trench Mortar Battalion from November 25, 1916-January 17, 1917. It appears as though he emigrated to Argentina after the war was over as he is listed as coming to Britain on a ship from Argentina in 1925 claiming Argentina as residence and arriving in Argentina at age 34 in October 1927 from Britain, saying born in Croydon. The sword features a single edged blade with a flat spine and single fuller on both sides. The blade is finely etched on each side with floral and Royal Artillery motifs. One side features winged lightning bolts and cannon, flanked by ornate scrollwork. The other side features the same scrollwork flanking the cypher of King George V. The blade is marked "HTH / Sheffield" for H.H. Taylor of Sheffield. The sword also features a steel 3 band hilt with knurled backstrap and rounded pommel with tang nut. The grip is wrapped with sharkskin with twisted wire binding. The sword is complete with its leather wrapped steel scabbard. CONDITION: The blade remains bright with light areas of spotting and pitting. Etchings remain crisp and nearly unmolested. The steel hilt retains its shine with its plating intact. Grip exhibits handling wear. The leather wrapped scabbard remains strong with intact stitching. There are visible creases in some areas, strap exhibits cracking. Overall very good. JLD 500 - 700

1016 - BRITISH PATTERN 1827 NAVAL OFFICER'S SWORD BY MANTON & CO.
Blade Length: 31 - 1/2"
Overall Length: 37 - 1/2"



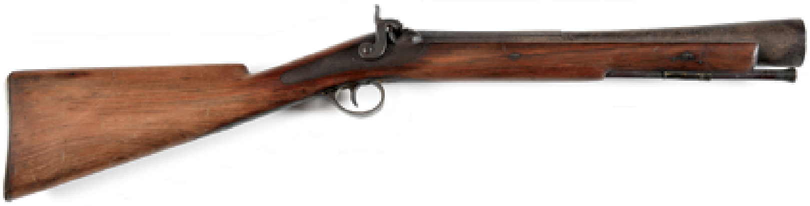
Nice example of a British Pattern 1827 Naval Officer's sword. The sword features a spearpoint blade with single fuller that is elegantly etched. The decorations are contained in an arabesque spire and includes acorns and oak leaves which are intertwined with thick naval rope. The obverse features a nicely etched crowned anchor and the reverse features 2 royal coat of arms, 1 is etched between the decorations while the other is etched just above the ricasso which is marked "MANTON / & CO. / ENGLAND". The ricasso meets the cast brass and gilded guard which features a crowned, fouled anchor. The grip features a grooved, center-swelled wooden handle wrapped in high quality leather which has been elegantly checkered and wrapped with strands of double twisted brass wire which fit neatly into the grooves of the handle. The reverse of the grip is a brass backstrap that resembles the flowing mane of a lion which leads up to the lion's head pommel. Completing the handle is the original sword knot which remains secured to the slot in the knucklebow. The sword is complete with its leather scabbard which features brass mounts and 2 carry rings. The mounts are mostly unadorned with the exception of a few decorative lines. The upper mount is appropriately marked "MANTON / & CO. / ENGLAND" in a shield. CONDITION: The blade remains bright with mostly unmolested decorations. There are a few areas of spotting and light tarnishing. The guard exhibits slight oxidation but remains bright. Grip exhibits light wear, wire remains tight. Backstrap exhibits aging. The leather scabbard exhibits various creases with one significant bend between the mounts. Mounts exhibit a pleasant patina with scattered blemishes. Overall very good. JLD 600 - 900

1017 - SCARCE OFFICER'S VARIANT 1864 PATTERN CAVALRY TROOPER'S SWORD OF LT. W.H.M. STEWART, 43RD REGIMENT, 1ST PUNJAB CAVALRY, HUNZA-NAGAR CAMAPAIGN 1891.
Blade Length: 33"
Overall Length: 38"



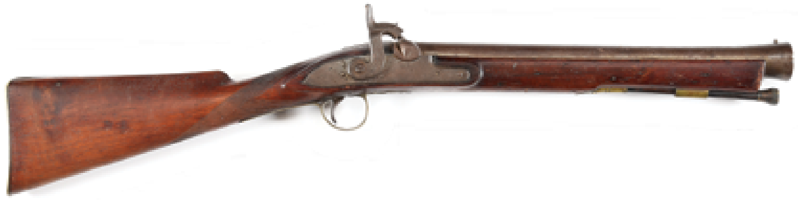
Scarce officer's variant 1864 pattern cavalry trooper's sword by Wilkinson. The sword is numbered 22602 on the spine, purchased June 1878 by Lt. William Hall Mackintosh Stewart before leaving in October for India, where he served with the 43rd Regiment and was attached to the 1st Punjab Cavalry. Some 12,000 1864 pattern swords, offering better protection for the hand, were ready for use in the Second Afghan War in 1878, but are considered scarce. Stewart likely expected to be mounted on frontier duty. The sword uses the 1864 style cup hilt with Maltese cross piercings, but instead of sword knot slots in the face of the guard uses a conventional slot in the knucklebow near the pommel, which is pistol shaped like the earlier 1821 patterns. Born in India on November 2, 1858, the son of a British officer, Stewart attended Cheltenham and Sandhurst, was commissioned 2nd Lieutenant, or Ensign, in the 35th Regiment, and transferred to the 43rd in May 1878, reaching Bombay in November and served in India for almost 30 years. In 1881 he was promoted to Lieutenant, transferred to the Bengal Staff Corps and attached to the First Punjab Cavalry, part of the Punjab frontier forces. In 1889 he made Captain and was also appointed a Political Agent 2nd Class. In 1891 he saw action in the campaign against the states of Hunza and Nagar, in present day Pakistan, as one of a dozen British officers leading a mixed contingent of about 1,200 native officers and men. He acted as Assistant Political Agent and aide to the expedition commander, supervised the transportation services, and commanded a detachment of the 20th Punjab Infantry. The fighting involved storming an enemy fort and scaling the cliffs behind it while under fire. It was sufficiently fierce to result in the award of 3 Victoria Crosses. After the surrender of the 2 states, Stewart remained there as chief British political representative, with a garrison to back him up. We find him promoted to Major in May 1898 and eventually Lt. Colonel. His postings included Baroda as the officiating resident in 1901, Political Agent in Gilgit from 1901 to 1903, Consul for Kerman and Persian Beluchistan, residing in Kerman 1905-06, and lastly to Bikanir in Rajestan. He retired soon after, returned to England, and died in London on August 24, 1908. He is mentioned in several dispatches and reminiscences of British officers in India, and was affectionately nicknamed "Curly" by fellow officers. This is a scarce sword pattern carried by an officer with some active field service as well as important political postings in the British Raj. CONDITION: The blade is heavily worn and exhibits pitting as well as spotting with evidence of cleaning. The once noticed scrollwork is significantly muted and only few traces of any blade decoration remain. The Wilkinson etching on the ricasso is faint but present. The guard, backstrap, and pommel also exhibit pitting and spotting. The wood handle has lost most of its leather wrap and the wood is exposed revealing various chips. The leather wrapped scabbard remains strong with intact stitching. There are visible creases in some areas, strap exhibits cracking. Overall fair. SBR/JLD 500 - 700

1018 - (A) W&J RIGBY PERCUSSION BLUNDERBUSS
Manufacturer: W&J Rigby
Model: Blunderbuss
Barrel Length: 16”
FFL Status: Antique
Gauge: 1 - 1/2”



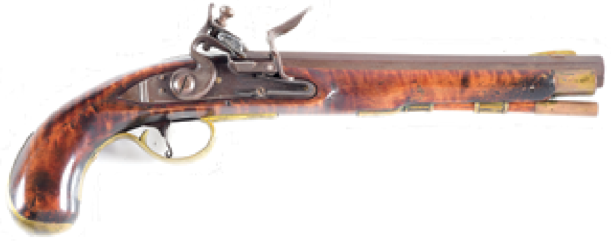
Percussion blunderbuss built by W&J Rigby (William and John) of Dublin, Ireland circa 1823. Steel 16” funnel shaped barrel coming into a octagon breech and stamped “W&J RIGBY DUBLIN”. Back action percussion lock marked “W&J RIGBY” with single trigger control. Walnut plain stock with iron hardware and original looking ramrod. CONDITION: Metal has brown surface patina with light overall corrosion and rust. Wood has dry appearance, possibly being cleaned. Pitted bore with good mechanics. DLM 1,000 - 1,500

1019 - (A) BRITISH ROYAL HOUSE PROTECTOR BLUNDERBUSS
Manufacturer: British
Model: Blunderbuss
Barrel Length: 15 - 3/4”
FFL Status: Antique
Gauge: 1 - 1/4”



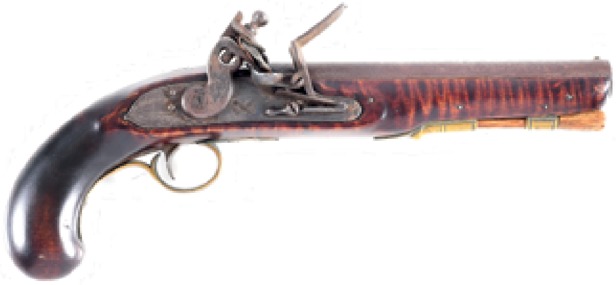
British made blunderbuss trademarked as “The Royal House Protector”. Made in England circa the early 1800s. 15 - 3/4” steel funnel shaped barrel with British proofs and conversion to percussion using a patent breech system and controlled with a single trigger. Walnut checkered grip stock with engraved brass hardware and original ramrod. CONDITION: Overall good with metal fading to a silvery patina with some areas of corrosion. Brass trigger guard tang is broken and tip is missing. Pitted bore with sticky mechanics. DLM 1,000 - 1,500

1020 - (A) FLINTLOCK KENTUCKY PISTOL.
Manufacturer: American
Model: Kentucky Pistol
Caliber/Bore: .45 Rifled
Barrel Length: 9”
FFL Status: Antique



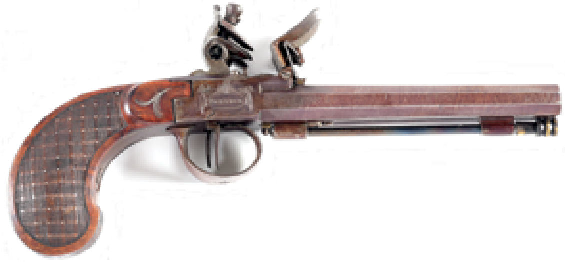
Contemporary flintlock pistol made by an unknown gunsmith at an unknown time. 9” octagon rifled .45 caliber barrel with German silver front sight and notched rear sight. Siler style flint lock with turned tail trigger. Curly maple stock with brass hardware and comes with hardwood ramrod. CONDITION: Overall good with metal having a brown patina and brass fading to a golden yellow. Shootable bore and good mechanics. DLM 1,000 - 1,400

1021 - (A) WESTERN PENNSYLVANIA FLINTLOCK KENTUCKY PISTOL SIGNED A. JOY.
Manufacturer: A. Joy
Model: Kentucky Pistol
Caliber/Bore: .54 Rifled
Barrel Length: 8”
FFL Status: Antique



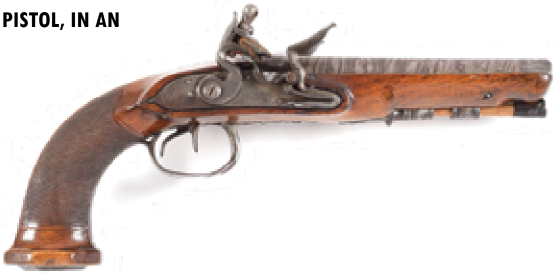
Western Pennsylvania flintlock pistol signed “A. Joy” for Andrew Joy of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania who worked from 1838 to 1858. Silver inlay on wrist is signed in script “A.Joy”. 8” round .54 caliber rifled barrel with bead front sight and notched rear sight with starburst engraving on top of barrel. Replacement flint lock with single trigger (most likely percussion originally). Curly maple stock with brass hardware including western Pennsylvania style bell flower finial triggerguard and thumbnail entry pipe. Comes with hardwood ramrod. CONDITION: Gun has been converted to flintlock at some point with new lock screws. Wood has been refinished with buttstock repaired during the day with brass strip. Dark bore with functioning mechanics. DLM 1,800 - 2,400

1022 - (A) GUILLAUME BERLEUR FLINTLOCK DOUBLE BARREL PISTOL.
Manufacturer: Berleur
Model: Double Pistol
Caliber/Bore: .45 Rifled
Barrel Length: 5 - 3/4"
FFL Status: Antique



Octagonal barrels with microgroove rifling and visible Damascus twist, left side marked with ELG proof. Reinforced cocks. Sliding trigger guard protecting double triggers, which doubles as a safety. Bag grip with crosshatch checkered panels and beaded decoration. Light wire inlay behind boxlock. Ramrod retained by a pair of thimbles on underside of rib. CONDITION: Barrels retain much of a reapplied brown finish with silvering to high edges and muzzle, over some spotted oxidation. Boxlock action essentially a smooth chocolate patina with flashes of grey at edges, crisp legends. Some wire inlay missing. Stock is very good with some minor bumps and bruises. Thumbpiece replaced with a modern iteration. EMW 400 - 800

1023 - (A) A CONTINENTAL, LIKELY BELGIAN, DOUBLE BARREL HOWDAH OR OFFICER'S FLINTLOCK PISTOL, IN AN UNUSUALLY SMALL BORE.
Manufacturer: European
Model: Howdah
Caliber/Bore: .54 Smoothbore
Barrel Length: 6 - 3/4"
FFL Status: Antique



These types of pistols were favored by those looking to protect themselves from dangerous game animals, predominantly British officers who were big game hunting in India. This example has unusually small .54 caliber barrels; most are found north of .60 caliber. Small bead front on concave smooth game rib with scalloped open section of tang for a rear sight. Top of barrels stamped "EX". Both locks with waterproof bridled pans, roller frizzens. Swan neck cocks. Stock decorated with simple wire inlay in floral pattern, central cross, across smooth spine. Two panels of point pattern checkering at wrist, flared octagonal butt. Buttcap decorated with simple floral. Trigger guard decorated with a simple engraving of a bird (pheasant?), florals, urn finial. Horn tipped ramrod is frozen in channel and retained by single ferrule that feeds into a reinforced mouth with pointed finial decorated with simple line engraving. Diminutive double triggers. CONDITION: Very good, barrels essentially dove grey with some flashes of browning and oxidation throughout; other metal essentially dove grey with some age related staining and old inactive oxidation. Wire inlay is missing a few sections. Wood is very good with some rubbing and high edges. One chip and one crack at rear of right lock, one crack at rear of left lock. Checkering is fine and sharp, smoothened over time, with a few heads missing on right panel. Action works appropriately when operated by hand, bores are very good, smooth throughout with some patches of old oxidation. EW 700 - 1,000

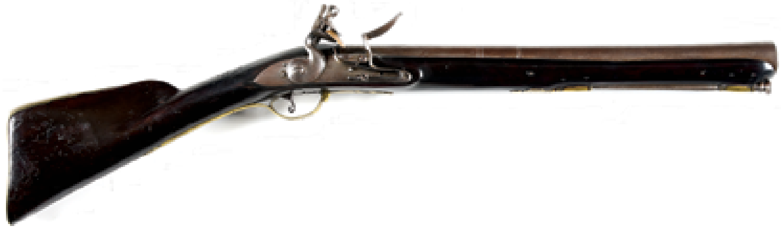
German silver cast and chased furniture including trigger guard, trigger guard finial, buttcap, and sideplate with military motifs, florals, and stands of arms. Stock profusely inlaid with silver wire in floral patterns. Barrel retained by 2 keys with German silver escutcheons. CONDITION: Fine as cleaned. Some tool marks on barrel and breech. Vast majority of silver inlay still present with a few very minor losses. Sideplate screws with some old oxidation, one marred somewhat badly. Action will not hold on cock and needs attention. Bore is very good with some oxidation to muzzle. PROVENANCE: Greg Martin, September 2009 Auction, Lot 1029. A copy of previous description is also included with this lot. EW 1,000 - 1,500

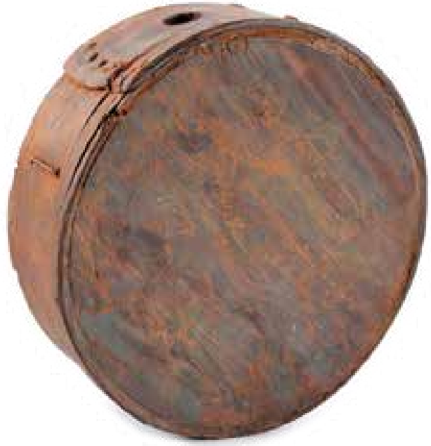
1025 - (A) FLINTLOCK BLUNDERBUSS.
Manufacturer: European
Model: Blunderbuss
Barrel Length: 17 - 3/4"
FFL Status: Antique
Gauge: 1 - 1/4" at muzzle

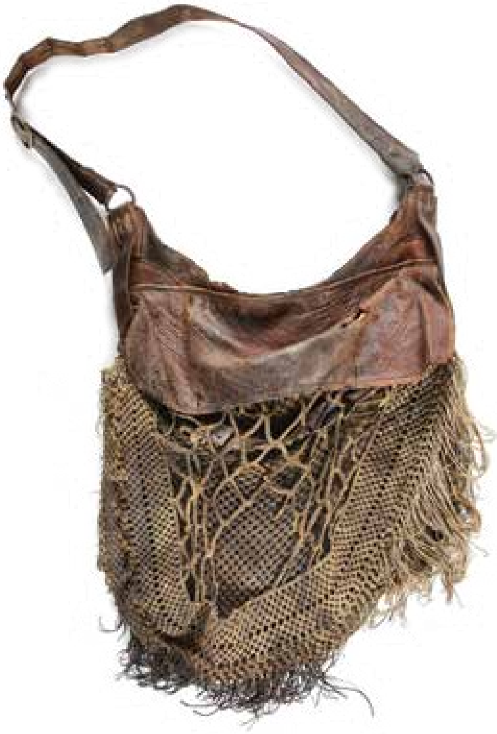


Unusual Flint lock Blunderbuss with parts which appear to be from other period guns or similar to them and built at an unknown age. 17 -3/4" steel unmarked typical blunderbuss shaped funnel like barrel with several rings around middle and breech. Flint lock which is very similar to British and other musket locks from the 1790 to 1820 period with no markings controlled with a turned tail trigger. Walnut stock with brass hardware including triggerguard with "Pineapple" finial similar to those used on guns from the Philadelphia Area. All brass engraved nicely and well fitted. An interesting decorator piece or historical arm in need of more research. CONDITION: Overall good with no visible restoration. DLM 1,800 - 2,200

1026 - US WAR OF 1812 MILITIA CHEESEBOX CANTEEN.

Dating 1790-1815 this cheese-box style canteen uses 3 wire brackets for the shoulder sling rather than the more commonly found tacked leather strips. 6 primitive iron tacks in 1 row secure the overlap of the rim. Each face is secured to the rim by an iron tack and small pegs. 1 iron tack in rim below the bracket opposite the overlap may have held a cord for a stopper. Below the overlap the rim has cracked 1/2” from the edge, running from the overlap down to the lower bracket. The surfaces show wear, but substantial thin remnants of old bluish-green paint mixing with some reddish-brown tones. This pattern was easy to make by local woodworkers and remained popular from the Revolution into the 1840s in militia hands, often with painted decoration to match knapsacks, etc. CONDITION: Very Good. The rim crack has allowed the section next to it to shrink down slightly, but the wood is stable. This has a purported provenance from Danville, Pittsylvania County, Virginia. SR 500 - 700



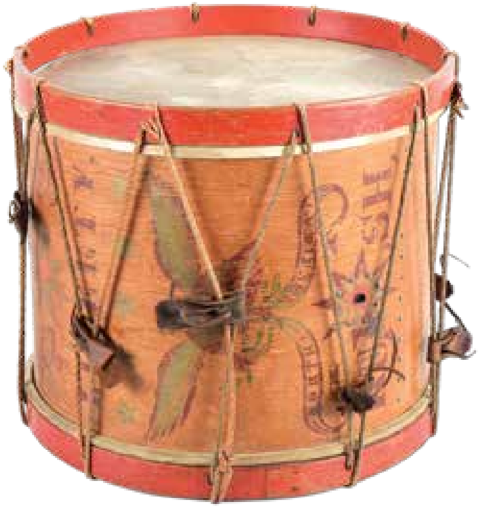


1027 - EARLY 19TH CENTURY LEATHER AND MACRAME HUNTING BAG.

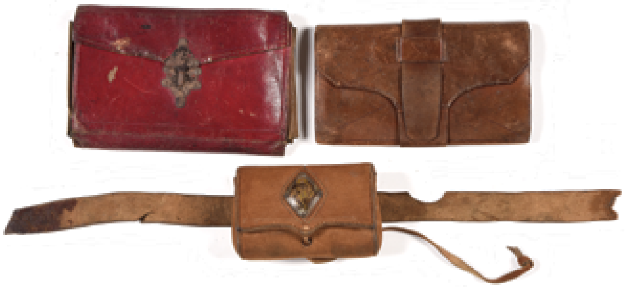
Super example of a nineteenth century hunting or game bag with 2 secondary fringed openwork macrame sections often associated with hunting waterfowl and game birds. Soft tooled leather main bag with shoulder strap adjusted by brass frame buckle. Main bag with button fastened flap, 2 small and 1 large interior pockets. 2 macrame panels attached by leather bands at top stitched to main shoulder bag forming 2 pockets, the inner panel finely done, the outer one more openwork with its upper leather edge secured by buckle to main bag and finer knotted work in 2 bands at bottom with fringe. CONDITION: Very good with some breaks to strands of the outer macrame panel, not very noticeable when seen against the inner panel, and some reattachment of strands to the leather top band with modern string. A very scarce accouterment showing elaborate workmanship. 600 - 800

1028 - CIRCA 1840S PAINTED MILITIA DRUM.

American militia painted drum circa 1840s. Red rims with plain light color maple body with overlap secured by a line of small, unusual, white-metal tacks and stencil painted with 8-pointed reddish-brown, sage green, and red nested star with small drum tacks around the vent hole, mirrored above with red-centered nested star with medium and sage green points, the latter flanked by reddish brown lyres crossed by long trumpets in red. In between the central motif is a spread-winged eagle in sage green outlined in reddish brown, clutching red arrows in both claws. Overhead is the word “LIBERTY” in reddish brown separated from the eagle by a line of 5 stars. The eagle clutches a ribbon scroll reading “NORTH AMERICA.”. The vent hole with star divides the word “RUSH” in brownish red, likely the militia company’s town. Townships in Monroe County, NY, and Schuylkill County, PA, seem most likely. The nested stars suggest Pennsylvania, but the tacks and design seem too simple for those makers. The omission of the olive branch and use of “North America” suggest an early Mexican War date. CONDITION: Very good. Rims, heads, and flesh hoops in place. Snare is missing. Original rope and tighteners are in place. Rope shows 1 mend. Tighteners show wear. Simple web sling with iron snap hook is present. Paint has muted age toning. Orientation of the eagle and motto reflect the angle of the drum in period playing. 2,000 - 2,500



1029 - LOT OF 3: 2 LEATHER WALLETS AND A LEATHER STRIKER POUCH.
Lot consists of (A) Moroccan red leather wallet with 5 compartments, with paper applied decorations of geometrics in light blues, reds, whites, and yellows. Early pull down lock made to aesthetically resemble a warded lock. CONDITION: Good, with some fraying to high edges and some tears to lining. Top compartments has a cut through center. Leather is supple and has some crazing throughout, with some stitching missing. (B) Early leather wallet with 6 compartments, with tounges marked with ink conversions (unclear what the conversions are for), inside flap marked "J.T. White July 16 1821 (illegible word) 5/6 / Chesterfield N H / County Cheshire" CONDITION: Very good with some minor handling marks and scrapes to leather. Some stitching has pulled on right side. Some crazing to leather, which is still supple. (C) Leather striker pouch with tinder, flint, and firesteel with curled ends. Escutcheon on lid marked "AW", probably for a previous owner. Old leather strap for affixing pouch have torn at ends, but drawstring is still present. CONDITION: Very good, pouch is worn to a soft, almost velvet, exterior, with some hardening and shine to high edges. Leather strap has hardened edges and some tears, but is largely still supple. Pouch is supple. A nice lot. EMW 800 - 1,200



1030 - LOT OF 7: COMPASSES

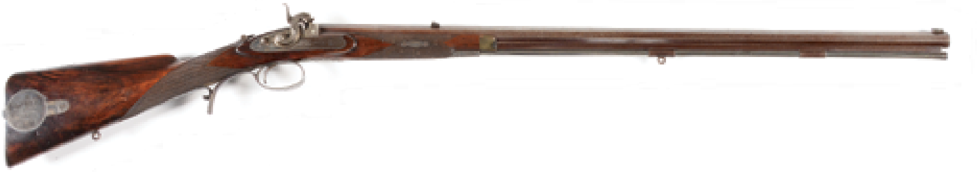
1057 - LOT OF FIREARMS RELATED MATERIALS AND ACCESSORIES.

Lot consists of gunsmith hand vise, 2 screw plates, pair bone pistol grips, 2 small powder horns damaged, 2 leather shot bags, a small tooled leather hunting pouch lacking strap, several tin powder measures, assorted wood grip screw drivers, a couple of hand-carved wood pieces, etc. CONDITION: Good overall. 300 - 500

1058 - (A) CONWAY PERCUSSION "ROOK AND RABBIT" RIFLE.

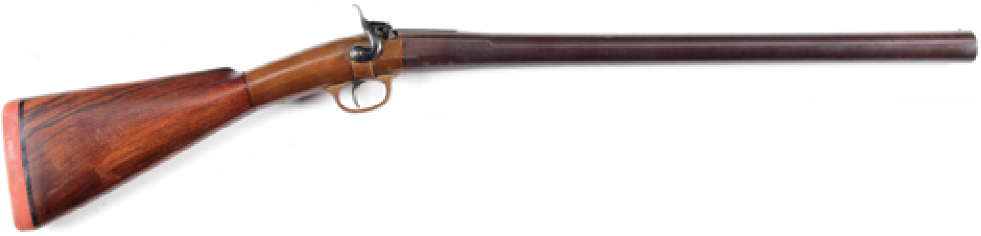
Manufacturer: Conway
Model: Percussion
Caliber/Bore: .44 rifled
Barrel Length: 29 - 1/2"
FFL Status: Antique



Conway is recorded as working in Blackfriars between 1821 and 1867. This example has an octagonal applied Damascus barrel with horizontally dovetailed bead front sight and silver line express rear sight. Top flat engraved "CONWAY, BLACKFRIARS, MANCHESTER". Trumpet ramrod with band engraved head is frozen in place, retained by a pair of ferrules that feed into a reinforced mouth with a sling eye on 2nd ferrule. Half stock with horn cap. Barrel retained by a single key with escutcheon engraved. Forearm with point pattern checkering. Pattern breech with platinum blowout engraved with scroll. Elaborate fishform cock with engraved scroll and scales. Stalking safety. Lock engraved with scroll and border work and has "CONWAY" in a playful ribbon. There is a vacant slot for a tang sight on the wrist, which is checkered en suite with forearm. Trigger guard with engraving en suite with the lock, and has an urn finial, engraved en suite. Trigger guard with extended finger grip. Cap box with a vignette of a running deer. Sling eye at toe line. Buttstock with long top strap engraved en suite with balance of gun. CONDITION: Excellent. Barrel with much browning and plenty of applied Damascus visible with some silvering to sharp edges. Horn forearm cap with a split on right side. Forearm has several bumps and pressure marks, with one crack forward of lock. Trigger guard retains much of the English high polish blue with some flaking to edges. Mechanically fine, bore is very good with strong rifling and some pitting in grooves. A highly attractive rifle. EMW 1,000 - 2,000

1059 - (A) BRITISH PERCUSSION WHALEGUN.

Manufacturer: British
Model: Whalegun
Barrel Length: 24"
FFL Status: Antique
Gauge: 1"
Length of Pull: 14"



British-proofed percussion muzzle-loading whaling gun. 24" Damascus steel barrel with front sight bead and a bore diameter of .91". Stamped at the end of the barrel near the receiver are 2 Birmingham proofs with the number "6" in-between. Birmingham proof on the brass receiver by the trigger guard. Wooden stock with added red rubber recoil pad and black spacer. CONDITION: Excellent overall condition with minor most finish remaining. Attention may be needed with loose stock. 1060 - (A) EVANS & LOW'S PATENT NO. 21 PERCUSSION LINE THROWING GUN

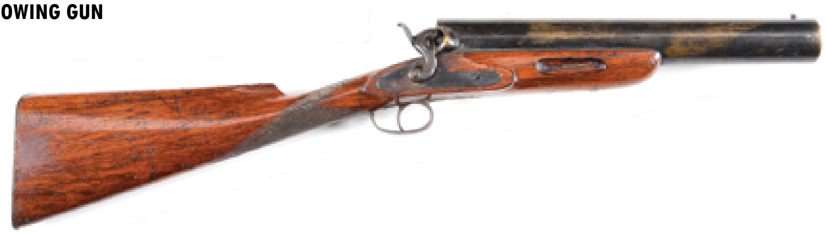
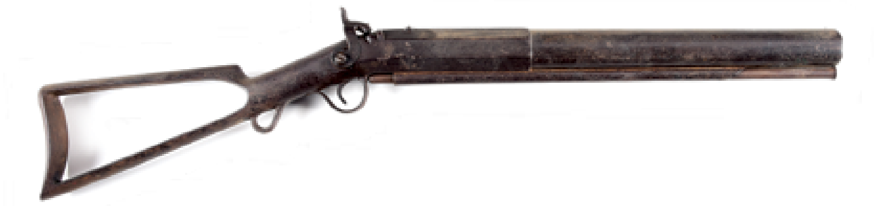
Manufacturer: Evans & Low
Model: Line Thrower
Caliber/Bore: 1 - 1/2"
Barrel Length: 14"
FFL Status: Antique



The Evan's line throwing gun was a rather nifty little device that could be used to throw lines from ship to ship, ship to shore, or shore to ship; interestingly, the Evans and Low's patent is mentioned by name in "Wrecks and Reminsicenes of St. Andrews Bay" by George Bruce as being intended to be shot from a ship to shore and demonstrated on September 8th, 1883. Brass front sight, with vacant slot for rear sight. Top of chamber engraved "Evans & Low's / Patent / No 21" with a strike under the "o" in "No". Half stock with finger grooves, iron furniture, and checkered wrist. CONDITION: Good with evidence of time spent at sea. Right side of barrel is dark, probably from being laid in a case, with other half of barrel a pleasing mustard patina. Iron trigger guard and strap is essentially a chocolate patina, while lock and cock just have patches. Butt with more consistent patina. Stock is good with numerous bumps and nicks as expected from a life at sea, with a minor chip at toe. Left side of stock has some kind of lacquer, possibly as a side effect from cleaning. A lovely piece of naval history. EMW 1,000 - 1,500

1061 - (A) CC BRAND WAHLING GUN WITH BOMB LANCE.

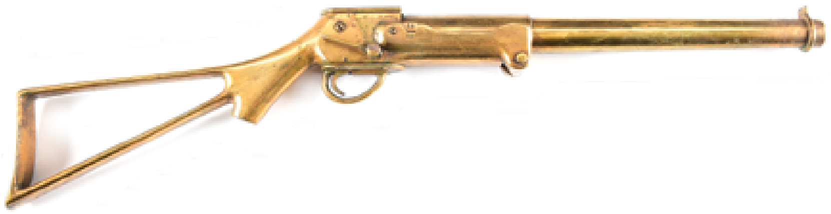
Manufacturer: CC Brand
Model: Whale gun
Barrel Length: 20”
FFL Status: Antique
Gauge: 1”



Unmarked, which is the norm for the guns made by CC Brand. Manufactured in Norwich circa 1850. Standard form with simple bead and notch signs with fishform cock, skeleton stock, and octagonal to round barrel. Very slightly flowy trigger guard, ramrod pipe with metal trumpet head ramrod. Includes a period bomb lance with triform cutting head. CONDITION: Very good. Metal has acquired an even light pitting consistent with use at sea, with some marks from handling and use throughout. Mechanically fine, bore is very good with a few small areas of pitting. Screws have been molested. Bomb lance is very good with a deep untouched mustard patina, and unscrews appropriately. These guns were used to propel bomb lances for whale hunting prior to the use of more conventional firearms. EW 1,500 - 2,500

1062 - (A) EBENEZER PIERCE BRASS WHALE GUN WITH 2 LANCES.

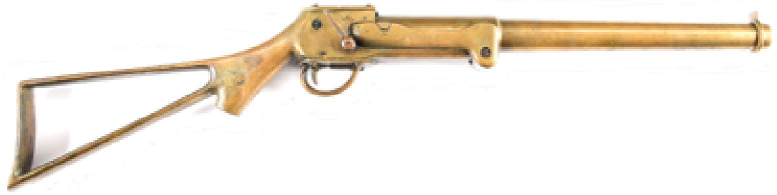
Manufacturer: Unkown
Model: Whale Gun
Serial No. 23
Barrel Length: 19 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique
Gauge: 1”



23 serial observed on right locking lug, right side frame, trigger guard, underside frame, top plate, and wrist. Unmarked, but of the design done by Ebenezer Pierce. Primitive bead front sight on ring soldered to muzzle. Manually operated, with left lever opening the action and right cocking the action. Accompanied by 2 Pierce bomb lances with cruciform heads and quad finned rears. CONDITION: Very good, especially considering the environments that these guns often operated in. Some casting flaws throughout from manufacturing process, and with numerous marks from handling and use throughout. Brass has been cleaned with area of scratches visible through, and splotches of what appear to be areas of chemical cleaning. Mechanically fine, bore is very good with some fouling from use. Bomb lances are very good with dark areas but overall very good, 1 lance has 2 missing fins, of which 1 is included. EMW 1,000 - 2,000

1063 - (A) EBENEZER PIERCE MARKED BRASS WHALE GUN.

Manufacturer: E. Pierce
Model: Whale Gun
Barrel Length: 19 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique
Gauge: 1”



Numbered “0” on lugs, barrel, frame; right side lug and frame with 3 punched dots to match. Top of barrel assembly marked “E. Pierce” for Ebenezer Pierce. Primitive bead front sight on ring soldered to muzzle. Manually operated, with left lever opening the action and right cocking the action. Includes a Pierce bomb lance with cruciform with finned rear. CONDITION: Very good, especially considering the environments that these guns often operated in. Some casting marks throughout from manufacturing process, and with numerous from handling and use throughout. Brass has acquired a deep mustard tone, lighter in some places from rubbing and use. Mechanically fine, bore is very good with some fouling from use. Bomb lance head has even corrosion throughout, while the brass body has some flecked verdigris and flecked oxidation. EMW 1,000 - 1,500

1064 - LOT OF 4: ALAN JAY GAINES "HISTORIC SHIPS OF AMERICA" ETCHINGS.

1066 - AN ENGLISH BRASS SURVEYOR'S COMPASS BY C. LINCOLN, IN ANDREW MEELY CASE, WITH MANUAL, CIRCA 19TH CENTURY.

Elaborate 8 pointed compass singed "C. Lincoln" "London" around perimeter of the compass with dual pointing needle and lifter arm. Sights have affixing hardware and are included, 1 marked "II" on underside, other marked "2". Housed in a wooden case with label in lid for Andrew Meneely, noted purveyor of survey equipment from Troy. A USMC blanket has been used to line the box and prevent damage. Also included is a manual entitled "THE FARMERS LAND MEASURER" with instructions on how to measure land and filled with handwritten notes of numbers and calculations, certainly the owner performing the requisite math. CONDITION: Very good, with brass having acquired a deep bronze-green patina, with verdigris in squares on either arm, where sights attach. Case is very good with numerous bumps and chips throughout, with remnants of leather carrying strap visible on left and right sides, where originally bolted on. Needle spins freely. EMW

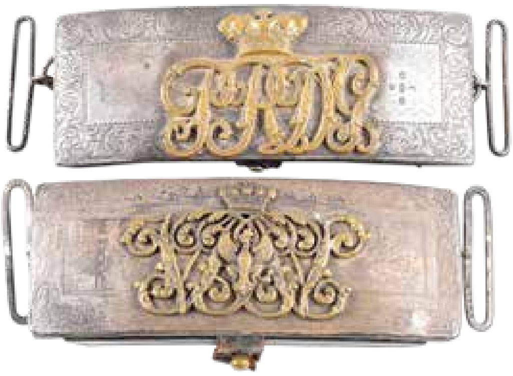
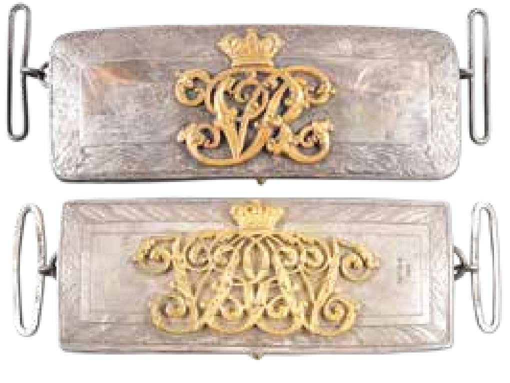
1068 - LOT OF 2: VICTORIAN SILVER CARTRIDGE BOXES.

Lot consists of (A) English cartridge box with scroll engraved perimeters and hallmarks for Birmingham sterling silver, 1867. B & P maker unidentified. Sides of box with silver acanthus leaves, hallmarked on loops, and silver brocaded wire. A cypher is affixed to the front, looks like "TRDG". (B) English cartridge box with floral engraved perimeters and hallmarks for Birmingham sterling silver, 1863. Bradenburg cypher with eagle affixed to front. Sides of box with silver acanthus leaves, hallmarked on loops, and silver brocaded wire. W.J & Co maker mark unidentified. CONDITION: Both boxes have tarnishing to silver, (B) somewhat darker than (A), which can easily be cleaned. Leather has cracked in a few areas, exposing wood core, but still attractive. Brocade on (B) has lost approximately half of the silvering, but still appealing. A nice lot of boxes. EMW 800 - 1,200



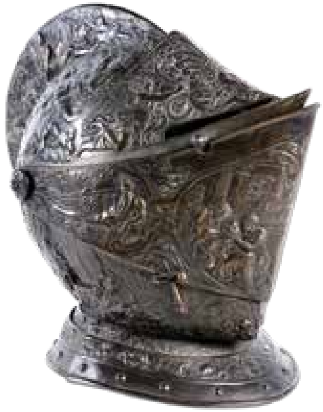
1069 - LOT OF 2: VICTORIAN SILVER CARTRIDGE BOXES.

Lot consists of (A) Silver Victorian cartridge box with a more contemporary VR cypher. Silver hallmarks for Birmingham sterling silver, 1861, maker not identified. Perimeter engraved with flowing floral work. Acanthus leaves flanking box with loops stamped for B&P, top decorated with golden brocade. (B) Marked for Birmingham sterling silver, manufactured by Joseph Jennens and Co, 1847. Sides of leather box are further decorated with silver acanthus letters and brocade. Elaborate brass cypher affixed to front that resembles the Brandenburg cypher without the eagle. Perimeter is engraved with thistle work. CONDITION: Both boxes are somewhat tarnished, could easily be cleaned by a new owned. Cypher on box (A) appears to be of a more recent vintage. Leather on both boxes is stiff but complete with some minor handling marks and some polish residue from someone having polished the silver with NevrDull or equivalent. A nicely presenting set of boxes. EMW 1,000 - 1,500



1070 - EXCEPTIONAL ELECTROTYPE OF THE CLOSE HELMET OF HENRY II OF FRANCE.

Produced circa last quarter of the 19th century, when electrotyping became a way for people to acquire almost perfect copies of exceptional pieces of arms and armor, with companies such as Elkington and Co. and Christofle and Compagnie manufacturing them and offering them for sale to both collectors and museums. This helmet is a copy of Henry II's embossed helm made and decorated with Roman motifs, including depictions of Julius Caesar and Pompeius Magnus, designed by Delaune. High comb embossed with further Roman motifs. Gorget of 2 lames is decorated with flowing florals with "932" visible on inside of gorget. Accompanied by a copy of the article "The Armor of Henry II Of France From the Louvre Museum" by Grancsay. CONDITION: Very good, with metal being essentially patina throughout with some golden spotting to high edges, as a result of either a protective lacquer or nicotine. Left side of visor is cracked through and detached but helmet still presents extremely well. Visible line from construction is visible but does not detract. An extremely presentable piece with a wonderful authentic appearance. 19th-century electrotypes are highly collectible as the original armors virtually never surface on the private market. EW 2,000 - 4,000



1071 - MAGNIFICENT EAGLE MEMORIAL STATUE FOR CHARLES M. SCHOTT, FAMOUS FOR DONATING OVER 100 ITEMS TO THE METROPOLITAN MUSEUM OF ART.

Stands approximately 70" tall, with pedestal and Eagle in 2 pieces. The pedestal is decorated with a hexagonal central shaft with Gothic style windows on a hexagonal base. The spread wing Eagle stands on a crowned orb inscribed "TO THE GLORY OF GOD / AND IN LOVING MEMORY OF / CHARLES MANDEVILLE SCHOTT, JR. / 1846 (Maltese Cross) 1919". Charles Schott is best remembered as a significant contributor to the Metropolitan Museum of Art's Arms and Armor Department, with the Met's Bulletin, Volume 14 (1919), mentioning a collection of 122 pieces donated by Charles the year he died. Numerous pieces of Charles's are still in the Met and are frequently exhibited. CONDITION: Both the Eagle and the pedestal are in excellent condition, free of cracks or dents. A significant piece associated with one of the top museums in the world, and a contemporary of several notables, including Bashford Dean. EMW This is not a standard shippable item and will require 3rd party shipping or pickup arrangements to be made. 10,000 - 15,000

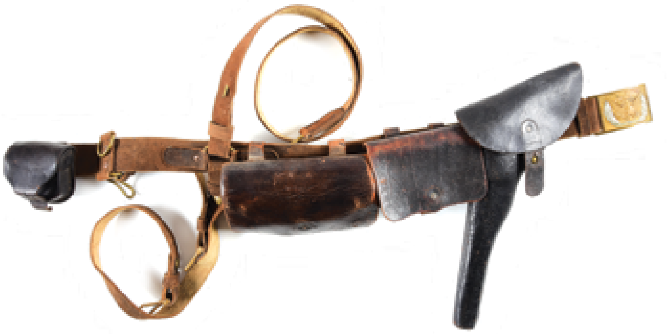
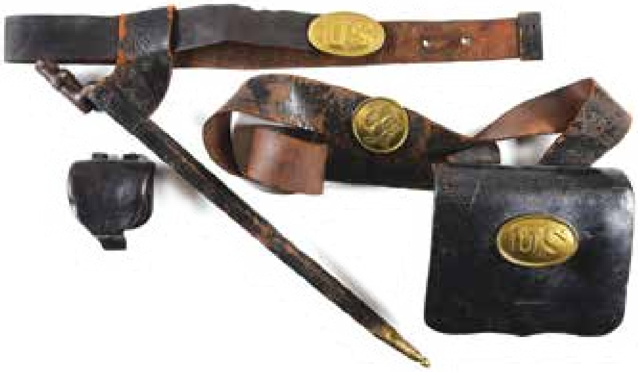
1087 - CIVIL WAR NCO PLATE, CARTRIDGE BOX, CAP BOX, BAYONET SCABBARD.
This belt rig has an 1851 eagle saber belt plate, appropriate for an infantry sergeant, and has an infantry cartridge box, cap box and bayonet scabbard. The belt is later, with the hasp attached by splayed rivets and the brass hook attached by a single large rivet. The hasp fits the plate, but is a little loose. The plate is the 1-piece wreath style. The German silver wreath is missing the bottom center. The bayonet scabbard is a very good condition late war scabbard for a .58 cal. bayonet. The cap box has an inspector stamp and maker mark by Nece. The 1864 cartridge box is made and marked by Haedrich. All loops, buckles and tabs are present, as are the magazine tins, inner flap, side ears, implement pocket, etc. CONDITION: Very good, but the lower portion of the wreath is missing from the plate. 600 - 800

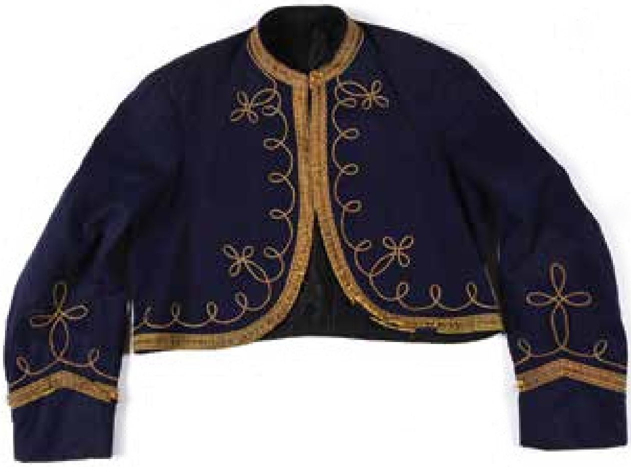
1088 - EXCELLENT COMPLETE CIVIL WAR CAVALRY BELT RIG.
This is a scarce chance to acquire a full Union cavalry belt rig with holster, cap box, pistol and carbine boxes, with all slings and plate in place and matching. The buff saber belt is complete with both slings and the matching shoulder belt. Belt plate and hasp have matching bench numbers. All slide tighteners in place. The user added small swivel snap hooks to the ends of the slings for easier attachment to the saber. The belt has light ink maker stamp that seems to be J. Davy & Co. of Newark, N.J. The Colt 1860 Army holster is marked by Davy as well and is complete with latch tab and toe plug. Pistol cartridge box is mid-war medium size, for both .36 and .44 caliber revolvers. No markings. Cap box unmarked. Side ears and belt loops in place. Carbine box with block in place, Gaylord and inspector marked. CONDITION: Excellent. Belt is flexible and complete. Black dye has oxidized to brown. The buff shoulder belt is usually missing from these rigs Holster is excellent with good color, crazing to black finish but no losses. Good marking. Cap box with nice color and black finish. No fleece or pick. Pistol and carbine boxes more brown in tone, with minor rubs and areas of abrasion. This is very nice set ready to display on a cavalry uniform. 1,800 - 2,200



1089 - LOT OF CIVIL INFANTRY CARTRIDGE BOX ON SLING AND BELT RIG.
Lot consists of infantry cartridge box on shoulder belt and infantry belt with bayonet, scabbard, and cap box. (A) M1861 infantry cartridge box and sling. Maker marked by Corbet of St. Louis. All plates, buckles, straps, and tins in place. CONDITION: Very good. Areas of finish loss on sling from flexing. Thongs replaced to hold plates. Latch tab broken. Good color and finish to box. (B) Waist belt with original arrow back plate and C-clasp keeper. Cap box by Garcelon and Covell, 1863 dated, contains caps. Bayonet is standard US .58 caliber, smooth metal, nice color. CONDITION: Very good. Scabbard shows bends and wrinkles, finish loss but no breaks or holes. Cap box lacks fleece and pick. Belt good, slightly stiff. 800 - 1,200

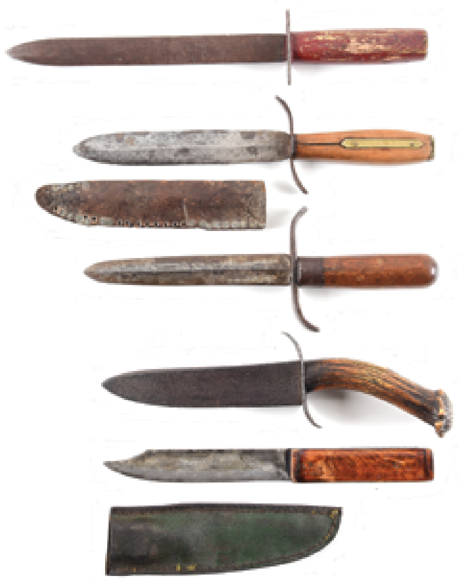


1090 - ZOUAVE JACKET.
Dark blue wool jacket with gold bullion tape trim on body and sleeves. Collar secured by hook and eye, designed to be worn open. Black silk body lining with white sleeve linings. Owner suggested a connection with the Civil War Cincinnati Zouave Guard, Co. D 2nd Ohio Volunteers, and a framed modern copy photo of a member of that unit accompanies the jacket, but that unit seems to have used a blue cuff chevron this jacket does not show. Other units are possible, but bullion braid rather than worsted wool trim suggests a post-Civil War date, as do extensive machine sewing and a machine-stitched rectangle in the left sleeve that likely once secured a maker label. Uniforms and drill inspired by French-Algerian light infantry took hold in America in the late 1850s. Zouave units remained popular in state forces through the 1870s and use in drill exhibitions extended long after. CONDITION: Good to very good. No moth damage. Seams secure, but bullion trim has surface losses overall and is detached in places. This displays very well. 400 - 600



1091 - LOT OF 5: US CIVIL WAR ERA KNIVES.

Blade Length: Various
Overall Length: Various



Lot consists of: (A) Civil War Era hand made knife with a 8 - 3/8” spearpoint blade, ovular crossguard, and wood handle. The guard and handle exhibit remnants of red paint. CONDITION: The blade exhibits a chocolate patina with dulled edges and tip. Overall fair. (B) Civil War Era hand made knife with a 6 - 3/8” spearpoint blade and crossguard with an angular bend at one end in order to facilitate a thumb rest. The handle is of wood with a brass pommel cap. Complete with leather scabbard. CONDITION: The blade exhibits a gray patina with pitting. Handle exhibits a significant crack behind the reinforcement. Overall fair. (C) Civil War Era hand made knife with a 6” spearpoint blade, down turned crossguard and wood handle. The knife blade appears to have been constructed of a file. CONDITION: Overall fair. (D) Civil War Era hand made knife with a 5 - 3/4” drop point blade and crossguard with an angular bend at one end in order to facilitate a thumb rest. Stag handle. CONDITION: Blade is heavily worn. Overall fair. (E) Civil War Era hand made knife with a 5 - 1/4” clip point blade and wood handle. Complete with leather scabbard. The handle is of wood and features a brass ferrule. Complete with leather scabbard CONDITION: The blade exhibits evidence of cleaning as well as obvious delamination flaws. The handle exhibits various scratches and dents. Scabbard exhibits leather loss and wear. The knife is accompanied by a note from the consigner which states the history of this knife from when it was purchased from the original collector who stated the knife was from southern Maryland along with other Confederate items. (B) Civil War Era knife with a curved blade. The blade was crafted from an old file which is evident throughout the blade. The knife also features a smooth wood handle. The blade is marked “D.A. FINNEY” CONDITION: The blade exhibits evidence of sharpening and wear. Handle is intact with no major flaws. Overall good. (C) Civil War Era knife with a thin blade which was constructed out of an old file. The blade exhibits the old file pattern on both sides. The knife also features a stag handle. CONDITION: The blade exhibits evidence of sharpening and cleaning. Stag handle is complete with no cracks or chips. overall very good. PROVENANACE: Ex. Rich Guckes Collection. JLD 500 - 1,000

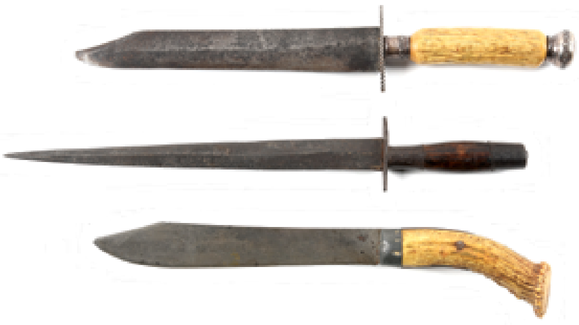
1093 - LOT OF 3: US CIVIL WAR ERA KNIVES.

Blade Length: (A) 9” (B) 10 - 7/8” (C) 8”
Overall Length: (A) 14 - 1/2” (B) 15” (C) 12 - 7/8”



Lot consists of: (A) Civil War Era bowie knife that features a clip point blade that was modified from the original spear point blade. The knife also features a silver crossguard, ferrule, and pommel. The ferrule and pommel are nicely decorated with modest scrollwork and compliment each end of the stag handle. CONDITION: The blade exhibits evidence of sharpening as well as a gray patina and areas of pitting. Silver has acquired a nice patina and the stag handle is complete with no chips or cracks. Overall good. (B) Civil War Era hand forged knife. The knife features a spear point blade, ovular crossguard, short wood handle and brass pommel. CONDITION: The blade exhibits a dark patina and several areas of pitting along with obvious delamination flaws. The handle exhibits deep dents and the brass pommel has darkened with age. Overall fair. (C) Civil War Era clip point, stag handle knife. CONDITION: The blade exhibits evidence of cleaning as well as areas of pitting and spotting. The stag grip remains secured to the handle by a metal nail on each side. Grips are intact with no major cracks or chips. Overall good. PROVENANCE: Ex. Rich Guckes Collection. JLD 400 - 800

1094 - LOT OF 2: CIVIL WAR ERA D GUARD BOWIE KNIVES.
Blade Length: (A) 23 - 3/8" (B) 13 - 3/4"
Overall Length: (A) 28" (B) 17 - 7/8"

Lot consists of (A) Impressive Civil War Era D-guard bowie knife with a massive 23 - 3/8" blade. This knife was likely hand forged and custom made for its user. The knife's sizeable blade is complimented by an iron crossguard and D-guard which border the wood grip. The grip is likely a replacement, as it appears this knife was excavated and a new handle was applied for display. CONDITION: The blade is heavily worn, the tip has flattened, and the edge remains somewhat sharp. There is faint evidence of delamination flaws on the blade and guard. Relic. (B) Smaller but nearly impressive Civil War Era D-guard bowie knife with a 13 - 1/4" blade. This knife also appears to have been hand forged. The knife features a straight crossguard that is formed into a D-guard which meets the nail like pommel. The handle is of wood and appears to be the handle of an old tool or crank. The grip is likely a replacement, as it appears this knife was excavated and the wood grip was added later due to the inconsistent patina. CONDITION: The blade is heavily worn and the edge has dulled. The blade and guard both exhibit heavy pitting as well as delamination flaws. The wood grip exhibits blemishes including handling wear. Relic. PROVENANCE: Ex. Rich Guckes Collection. JLD 500 - 1,000

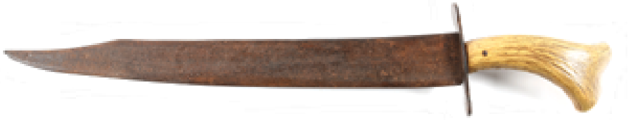
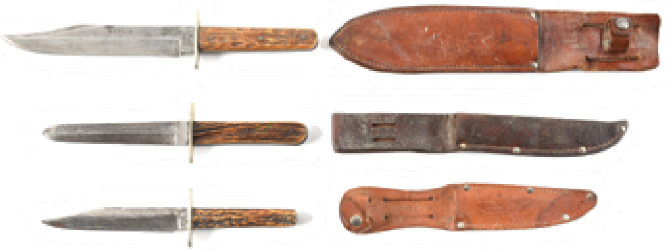
1095 - IMPRESSIVE US CIVIL WAR ERA CLIP POINT BOWIE KNIFE.
Blade Length: 17"
Overall Length: 23"

Impressive Civil War Era bowie knife with a massive 17" clip point blade. The knife also features an iron crossguard which is followed by a large stag handle. This example was most likely hand forged, lost during the war, and recovered as a relic. The stag handle appears to be a replacement which was added after the knife was excavated. CONDITION: The blade is heavily worn and exhibits faint delamination flaws. The guard exhibits consistent patina as the blade and wobbles slightly. The stag handle is firmly secured in place by two iron nails on each side and exhibits handling wear with various scratches. No major chips or dents. Relic. PROVENANCE: Rich Guckes Collection. JLD 500 - 1,000

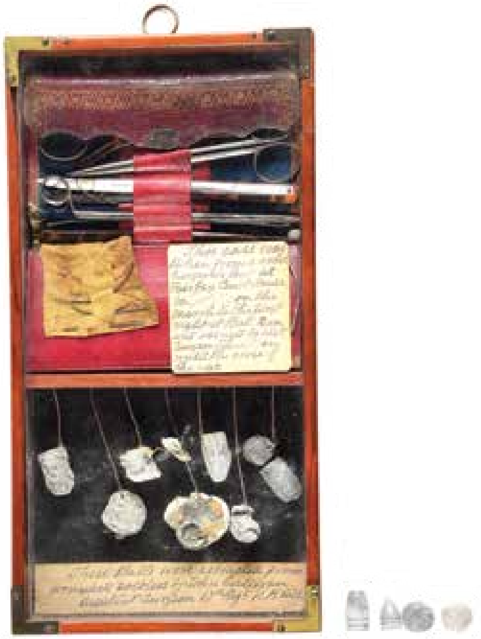


1096 - LOT OF 3: US CIVIL WAR ERA-LATE 19TH CENTURY ENGLISH KNIVES.
Blade Length: (A) 6 - 3/4" (B) 4 - 7/8" (C) 4 - 7/8"
Overall Length: (A) 11" (B) 9" (C) 8 - 1/2"



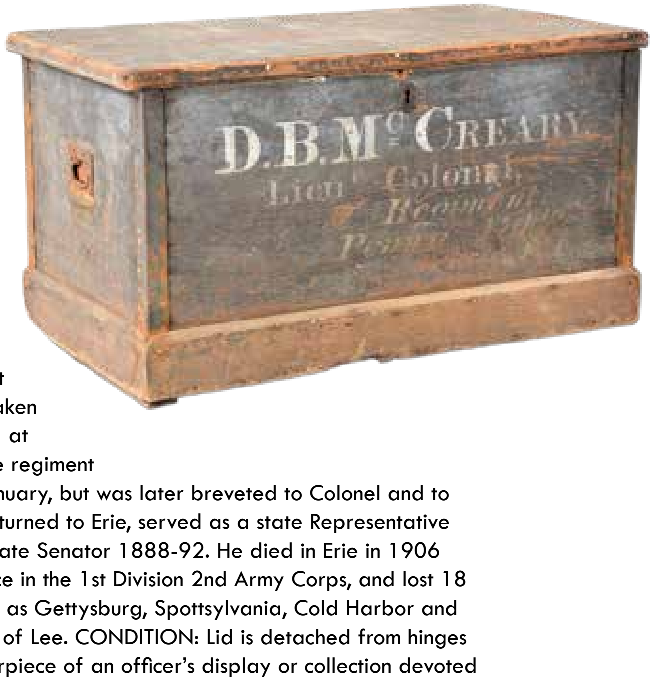
Lot consists of (A) Mid-late 19th century clip point bowie knife with stag grips. The knife is marked "ALFRED / WILLIAMS / SHEFFIELD / ENGLAND" on the ricasso with "(Cross) EBRO (Cross)" on the blade. The knife features a German silver crossguard and stag grips which are secured by 3 pins on each side. The knife is complete with its leather scabbard. CONDITION: The blade exhibits evidence of sharpening and retains some of its original polished sheen. The crossguard exhibits blemishes including verdigris which can be cleaned. Stag grips remain secured to the handle with evidence of handling wear. The scabbard remains supple with scattered blemishes. Overall good. (B) Mid-late 19th century spear point bowie knife with stag grips. The knife is marked "JOSEPH / ALLEN & SONS / SHEFFIELD / ENGLAND" on the ricasso. The knife features a German silver crossguard and stag grips which are secured by 3 pins on each side. The knife is complete with a leather scabbard which is unoriginal to the knife. CONDITION: The blade exhibits a gray patina and appears to have been shortened. The crossguard has browned with age and right grip has a significant crack that has smashed the lower pin. Scabbard is rough but supple. Overall fair. (C) Mid-late 19th century clip point bowie knife with stag grips. The knife is marked "X*XL" on the ricasso and "G.WOSTENHOLM & SON / WASHINGTON WORKS / SHEFFIELD" on the blade. The knife features a German silver crossguard and stag grips which are secured by 3 pins on each side. The knife is complete with a leather scabbard which is unoriginal to the knife and marked "MADE IN GERMANY". CONDITION: The blade is bright with evidence of polishing. Scattered blemishes. The grips are firmly secured and exhibit handling wear. Scabbard remains supple. Overall good. PROVENANCE: Ex. Rich Guckes Collection. JLD 400 - 800

1097 - WORLD CLASS ID'D CIVIL WAR POCKET SURGICAL KIT WITH DEFORMED BULLETS USED BY JOHN SULLIVAN, ASSISTANT SURGEON 13TH N.H.V.



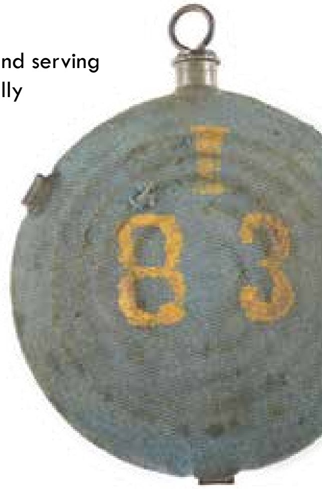
A pocket size roll-up surgical kit typical of those carried by surgeons at front line aid stations with period ink notes by the surgeon. Displayed in a period wood frame for exhibit in a veteran's hall or historical society, the kit in an upper section and bullets extracted from wounded soldiers by the surgeon suspended by cords in the lower section. The kit is displayed open, showing contents of scalpel, forceps, suture needles, etc., and a note reading: "This case was taken from a rebel Surgeon's tent at Fairfax Court House, Va., while on the march to the first fight at Bull Rn. And was used by Asst. Surgeon J. Sullivan until the close of the war." The lower section has 7 short cords suspending 9 bullets or bullet fragments against a black background, with a note reading, "These Balls were extracted from wound soldiers by John Sullivan Assistant Surgeon 13th Regt. N.H. Vols." John E. Sullivan (1840-1908,) a medical student in Exeter, New Hampshire, in 1860, got the kit while in the 2nd New Hampshire in 1861. Serving as a private in Company E from June to September, he was detailed to the regiment's medical staff, assisting in the "first capital operation of the war upon a New Hampshire soldier," in which a severely wounded Sergeant Isaac W. Derby had his arm amputated "while he was held down by a fence rail at night with the only light from a tallow candle and a brush fire." At Centreville during the retreat after Bull Run he was photographed seated next to the regimental surgeon in an August 1861 image of the regiment's medical personnel. The regimental history mentions the large number of souvenirs picked up in abandoned Rebel camps at Fairfax Court House on the march to First Bull Run: "of some of the looting done, the less said the better." Sullivan was appointed as a Medical Cadet U.S.A. in September 1861 and served in army hospitals in Missouri and Kentucky until commissioned Assistant Surgeon 13th NH in October 1862, when he started using the kit. He served until August 1864 when discharged for health reasons, "The severe duties, cares and the climate are surely killing him" and is frequently mentioned in their regimental history, noted as serving more than half the time as Acting Surgeon, and specifically noted as on the field at Fredericksburg, where he searched for wounded by lantern light in front of the stone wall while under constant rebel fire whenever the lantern light was uncovered. He is also mentioned for his acts at Drewry's Bluff, Cold Harbor, and elsewhere, cutting the coat off a wounded officer, among many other noteworthy acts. He was well regarded for his care of the men and after discharge again joined the Medical Department as Acting Asst. Surgeon at the General Hospital in Troy, NY, until discharged in June 1865. He worked as a druggist in Boston after the war and was also a practicing physician in Manchester, NH. He died at a soldier's home in Maine in 1908. This is wonderful Civil War relic that would be a centerpiece in any display. CONDITION: The tools exhibit typical wear. The papers with notes have yellowed and the ink has slightly faded in scattered areas. The deformed bullets exhibit expected oxidation and intriguingly fragments of fabric which were most likely ripped from uniforms when the soldier was wounded. The display is most likely untouched since its time when it was displayed after the war. Screws are loose in the corners. The kit was part once part of the renowned John K. Lattimer collection, which was known to include pieces that reflected Lattimer's exquisite taste. This is an excellent, world class example of an identified and field used Civil War surgeon's kit from an assistant surgeon who distinguished himself on the battlefield. SBR/JLD 1,500 - 2,500

1098 - PAINTED 145TH PA OFFICER'S CHEST: LT. COL. & BREVET BRIGADIER GENERAL.



This officer's field chest has faded light blue paint and white painted inscription: "D.B. McCreary / Lieut. Colonel / [...] Regiment / Penna. Voltrs." David Berkley McCreary was 35 years old and a lawyer when he enlisted at Erie and was mustered in as 1st Lieutenant Co. B of the "Erie Regiment," a 3-month unit. He mustered out in July and entered service again on 8/27/61 as Captain Co. D, 145th PA. He was promoted Lieutenant Colonel 9/5/62, giving an approximate date for this campaign chest, captured at Chancellorsville 5/3/63, confined at Richmond, but paroled and back with the regiment 7/18/63. He was on recruiting duty in the early part of 1864, but returned on 6/6/64 in time to fight at Cold Harbor, and take part in the assault on Petersburg, recorded as a "disaster" by one historian of the regiment, "for of 200 men engaged, about 50 were killed and wounded, and 9 officers and about enlisted men were taken prisoners, Lieut.-Col. McCreary being among the captured." He was confined at Macon and at Columbia, was finally exchanged 3/1/65 and returned to the regiment 2 weeks later. He had been commissioned but not mustered as Colonel in January, but was later breveted to Colonel and to Brigadier General, both to date 3/13/65. After mustering out in May he returned to Erie, served as a state Representative 1865-67 and 1870-71; Adjutant General of Pennsylvania 1867-70; and state Senator 1888-92. He died in Erie in 1906 just a few weeks shy of his 80th birthday. The regiment spent its entire service in the 1st Division 2nd Army Corps, and lost 18 officers and 187 enlisted men in killed and mortally wounded in battles such as Gettysburg, Spottsylvania, Cold Harbor and Petersburg, suffering its last casualty 4/6/65 at Sailor's Creek in the pursuit of Lee. CONDITION: Lid is detached from hinges with gouges to rear lid edge, but very good overall and would be the centerpiece of an officer's display or collection devoted to the regiment. Paint shows expected rubs and abrasions from travel and handling. Regimental numeral not legible and "e" of Colonel rubbed. Overall tone is muted greenish-blue. Comes with silk ribbon and dues notice to McCreary from the Lincoln Club of Erie. A good relic of a fighting regiment and officer. 800 - 1,200

1099 - CIVIL WAR 83RD PENNSYLVANIA CANTEEN.

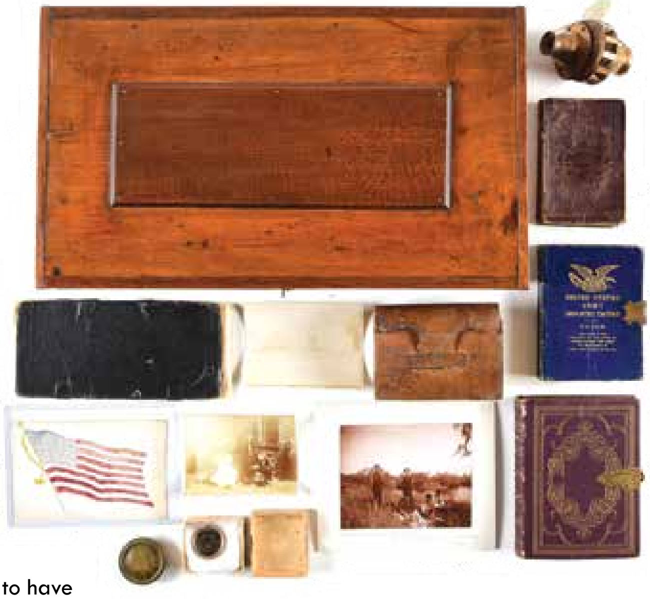


The 83rd Pennsylvania was a hard-fighting Union infantry regiment recruited in western Pennsylvania and serving in the Fifth Army Corps in the Army of the Potomac where it lost 11 officers, 267 men in killed or mortally wounded alone during its service from September 1861 to July 1865, in battles such as Gaines Mill, Malvern Hill, 2nd Bull Run, Wilderness, Laurel Hill (Spottsylvania), Petersburg, and Gettysburg, where they took part in the defense of Little Round Top. This is a field used, but very good condition, Philadelphia Depot canteen from a western Pennsylvania collection made and marked on the neck by "Hadden, Booth & Porter Phila." These corrugated or "bull's eye" canteens were supplied uncovered to the depot, which covered them from their large supplies of uniform cloth, in this case the same light blue twilled cotton and wool fabric used for infantry trousers. The cover is better than 90% intact with only 1 or 2 small moth holes and has a pleasing uniform muted color showing only some darker rings of staining from the raised ridges underneath. One side is painted in period yellow paint "I" over "83," indicating issue to Company I of the 83rd Pennsylvania. CONDITION: Excellent. Missing the retaining string for the stopper and cloth shoulder sling. Cover shows minor dirt and stains with muted colors. 1 small moth hole over the "8" on one face and a smaller one on the reverse. Seams are intact. 600 - 800

1100 - 1862 DIARY HARVEY R. MASON 83RD PA KIA MALVERN HILL

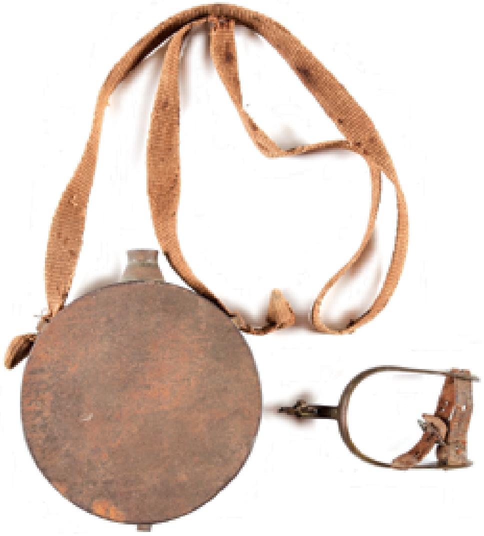
Civil War pocket diary of Harvey R. Mason with transcription and collector notes. "Diary and Memorandum for 1862" published in New York. Mason's name in pencil on flyleaf with January 1, 1862 date. Diary covers January 7 through June 27, 1862 with daily entries of 3 or 4 lines. Mason shows up in some records as Harry. Born about 1840, worked on father's farm in Conneaut, Crawford Co., PA. Enlisted 8/27/1861 at Erie, Company H 83rd Pennsylvania. The unit saw action at Hanover Court House, 5/27/61; Seven Days Battles at Gaines Mill, 6/27 and Malvern Hill, 7/1/62. Diary is largely legible pencil, with some ink entries and a few rubbed pencil. Some entries regarded as illegible by by transcriber can be made out in the right light. January to February many target practice and drill notations. March and April beginning of Peninsula Campaign. Reference to Prof. Lowe's balloon going up, reference to Battle at Hampton in May, picket duty, etc., in June until June 26 when he records "fighting on the right" and receipt of "marching orders: we marched around til night and laid down." His last entry is June 27: "fair. Got up and marched back part way." This reflects the opening of the Seven Days Battles as Jackson hit the Union right where Mason's regiment was posted and the 5th Corps fought to hold him back as the army withdrew, the 83rd carrying 550 men into action at Gaines Mill and losing 265 in killed, wounded and prisoners. At Malvern Hill, the last of the Seven Days Battles, they lost another 150 men, and could muster only 80 in the ranks when the army finally came to rest at Harrison's Landing. Mason died in the campaign, though records are still contradictory on his fate, some listing him as killed at Gaines Mill, others at Malvern Hill, and one listing him as dying on July 14 at Fortress Monroe. The remainder of the diary has scattered notations by someone else, having been reused for accounting notes, etc. CONDITION: Very good. Wear to enameled cloth covers, but intact and tight. First page missing. Diary starts with entry on page for January 7, 1862, after title page and three pages of calendar, list of Sundays, and postal rate chart. A touching memento of a life cut short and interesting relic of a very active unit in the Army of the Potomac whose ultimate casualty rate placed it second among infantry regiments in the war for battle fatalities. 800 - 1,200

1101 - 83RD PENNSYLVANIA OFFICER'S LAP DESK, EFFECTS AND PATENT MODEL.

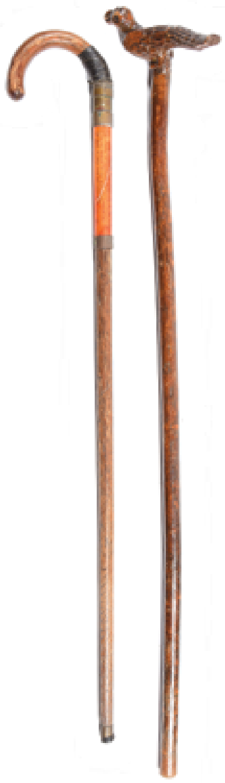


Oak lap desk or storage box belonging to Joseph G. Grimler (1839-1906,) lieutenant 83rd Pennsylvania Volunteers. This went from the family to a western Pennsylvania Civil War collector and includes serveral photocopies of wartime documents and letters, including a short letter written to his parents from the battlefield of Gettysburg written on July 4 behind their breastworks to let them know he is okay and referencing General Vincent. Original pieces include an 1864 Army and Navy pocket dictionary with his name in pencil in the front; a family CDV album containing mostly civilian 1870s images, an 1858 pocket bible with a girl's name in it, a 1912 cemetery document with another name on it, an 1890s photo locket, an unmounted photo of "the Grimler house" and an 1890s cabinet card of camping party with one figure identified in period pen as "J.G.G.," a small brass pocket compass (missing needle,) and a nice 1880 copy of Upton's infantry tactics inscribed in ink, "Compliments of A. Kurtis to Jos. G. Grimler in favor of Bates Post No. 83 G.A.R." Grimler enlisted at Erie at age 22 and mustered into Company C of the 83rd as a corporal August 12, 1861. He was promoted sergeant and then 2nd Lieutenant October 31, 1862. He was present at Gettysburg, wounded at Wilderness May 5, 1864, and mustered out September 20, 1864. Photocopies include his discharge and service notes that he was hospitalized for spinal pain from late May 1864 to his discharge. He seems to have been an inventor later in life. The box contains a brass or copper model of a wheel hub with a metal tag noting "Box Hub" and "J.G. Grimler / Erie Pa / inventor." 400 - 600

1102 - LOT OF 2: CONFEDERATE TIN DRUM CANTEEN AND SPUR.
Lot consists of 2 items: (A) Confederate tin drum canteen with web strap. Typical drum style canteen of tinned iron. 3 brackets in place. Spout is 2-piece tin soldered in place. Heavy, old web strap showing stains, dirt, a tear, knotted below each upper bracket. CONDITION: Very good. Tinning is gray. Light scattered, dusty brown. (B) Western theatre style Confederate cavalry spur with partial strap and buckle. Deep patina to brass. CONDITION: Very good, barn-find condition. Some rowel points missing, but rowel present and turns freely. Often associated with camps of Wheeler's cavalry. 800 - 1,200

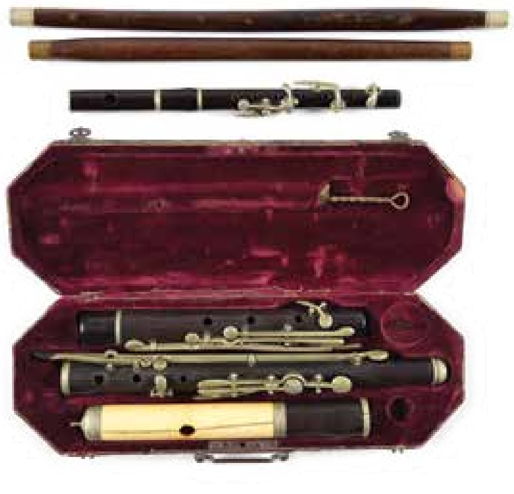


1103 - LOT OF 2: CIVIL WAR CANES, GETTYSBURG AND USS HARTFORD
Lot consists of 2 Civil War canes: (A) Gettysburg battlefield cut souvenir cane made from branch of tree with carved bird handle. With (B) 1900s note reading, "Cane= Grandfather Steadman. This was a young tree from Battlefield of Gettysburg. The handle is root of the tree." CONDITION: Very good. Nice patina. Minor wear to varnish. This comes from a western PA collection. Steadman was likely 1 of 2 men by that name in the 145th, one in the 83rd, or less possibly one in the 111th, all present at Gettysburg. (C) Cane made from the flagstaff of the U.S.S. Hartford. Likely a Bannerman souvenir salvaged when the ship was being rebuilt in the 1890s. A period typed note is preserved under celluloid held by metal ferrules near the handle reading, "The HARTFORD was assigned as the flag ship of Flag Officer Farragut, and with him on board sailed from Phil. Jany. 20, 1862, and stopped at Hampton Roads, Port Royal, Key West, and Havana, and arrived at the mouth of the Mississippi River Feby 21, 1862, where Farragut at once assumed command and direction of Gulf Blockading Squadron, whose limits were St. Andrews Bay near Pensacola on the east, and the Rio Grande on the west. The passage of the forts can be found in the Official records of the government. The wood in this cane was made from the Flag staff of the Hartford." Launched in 1858 and commissioned in 1859, the ship is best known for its role in the Battle of the Forts below New Orleans, fighting on the Mississippi at Port Hudson in the Vicksburg Campaign and, most famously, the Battle of Mobile Bay. The ship was decommissioned several times and rebuilt in the 1890s. Although considered for preservation for a naval museum, the ship was allowed to deteriorate, sank at is moorings in 1956, and was dismantled. Relics survive in many public institutions and were eagerly sought after by veterans. CONDITION: Very good. Celluloid shifted color to orange. Patina to ferrules. Black tape repair on grip near ferrule. 600 - 800

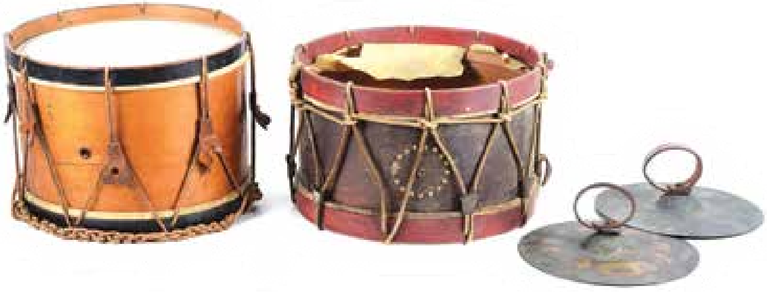


1104 - LOT OF 4: C.W. ERA BAND INSTRUMENTS, WITH 1840S CASED BAND FLUTE.

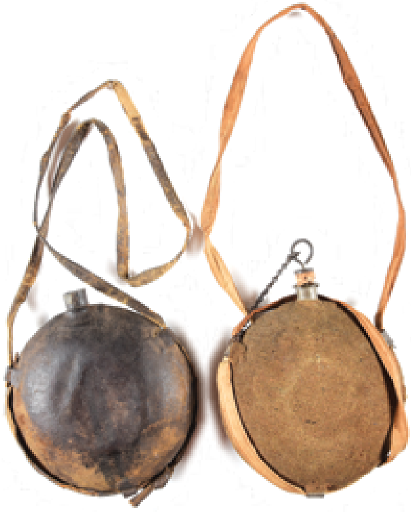
(B) Unmarked, brass ferrules. CONDITION: Very good. (C) Orchestral and band piccolo. CONDITION: Very good, likely circa 1900. (D) Very nicely cased band flute in green leatherette fitted case with handle and latches. Likely 1840s. CONDITION: Very good, but with lengthwise crack in upper section across vent. Wear to thin green leather cover exposing wood in some places. Hinge is loose. Nice velvet lining. An untouched example. 600 - 800



1105 - LOT OF 3: INDIAN WAR DRUMS AND PAIR OF CYMBALS. Lot consists of 3 items: (A) Snare drum with 1872 dated label by Haynes of Boston. Plain body, with rims, upper head intact, rope and tighteners. CONDITION: Very good. Lower head torn. Rope original. Tighteners original, but some with tears, finish loss, abrasion. Label has 1890s note on replacing head. (B) Unmarked, dark body, red rims. Beaded design around vent. CONDITION: Good. Body is solid, rims have aged color. Flesh hoops present. Only fragments of heads. Rope not original. (C) Cymbals. CONDITION: Good aged patina to brass. Leather grip loops replaced. 600 - 800



1106 - LOT OF 2 CIVIL WAR CANTEENS: RARE RUBBERIZED AND NY DEPOT. Lot consists of 2 Civil War U.S. issue canteens. (A) Very scarce early war canteen with rubberized cover and strap. CONDITION: Very good. Minor wear to the surface from use and losses to rubber coating of strap from flexing, but no holes to cover. Strap has period knot tied over break, small tears. Stopper missing. (B) New York Depot pattern with stopper, chain, cloth strap, and cover in place. CONDITION: Very good. One side with hole to cover at center. The other with small hole at bottom. Smaller holes near upper bracket. Cover is light brown. Folded cloth strap original and complete. Minor stains. Both are regulation issue. The rubberized cover and strap is extremely scarce in any condition. 800 - 1,000



1107 - LOT OF 3: CIVIL WAR ERA OPTICS Lot consists of 2 telescopes and 1 pair of binoculars. (A) Large single draw telescope with sunshade. Leather covered barrel with wear to finish and slight opening to seam for 4 or 5" from the end. Eyepiece slide is present, missing from lens. Brass has a nice, uncleaned medium patina. CONDITION: Very good. (B) Small pocket size 3-draw telescope. Turk's head leather covered body. Eyepiece slide present. Lens cap missing. CONDITION: Very good. (C) Binoculars marked Jumelle / Marine on eye pieces. Leather covered barrels. Seam intact on one, mostly open on the other. Missing from the sunshades. CONDITION: Good. No other markings. 400 - 600

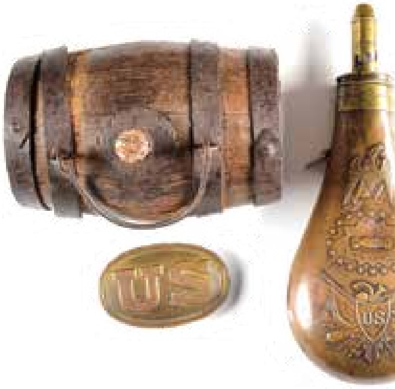
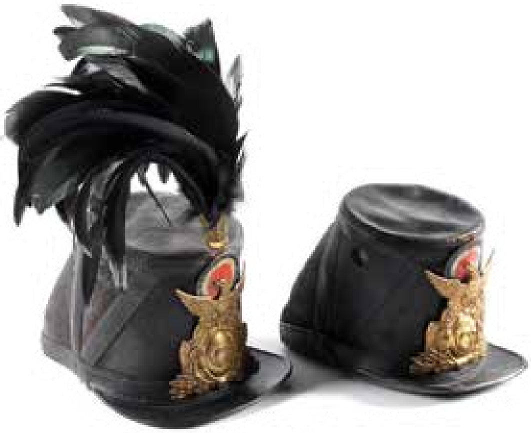
(B) US military rifleman's flask marked and dated by Batty, 1848, with small inspector initials. Copper and brass. Very attractive "peace flask" with Eagle, stand of arms, US shield, and clasped hands in a sunburst glory with stars at center. CONDITION: Very good. Very shallow indentation above Eagle, small ding to top edge brass collar. Nice, medium, undisturbed patina with minor age spots. Suspension loops in place. (C) Regulation issue Civil War enlisted man's 1839 pattern oval US belt plate with mid-war arrow style hooks. CONDITION: Very good. Non-dug, medium patina, slight traces of gilt in recesses. Minor dings and handling marks. Hooks in place. 600 - 800



1114 - LOT OF 2: CIVIL WAR IMPORT CHASSEUR SHAKOS
Lot consists of 2 1860 pattern French infantry shakos as imported under a US 1861 contract for infantry uniforms and equipment with the French firm Godillot. Regiments receiving them included the 18th Mass, 62nd and 83rd PA with subsequent reissue of some gear to other units, including the shakos to bandsmen in the Veteran Reserve Corps. Some shako plates have been excavated in camps of the Excelsior Brigade, indicating at least one of their regiments received them as well. French 1860 pattern, but with US style front plate with eagle, infantry horn, and RWB metal cockade. Black leather, applied inverted-V bands with vent hole, with flat visor. (A) Cap with plate and cockade in place. Sweatband, partial chinstrap inside. CONDITION: Very good. Visor slightly curled. (B) Same configuration. CONDITION: Very good. Plate and rosette in place. Sweatband deteriorated. Chinstrap broken but complete. With these comes a blue/green feather plume that may be original. These uniforms and related gear were awarded by drill competition in 1862. 800 - 1,200



1115 - LOT OF 6: BATTES HISTORY OF PA VOLUNTEERS BOOKS.
Lot consists of all 5 volumes of Bate's History of Pennsylvania Volunteers plus duplicate of volume 1. First editions 1869-1871. Quarterbound cloth. Invaluable resource for histories of the regiments and rolls of the regiments by company. CONDITION: Fair to good. Wear, chipping, and losses to leather spines and corners. Loose covers and pages in one copy of volume 1. 400 - 600

1116 - LARGE LOT OF CIVIL WAR HISTORY AND BIOGRAPHIES.
Lot consists of 20 early Civil War biographies and histories of the war including large folio volumes of the Soldier in Our Civil War Vols 1 and 2; and Leslie's Scenes and Portraits in 25 parts; 2 vols Grant's Memoirs, 2 vols Sherman; 2 vols Headley Hist of the Great Rebellion, Kettel 1 and 2 (1862 and 1863;) 5 parts of Elson's Through the Camera, etc. CONDITION: Good to poor reading copies. 1119 - LARGE LOT OF CIVIL WAR BOOKS, ID'D COPY 1862 MARKSMANSHIP MANUAL.

Lot consists of 17 Civil War related books. Highlights include multiple copies of PA Civil War regimental histories and an original copy of the 1862 "System of Target Practice" owner signed on the cover and inside by "Major John C. Hanshaw / AA General USA." Henshaw (1815-1877). Henshaw was a career army officer, having served with the 7th US Infantry in the Mexican War. His "Recollections of the War with Mexico" is valuable first-hand account of that conflict and he has an extensive record. Lot also includes 3 copies of the regimental history of the 111 PA Volunteers by Boyle, 2 copies of Judson's History of the 83rd PA, a copy of Pennsylvania at Antietam, and an original 1815 edition of Maltby Elements of War. CONDITION: Overall very good. Leather cover of Maltby 1815 is detached, 1862 System of Target Practice has small applied star sticker with inventory number on cover. 400 - 600

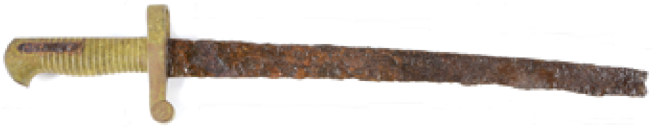
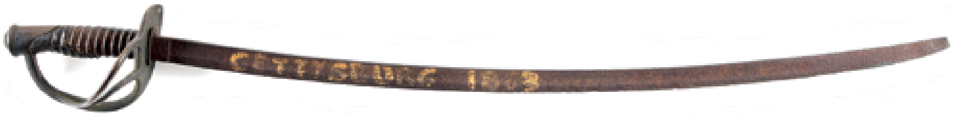
1120 - BAYONET RECOVERED FROM FALMOUTH VIRGINIA

Dug bayonet from a Springfield Model 1861 Naval Musket. Found by an unknown source at an unknown date in Falmouth, Virginia. CONDITION: As excavated condition. DLM 400 - 600



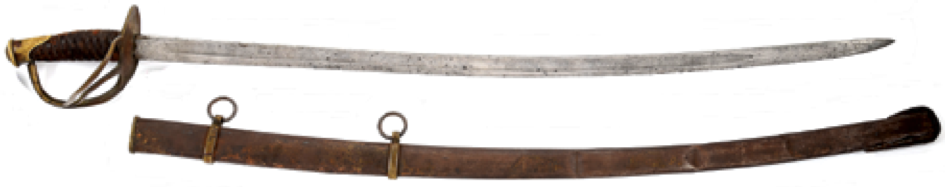
1121 - US CIVIL WAR MODEL 1860 CAVALRY SABER RECOVERED FROM THE GETTYSBURG BATTLEFIELD.

Blade Length: 34"
Overall Length: 40"



A rather worn Civil War Model 1860 Cavalry Saber that was recovered from the Gettysburg Battlefield long after the guns of the war fell silent. The sword features a 34" blade and is devoid of any manufacture or inspector markings due to the heavy wear and exposure to the elements. The blade is marked with "Gettysburg 1863" in gold paint which was most likely added as soon as the sword was recovered. The sword is complete and exhibits all of the features, although heavily worn, of an M1860 saber, including the brass guard, grooved leather wrapped wood grip, and brass pommel. The pommel does appear to be stamped "DR" for David Rice, who inspected swords up to 1863. The sword is accompanied by a receipt from the consigner, as well as a letter of authenticity from Heller's antiques, also known as Civil War Antique Shop.com. CONDITION: The blade is heavily worn with chips in the edge and a dulled, flat tip. The paint has faded but remains legible and is stated on the LOA to be approximately 50 plus years old since the time of its drafting in 2011. The brass components of the handle have darkened, and the brass wire, as well as most of the leather has worn off of the wood grip. There is a significant crack in the grip. Relic condition. Despite not being as flashy as a presentation sword, this example still presents well and is an honest Civil War Model 1860 saber that was recovered from perhaps the most famous battle of the war which divided the nation. JLD 1,000 - 2,000

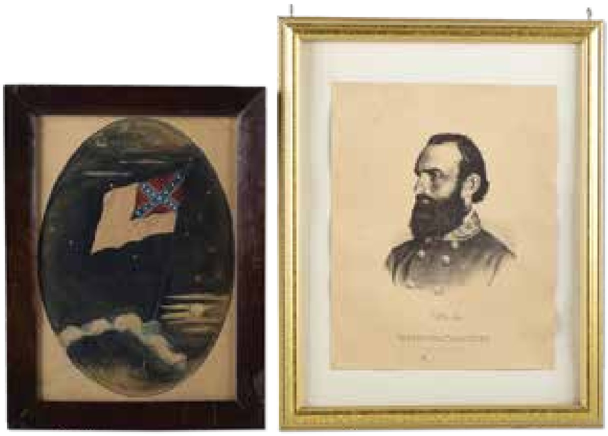
1122 - CIVIL WAR CONFEDERATE "DOG RIVER" STYLE CAVALRY SABER.
Blade Length: 35 - 1/4"
Overall Length: 41 - 1/4"

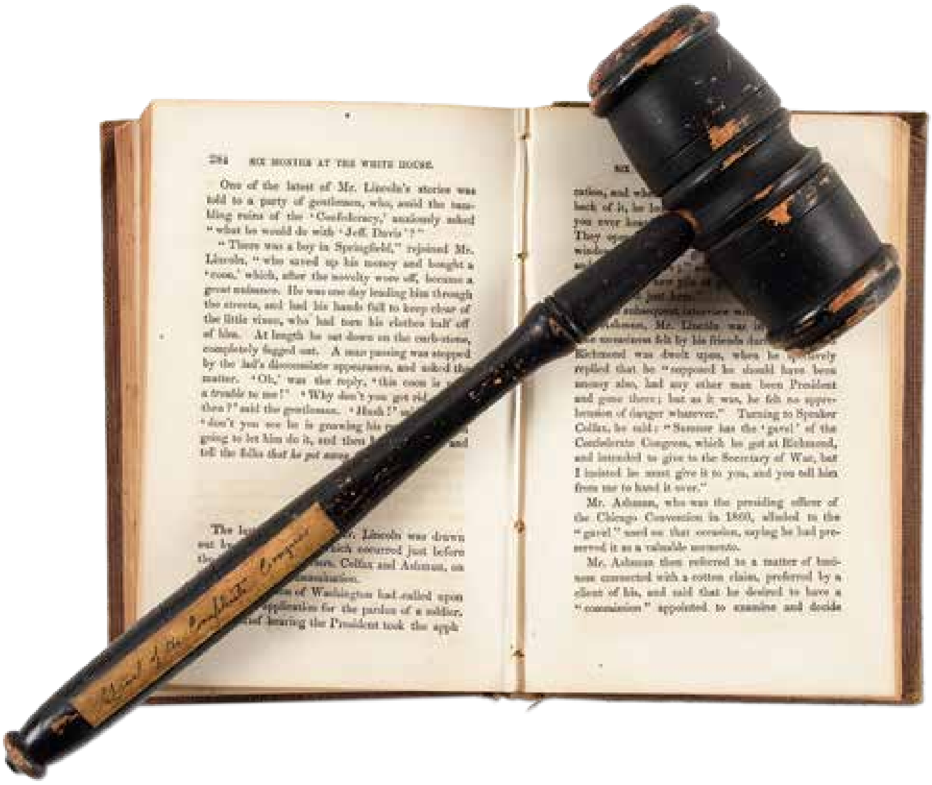


Crude but appealing example of a Civil War Confederate cavalry saber, manufacturer unknown. This example exhibits a close resemblance to the US Model 1860 Cavalry Saber, especially in the style of the hilt. The saber features an approximately 35 - 1/4" curved blade with a rounded spine and a single stopped fuller on either side, but no ricasso. The blade ends at the brass guard which is devoid of markings. Just like the guard, the dual branched knucklebow and domed "high-hat" pommel cap are of brass and equally unadorned or marked. The grip features a grooved, center-swelled wooden handle wrapped in brown leather. The grooves exhibit impressions of double twisted brass wire which was once wrapped neatly around the leather grip. The sword is complete with its scabbard which was crudely constructed of iron with a brass throat, 2 brass mounts, iron drag, and iron carry rings. An exceptionally crude nail secures the throat to the scabbard. The scabbard exhibits evidence of being painted, as there are traces of gold paint throughout the length of the scabbard. CONDITION: The blade is not straight and exhibits a pleasing patina with areas of spotting and pitting. The edge is heavily worn and there are several chips of varying sizes which run the length of the blade. The guard, knucklebow, and pommel exhibit a pleasing dark patina with scattered age marks. The double twisted brass wire is no longer present and the leather wrap is peeling exposing the wood. The knucklebow and grip are both loose and wobble when handled. The scabbard is heavily worn and exhibits manufacturer flaws which are typical of Confederate swords. There are several significant dents as well as other scattered blemishes. Nice chocolate patina throughout. Despite its crudeness, this is still a nice example of a Confederate cavalry saber. Overall good. JLD
2,000 - 3,000

1123 - LOT OF JEFFERSON DAVIS SATIRICAL CDVS, CS CURRENCY, CS BOOKS.
Lot consists of 8 satirical carte-de-visite images of Jefferson Davis, 1 of his wife, 5 pieces of CS currency, 3 Confederate related period books The CDVs have various publishers. Most allude to Davis being captured in his wife's cloak, leading to many portrayals of him fleeing US forces in a dress. 1 combines the dress with the notion he should be hanged on a "sour apple tree." 1 is an early war photo of a painting titled The Neglected Picture, which shows a shattered portrait of the "Hon. Jeff Davis," alluding to his shattered reputation as a U.S. official, with an engraved portrait of his wife. Lot includes 5 pieces of CS currency: 5 and 10 dollar CS notes; 1 dollar State of Georgia; 20 dollar Augusta Insurance & Banking Company; 50 cent N.C. fractional note. The books are: "The Life of Jefferson Davis", 1868 by Alfriend; "The Lost Cause", 1866 by Pollard; "13 months in the Rebel Army", 1862, "By an impressed New Yorker". CONDITION: Good overall. Loss of upper edge to Georgia note. Some pencil notations of reverse of CDVs. Books are tight copies. Losses to leather of quarter-bound "Lost Cause". 600 - 800

1124 - LOT OF 2 FRAMED CONFEDERATE ITEMS.
Lot consists of 2 items related to the Confederacy. (A) Period framed colored etching of the Confederate second national flag ascending through clouds and toward heaven with a starry, moonlit night in the background and quotation from "The Conquered Banner" underneath, reading: "The warrior's banner takes its flight to greet the warrior's soul." Written by Catholic priest and CS Army Chaplain A.J. Ryan and first published in June 1865, the poem became a sentimental "Lost Cause" favorite and the image, initialed "B.B.H.", was published in several different forms. CONDITION: Very good. Period frame with wood backing. (B) Engraved portrait of Stonewall Jackson by Currier and Ives, with facsimile signature. CONDITION: Very good. Minor dust and surface dirt. Small stain at bottom. Modern frame. No glass. Neither examined out of frames. 400 - 600



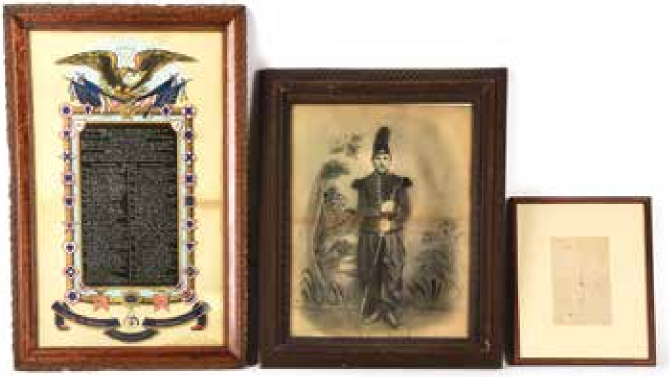


1125 - HISTORIC CONFEDERATE CONGRESSIONAL GAVEL TAKEN BY SUMNER 1865 EX-LATTIMER COLLECTION.

Historic gavel used in the Congress of the Confederate States of America, retrieved in Richmond April 1865 by Senator Charles Sumner. From the Dr. John K. Lattimer collection. This bears a wonderful, period brown ink label reading: “Gavel of the Confederate Congress,” and was mentioned by Lincoln himself to visitors at the White House the night of his death in a conversation reported as early as April 17, 1865. By Lincoln’s own account it was obtained by Senator Charles Sumner during his visit to Richmond, which occurred in company with Mary Todd Lincoln and several congressmen on April 6, 1865. The party had originally planned to meet Lincoln at City Point, but then continued on to Richmond, where they met with Gen. Weitzel, as had Lincoln himself 2 days earlier, and briefly toured the ruined city, stopping at the State Capitol, which had been used by the Confederate Congress. Souvenir hunting was rampant and those touring the building with Lincoln 2 days earlier mentioned the looting. A member of Sumner’s and Mary Lincoln’s party reported, “Words cannot describe the condition of the rooms occupied by the Confederate Congress. What dirt and confusion have accumulated there!” Lincoln himself mentioned the gavel to Speaker of the House Schuyler Colfax and Massachusetts Congressman George Ashmun in perhaps his last recorded conversation at about 8:00 P.M. on the night of April 14, 1865, just before leaving the White House for Ford’s Theatre. Lincoln said to Colfax, “Mr. Sumner has the gavel of the Confederate Congress, which he got at Richmond to hand to the Secretary of War, but I insisted then that he give it to you; tell him for me to hand it over.” We quote directly from an April 17, 1865, issue of the Boston Daily Evening Traveller, an original copy of which is included in the lot. This account and quote is repeated in the 1867 dated Six Months in the White House, by Carpenter, pages 284 to 287, a copy of which is also included. This is not to be confused with souvenir gavels created as mementos using wood from historic buildings, etc. This is the actual gavel used in the Confederate Congress and retrieved by Sumner. Its symbolic value was recognized at the time by Lincoln, Colfax, and Congressman Ashmun who, in the same conversation with Lincoln, referred to his own preservation of a gavel he had used at the Chicago Convention of 1860, which had nominated Lincoln for President of the United States. It is thus a telling memento of the 4-year failed effort to destroy that Union by legislating into existence a separate nation and a fitting souvenir to be taken by the Senator symbolizing an end to that attempt. It is unclear if the gavel remained in Sumner’s hands, passed to Stanton, or to Colfax as Lincoln desired. The Lattimer collection included material from the Stanton estate, so it is possible the Secretary of War ended up with it after all, but Lattimer was a determined and wide-ranging collector, so it may have come from the Sumner or Colfax family as well. CONDITION: Excellent, showing some expected wear to its original deep, bluish-green paint. Glued label is fully legible. Accompanied by an original copy of the 1865 Boston newspaper and 1867 book referring to it. 5,000 - 10,000

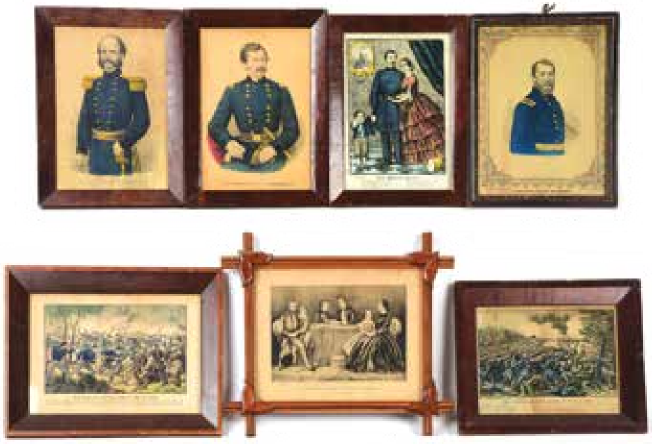
1126 - LOT OF 3: 83RD PA VOLUNTEERS LETTER, PORTRAIT, SERVICE RECORD.

Lot consists of three items related to soldiers of the 83rd Pennsylvania Volunteers, a hard-fighting unit in the Army of the Potomac with service at Gettysburg and elsewhere. (A) Touching letter to the father of Joseph Huntley, Co. K, 83rd PA, dated August 1864 notifying him his son had died of wounds in Richmond on May 30. The letter is sent from a general hospital at Annapolis, presumably by another member of the unit captured and paroled. PA published records based on muster out rolls and known to be inaccurate show the younger Huntley only as discharged. This makes clear Huntley was likely wounded at Wilderness or Laurel Hill and captured. CONDITION: Very good, a tad light, framed. (B) Elaborate, colored soldier's memorial or service record of George W. Pfeiffer, Co. B, 83rd PA. (1848-1909.) Eagle with US flags at top, corps badges on the border of a central panel filled in with details of his enlistment and service of the regiment, with his name and unit in larger letters also on the ribbon scroll at bottom. CONDITION: Excellent. Period oak frame. Small water stains at right and bottom. Comes with his original Civil War discharge, ink stained, a pension certificate for his widow, and a handwritten obituary. (C) Large solar or crayon full standing portrait of a soldier in the chasseur uniform worn by the 83rd PA. These portraits were made from photographs projected onto a larger surface and enhanced by hand for display in the home. The soldier is armed and the uniform is one of those imported from France and distributed on a limited basis as awards in drill competition in 1862 and reflect the growing popularity of light infantry in the mid-1800s. 600 - 800



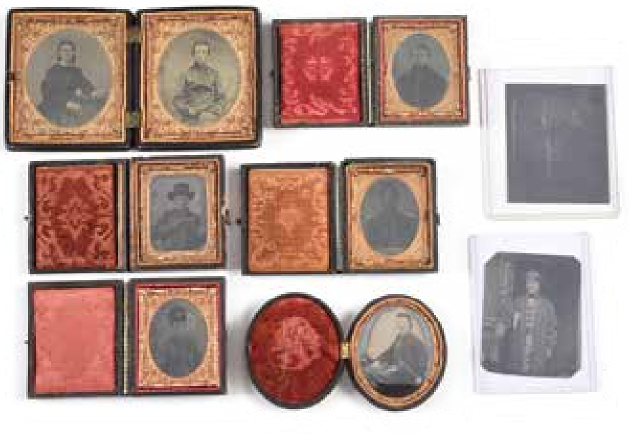
1127 - LOT OF 7: FRAMED CIVIL WAR ERA ENGRAVINGS, BATTLES AND PERSONAGES.

Lot consists of 7 Civil War engravings in original frames, 2 with replaced backboards. A) Gen. Burniside, colored, Currier & Ives. CONDITION: good. Minor foxing. B) Gen. McClellan, Kellogg, colored. CONDITION: Very good, but cream color paper. Three small foxing spots. C) The Brave Wife, Currier Ives, colored. CONDITION: Very good. Bright color. New backing. D) Gen. Sheridan, colored, Lloyd & Co. CONDITION: good. Small water stain lower left. E) Battle of Spottsylvania, Currier & Ives, colored. CONDITION: good. Water stain upper margin with slight crease. F) Gen. Grant and Family. Currier & Ives. Monochrome. CONDITION: good. Thin water stain left edge. Cross-stick frame. G) Battle of Fair Oaks, colored, Currier & Ives. CONDITION: good. Some foxing and dirt in margins. New backing. With distribution of photographs still limited, engravings were the source of most public perceptions of prominent figures and battles. The Brave Wife, with its McClellan-like officer leaving his family is an interesting combination of politics, patriotism, and sentimentality. 600 - 800



1128 - LOT OF 8: CIVIL WAR MILITARY PHOTOGRAPHS, ONE ARMED.

Lot consists of 8 tintypes of soldiers from Western Pennsylvania, not described in order illustrated. (A) Oval tinted portrait, soldier seated, wears veteran stripe. Thermoplastic figural case. CONDITION: Very good. Slight solarization band. Good clarity. (B) Double case image seated soldier in frock with cap on lap and wife at left. Figural thermoplastic case. CONDITION: Excellent. The following four are 9th plates in leatherette cases, hinges taped. (C) Waist up view, frock and cap. CONDITION: Good. Somewhat dark. Buttons and scales gilt. (D) Half length seated, soldier with musket at right, holds pepperbox across chest. CONDITION: Good. (E) Waist up, soldier in frock. CONDITION: Good. Slightly dark. (F) Seated line officer, frock open, Hardee hat with infantry bugle and plume. CONDITION: Good. The following 2 are uncased sixth plates. (G) 2 new recruits, full standing with muskets and bayonets fixed. Military caps but civilian clothes. CONDITION: Good. Dark. (H) 3/4 length standing. Soldier in fatigue blouse with long pocket kerchief, wearing fatigue cap. CONDITION: Good. Background dark, figure with good clarity. Corners clipped for album insertion. 600 - 800



1129 - LOT OF DAGUERREOTYPES, TINTYPES, CDVS, SOME MILITARY.
Lot consists of mixed media early photography. Lot features binder with about 60 images including 10 risque tobacco cards, 4 Span-Am military cabinet cards, 2 British CDVs, 1 US National Guard, several occupational and outdoor views of men boxing, swimmers posing, etc. With wood box containing 2 cased and 1 half case civilian daguerreotypes; lantern slide, ninth plate tintype in half case, sixteenth plate in case, 7 misc CDVs including tintype musician with cornet, glass negative of man in Uncle Sam costume, misc parts for photo cases. CONDITION: Good overall. Some unusual poses and content. 400 - 800

1130 - LOT OF 6: 145TH, 81ST PA, G.A.R. BUCKTAIL MEMORABILIA.
Lot consists of 6 items related to western PA Civil War Units: (A) “The Empty Sleeve,” framed colored poem “written and sold by a one-armed soldier of the 145th Pennsylvania Volunteers.” CONDITION: Very Good, in period frame. (B) G.A.R. Medal and regimental reunion ribbon of Daniel Long, 145th PA, with obituary and family note. Long lost the use of one arm from wounds and might be the writer of the framed poem. (C) 1890s photo of mourning display for Civil War vet. Stacked rifles at left, flags, civilian portrait, Rutherford B. Hayes Post 167 Dept of Pennsylvania ribbon shown. CONDITION: Good, water stains to border and reverse. (D) Solar portrait identified in modern pencil as Lawrence Davenport, 81st Pa. Note says killed in war, but database says survived and discharged as Sergt. Major June 1865. CONDITION: Good, colored, water damage lower right corner. (E) solar portrait Emily Davenport. CONDITION: Good. (F) Impressive large framed photograph of a PA G.A.R. group posed in 5 rows on steps of large building. Flags at rear. Some men armed, most with G.A.R. uniforms and caps, many ribbons. Prominent at center one veteran sports a bucktail in his cap. 400 - 800

1131 - LOT OF 13: CIVIL WAR PHOTOGRAPHS.
Lot consists of 13 original Civil War photographs: 4 ambrotypes in embossed leatherette cases, 1 uncased tintype, 8 carte-de-visite format albumen images, including one engraving. A) McClellan as Major General, Napoleonic pose, Brady copyright at bottom. CONDITION: very good. Slight stains. Nice tones. B) CDV full standing in frock with cap on pedestal to rear. Trouser stripe indicates NCO. CONDITION: exc. No bm. C) CDV vignette bust view unidentified field officer, major or Lt. Colonel. No bm. CONDITION: very good. A tad light. D) CDV McClellan and wife. CONDITION: exc. Nice tones. E) CDV knees-up view of first sergeant in shell jacket with sash. Signed ink bottom front: F.F. Webster. Likely 10th NYHA, enl. age 25 8/4/62; mustered in private Co. B 8/18/62; promoted 1st Sergt. 9/11/62; 2nd Lt. Co. H 9/30/64; mustered out Petersburg 6/23/65. Lost 47 KIA, most active 1864-65 with 18th and 22nd Corps and Army of the Shenandoah. CONDITION: excellent. F) Uncased sixthplate tintype. Two seated comrades, both in slouch hats, frock coats and light blue tinted trousers. Painted backdrop shows a prominent tinted U.S. flag on pole at center, tree at left, hills in background. CONDITION: Good. Somewhat dark, but ?nice evocation of army comradeship. G) Eighthplate. Standing enlisted man from hips up, shouldering a musket. Wears cap and frock. CONDITION: very good image. Case hinge separated. H) Quarterplate full standing armed infantryman, with rifle, bayonet and accouterments. CONDITION: excellent. Belt plate lightly gilt. Modern notes in back of case that do not help on identification. I) Nice full standing line officer in frock and hat with sword at parade rest. NY bm. Modern pencil note reverse that he might be 37th NY which appears to match hat numerals. J) CDV full standing army line officer showing frock, sword sash. CONDITION: very good. CONDITION: excellent. K) Sixthplate tintype, leatherette case, repaired hinge, waist-up seated enlistedman in open frock coat with military vest and slouch hat. CONDITION: good. Light stains at upper right, narrow dark horizontal line from flaking of backing or emulsion on reverse. L) Sixthplate tintype, leatherette case, repaired hinge. Seated infantryman in cap and frock coat. Trousers tinted light blue. CONDITION: very good. A tad dark, but no emulsion problems. 1132 - LOT OF 2: US CIVIL WAR 1860 LIGHT CAVALRY SABER BY EMERSON AND 1840 NCO SABER BY AMES.
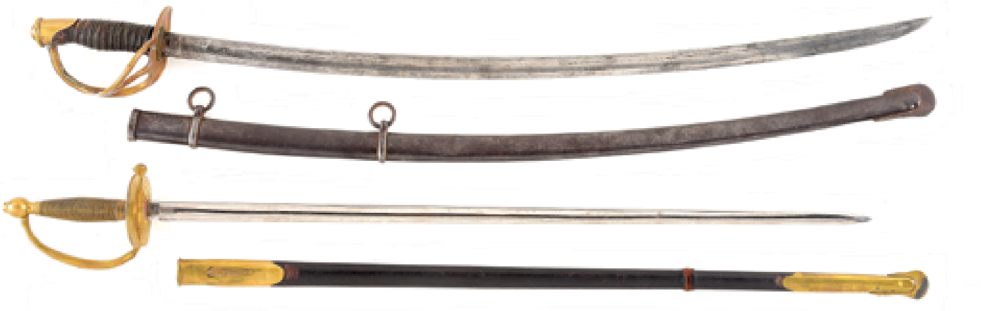
Blade Length: (A) 34 - 3/4" (B) 32"
Overall Length: (A) 41" (B) 39"



Lot consists of: (A) Model 1860 Cavalry Saber, which was one of the most heavily used edged weapons during the Civil War. The sword is marked "US / C.E.W. / 1864" on the obverse ricasso and "EMERSON / & / SILVER / TRENTON / N.J." on the reverse. The sword consists of a curved blade, brass guard, and leather wrapped grooved wood grip that is held nicely together by brass wire and is complete with its original steel scabbard. CONDITION: The blade exhibits a gray patina with scattered pitting and chips along the edge. The brass guard and knucklebow wobbles slightly and exhibits a pleasing patina with scattered blemishes. There is leather loss on the grip and the brass wire remains tight. The scabbard exhibits a dark patina with scattered pitting and minor dents. Overall good. (B) Ames Model 1840 NCO sword complete with its leather scabbard. The sword features a single edged blade with a single stopped fuller with a ricasso that is marked "U.S. / A.H.C. / 1863" on the obverse and "AMES MFG / CHICOPEE / MASS". The sword also features a brass hilt with grips of simulated cast brass wire wrap along with a double shell guard and a knucklebow that is inspector marked "A.D.K.". The scabbard is of black leather and features brass mounts. CONDITION: The blade exhibits evidence of polishing and remains bright. The brass guard retains some of its gilt and the hilt exhibits a pleasing patina. The scabbard mounts exhibit a similar patina with light dents and there is a 1" break in the stitching towards the lower mount. The scabbard remains as 1 piece but is fragile at the break. Overall good. JLD 800 - 1,200

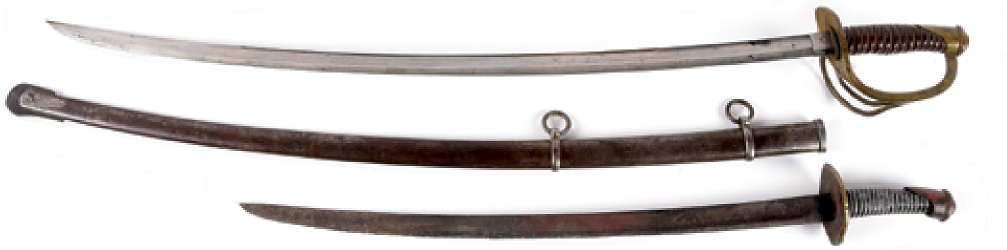
1133 - LOT OF 2: US CIVIL WAR M1860 CAVALRY SABER AND SHORTENED AMES M1860 NAVAL CUTLASS.
Blade Length: (A) 35 - 1/2" (B) 25"
Overall Length: (A) 42" (B) 30 - 1/2"



Lot consists of: (A) Nice example of a Model 1860 Cavalry Saber, which was one of the most heavily used edged weapons during the Civil War. The sword is marked "US / 1864 / A.G.M." on the obverse ricasso and "C. ROBY / W. CHELMSFORD / MASS" on the reverse. The sword consists of a slightly curved blade, brass guard, and brown leather wrapped wood grip that is wrapped with brass wire and is complete with its original steel scabbard. CONDITION: The blade remains bright with scattered areas of pitting and spotting. No chips in the edges. The brass guard, knucklebow, and pommel exhibit a pleasing patina with age spots. The shallow grooved, center-swelled wood grip is in good condition with several small areas of leather loss and slightly loose wire. The steel scabbard is complete with its 2 carry rings and exhibits a chocolate patina with areas of pitting. Overall good. (B) Modified Ames M1860 Naval Cutlass. The cutlass is marked "19M / 149" on under the crossguard. The knucklebow is missing and the handle has been replaced with cast metal. CONDITION: The blade is heavily worn, exhibiting heavy pitting, and chips along the edge. The guard and pommel exhibit a heavy patina. Handle and guard wobble when handled. Overall poor. 1134 - US CIVIL WAR PRESENTATION SWORD OF LT. C.R. BECKER 44TH NEW YORK, WIA AND CAPTURED AT GAINES MILL, PEOPLES ELLSWORTH REGIMENT.
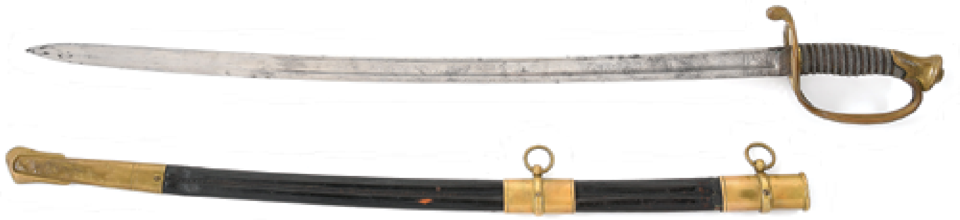
Blade Length: 30 - 1/2”
Overall Length: 36 - 1/2”



Described as 5’9” tall with hazel eyes, black hair, and a dark complexion, Christopher R. Becker had been born in 1836, and was working as a machinist when he enrolled in the Army after the outbreak of the Civil War. He enrolled at the age of 24 for 3 years service at Albany on September 4, 1861 and mustered in as a private in Company F of the 44th New York Infantry Regiment on September 6, 1861. The regiment was first mustered by Stephen W. Stryker, a former lieutenant in the 11th New York Volunteer Infantry Regiment, and recruited by the Ellsworth Association of New York to honor Col. Elmer Ellsworth, foremost inspirer of the Zouave craze in the U.S., and the first officer killed during the war in Alexandria in 1861. The regiment was also known as “Ellsworth’s Avengers” to honor Stryker’s former commander. Becker was quickly promoted to 2nd Lieutenant of Company G on September 11, 1861 and mustered in with that rank October 8, 1861. His time in the regiment was short-lived, as he was wounded in action and captured at Gaines’ Mill on June 27, 1862. Records indicate that Becker was wounded in the foot and he drafted a letter where he mentions that he was unable to stand or perform his duty as a result. At Gaines Mill the regiment suffered 16 killed or mortally wounded, 21 wounded, and 17 missing in the fighting to hold back the Confederate attack on the Union right at the beginning of the Seven Days Battles. Becker was later paroled and exchanged on August 27, 1862 for R.G. McClure of the 41st Tennessee, and was promoted and mustered in as Captain in September with rank dating to August 23, 1862 but was discharged for wounds on December 18, 1862. The regiment served in the 5th Corps, saw action Yorktown and Hanover Courthouse. Becker’s wound spared him from the Peninsula Campaign in which battle deaths and disease diminished the regiment’s original strength of 1100 members to only 200 men. After his service, he returned to Albany and was a member of both GAR Post 121, and the Lewis Owen Morris Post in Albany. Becker passed away there on May 3, 1902. The regimental history mentions a number of presentations were made to the regiment before departing the state for the field and records Becker received an officer’s uniform. The sword is not mentioned, but may have been included. In any case, the donor of the sword was certainly the Third Reformed Protestant Dutch Church Sunday School of Albany. The engraved script presentation is located on the upper mount and reads “Presented / to / Lt. C.R. Becker / from / the 3rd R.P.D. C.S.S. / Albany Sept. 14th / 1862.” Once removed from its scabbard, the sword’s blade is exposed and reveals the wonderfully etched decorations. The blade is adorned with scrolls of acanthus leaves which lead to a panoply of arms intertwined with more acanthus scrolls leading up to the bold letters “U.S.” followed by another panoply of arms wrapped in acanthus scrolls. The panoply sits above patriotic drums, cannon, and a shield which rest above a large maple leaf just above the ricasso which is marked “W. CLAUBERG / SOLINGEN”. The reverse blade is similarly adorned with foliate and patriotic motifs. The decorations start with flowers which form into a banner of acanthus scrolls that reads “E PLURIBUS UNUM”. The banner is followed by a wonderfully etched, patriotic, spread-winged Eagle followed by a panoply of arms intertwined with acanthus scrolls. Another acanthus wrapped panoply sits on top of a sunburst palmette which rests above the ricasso which is marked with the deeply stamped W. Clauberg standing knight trademark. The spine is marked “IRON : PROOF”. After the blade is a gilded single-band brass hilt features which features a solid guard that is detailed with cutout foliate scrolls. The scrolls continue onto the quillion which resembles a scrolled leaf. The grip features a grooved, center-swelled wooden handle wrapped in high-quality rayskin. The skin is tightly bound to the grip with double twisted brass wire that fits neatly in the grooves of the handle. The brass pommel is decorated with floral scrollwork and features a tiered cap. The sword is complete with its black leather scabbard which features brass mounts, a drag, and two carry rings. The mounts are unadorned except for the presentation. CONDITION: The blade remains bright but exhibits light areas of spotting and areas of pitting around the tip. There are a couple decent sized chips in the edge. The etched decorations remain nearly unmolested. There is spotting and pitting that run the length of the spine. The brass guard retains some of its original gilding while other areas of acquired a pleasant patina. The grip is in very good condition and the brass wire remains tight. There is one noticeable area where the skin is separating. The scabbard exhibits various scuffs and scratches but the leather remains firm. The upper mount is loose as it wobbles when handled and will come off if pulled. There is evidence of it sliding in the leather just above the mount. The mounts exhibit a pleasing patina consistent with the guard. Lower mount exhibits small dings. Overall very good. The sword is accompanied by a folder of research from the consigner which contains Becker’s military records, muster rolls, scans of letters, and post-war paperwork which pertains to Becker’s service. Blade Length: (A) 35 - 1/2" (B) 33"
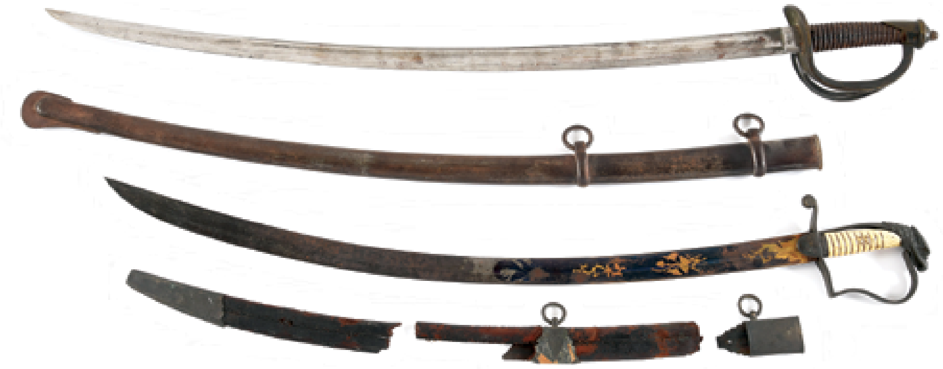
Overall Length: (A) 42" (B) 38"



Lot consists of: (A) Post Mexican War pre-Civil War Ames Model 1840 heavy cavalry saber better know as the "Wristbreaker". This particular example was produced by Ames and is complete with its scabbard. The blade is plain and devoid of decoration only being marked by the maker on either side the ricasso. The obverse ricasso is marked "AMES MFG. CO. / CHICOPEE / MASS / 1853" and "US / A.D.K." on the reverse ricasso. The sword features a heavy brass guard which is followed by a grooved wood handle. The hefty iron scabbard is equally plain and features 2 ring mounts. CONDITION: The blade is bright and exhibits scattered areas of light pitting and spotting as well as chips along the edge. The grip is missing its leather covering and brass wire. Guard has darkened with age. The scabbard exhibits a chocolate patina with scattered blemishes and oxidation. Overall good. (B) US Federal Period eagle head pommel sword. The sword features a curved blade with a deep fuller and a nitre blue lower section that is decorated with gilded panoplies and scrollwork on both sides. The handle features a brass crossguard with knucklebow and a bone grip topped off by an eagle head pommel. The sword is complete with the remnants of its leather scabbard. CONDITION: The blade exhibits heavy areas of surface rust and pitting. The bluing and gilded decorations are preserved, but are flanked by areas of rust. The brass components of the handle appear to have once been gilded, exhibiting scattered evidence, but have since been muted and now reflect a gray patina. The backstrap has slightly separated from the bone grip. The scabbard is in several pieces but both metal mounts remain. Overall fair. JLD 800 - 1,200

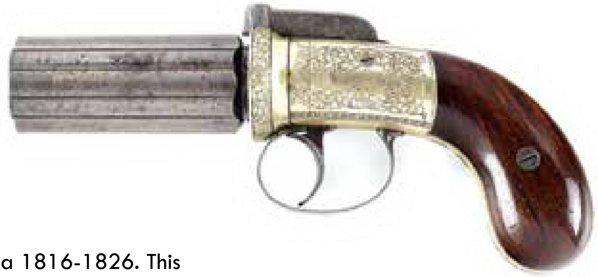
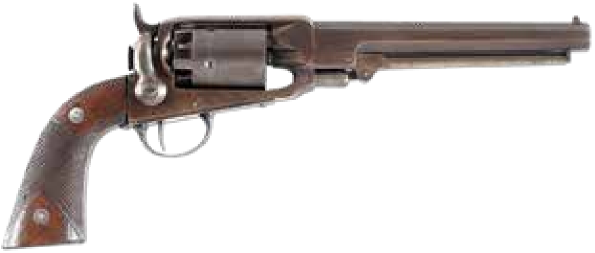
Manufacturer: E&W Bond
Model: Pepperbox
Caliber/Bore: .42 Percussion
Barrel Length: 3 - 1/2"
FFL Status: Antique



Edward and William Bond are recorded with the sole address of 45 Cornhill circa 1816-1826. This pepperbox is equipped with the traditional 6 barrels with view and proof marks in gullets, recoil shield integral with German silver frame, engraved in scroll on a hatched ground with central ribbon reading "E&W BOND, / 45 CORNHILL LONDON" on left side. Hammer has engraving en suite. Straps and trigger guard are more sparsely engraved but in the same pattern and no doubt the same hand. Frame has an unusual rectangular trap in butt. Trigger guard has some English high polish blue left on internals. 2-piece grips retained by screw with single escutcheon. Housed in a wooden case with accessories comprising patch tins, modern Remington caps, threaded rod currently equipped with a cleaning head, combination bullet mold, sprue cutter, and nipple wrench, and powder flask. CONDITION: Case colors on barrels are completely faded, leaving a dove grey patina throughout. Frame is excellent with crisp engraving and a few splotches of what looks like some kind of chemical. Trigger guard exterior has lost all of the English high polish blue, but interior still retains plenty of blue. Grips are very good, complete, with some dings and nicks throughout. Accessories are very good, mostly gunmetal patina throughout. Mechanically fine, bores are very good with a minimum of oxidation. A nice example. EMW 2,000 - 4,000

1154 - (A) SCARCE B. F. JOSLYN ARMY SIDEHAMMER PERCUSSION REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: Joslyn
Model: Army revolver
Serial No. 1035
Caliber/Bore: .44 Percussion
Barrel Length: 7 - 3/4"
FFL Status: Antique



Approximately 2,500 standard model Joslyn revolvers were made from 1861 to 1862. Many were purchased as supplementary sidearms during the Civil War despite their poor reputation among soldiers. This example has a .44 caliber 7 - 3/4" octagon barrel stamped in top flat "B.F. JOSLYN/PATD MAY 4TH 1858". Blued finish with case hardened loading lever and hammer. Grips are checkered walnut. CONDITION: Very good. Majority of bluing is turning to a brown patina with some spots of added finish where pits were filled in. Trigger guard retains significant portions of its bright high polish blue with scratches and wear. Traces of case colors present. Grips have wear and impressions throughout with some chipping along edges. Bright bore displaying strong rifling and some light pitting. Fine mechanics. Full or partial serial numbers observed on frame, barrel (renumbered), loading lever, lever catch, cylinder, cylinder arbor, hand, trigger guard, and grips. PROVENANCE: Ex. Rich Guckes. 1192 - (A) US M1816 MUSKET CONVERTED TO PERCUSSION BY REMINGTON AND DATED 1855.
Manufacturer: Springfield
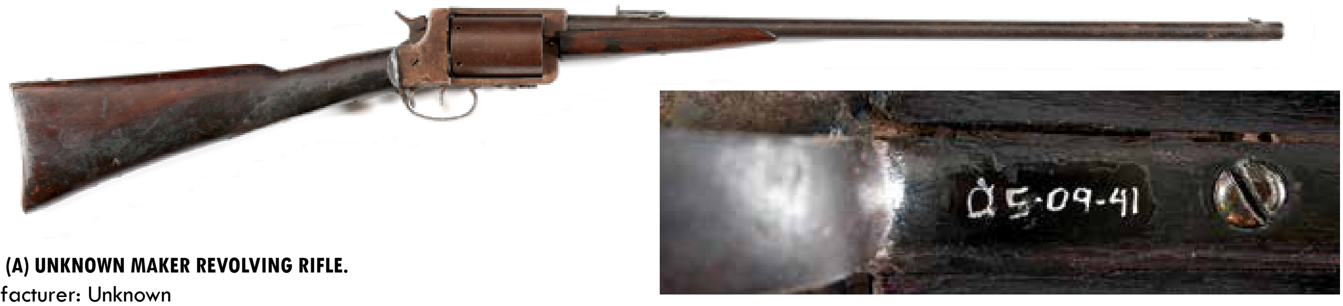
Model: 1816
Caliber/Bore: .58 Rifled
Barrel Length: 42”
FFL Status: Antique

US M1816 musket converted to percussion by Remington and dated 1855. 42” round barrel in .69 caliber rifled with rifle rear sight and blade front on front barrel band. Barrel is dated 1855 near breech with “L / 35” below it. Maynard’s patent lock is marked “PVH” on primer cover ahead of cock with “REMINGTON’S / HERKIMER / N.Y.” behind cock. Full-length trumpet’s head ramrod is correctly cupped for use with Minie ball projectiles. Buttplate screws, comb of stock, tang screw, and lock screw retaining plate are all numbered “9”. Front barrel band is numbered “L / 35” in the same manner as the tang is near breech. 1-piece plain walnut stock in three barrel band configuration complete with US marked military buttplate. CONDITION: Excellent and still in original National Armory bright, with scattered light age-related pitting and handling marks throughout. Stock is in matching condition with slight burnout near hammer and handling marks throughout with no visible cracks. Action is crisp and tight with two clear stops at full and half cock. Bore is dark with visible 3-groove rifling. Overall a fine example of a scarcely seen rifled musket conversion. TON 2,000 - 2,600

1193 - LOT OF 3: MAYNARD TAPE PRIMERS AND 2 PISTOL FLASKS.
Lot consists of 3 items: (A) Japanned tin cylinder with cap containing 8 rolls of Maynard tape primers. CONDITION: Very good. Wear to the finish of the cap. 7 rolls intact and unopened. 1 opened, very good for display. (B) Copper and brass small pocket or case flask for a pocket revolver. CONDITION: Very good. No dents. Blue on spring. Nice patina. (C) Medium size bag shape flask for larger revolver or single shot pistol. CONDITION: Very good. Nice patina. Nice blue on spring. 400 - 600



1194 - (A) UNKNOWN MAKER REVOLVING RIFLE.
Manufacturer: Unknown
Model: Revolving Rifle
Caliber/Bore: .45 caliber
Barrel Length: 27”
FFL Status: Antique

An interesting piece of gun making history. This gun is a 6 shot revolving smoothbore rifle made by an unknown gunsmith back in the period. Gun resembles prototypes made by other gunsmiths such as Billinghurst, Warner, and Wurfflein. Gun has 27” round smoothbore .45 caliber barrel with blade front sight and Winchester carbine style rear sight. 6 shot percussion cylinder in exposed hammer iron frame with double triggers. Tang marked with a museum number of “Q5-09-41”. Walnut plain straight grip stock with steel buttplate with checkered walnut splinter forearm. Work is crude but was probably an innovation at the time. Gun originated out of the Erie, Pennsylvania area near many good New York and Erie gunsmiths. PROVENANCE: Rich Guckes Collection. CONDITION: Metal has plum patina finish with areas of corrosion. Wood has dark aged patina with 2 holes for sling swivel plate with dings and marks. Pitted bore with mechanics needing some work. An interesting rifle. DLM 6,000 - 10,000

1195 - (A) SHARPS MODEL 4 DERRINGER.

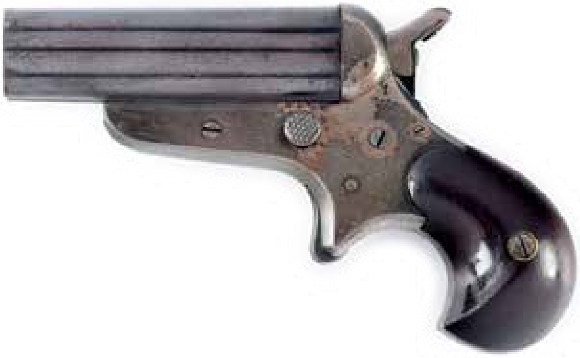
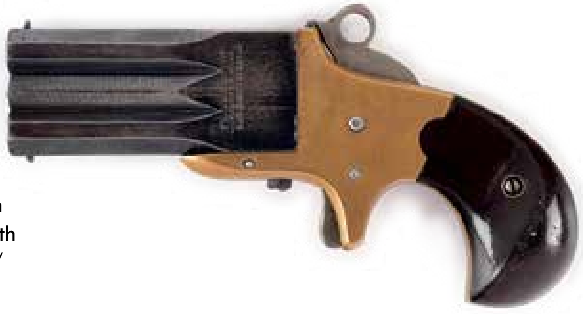
Barrel Length: 3”
FFL Status: Antique



Sharps Model 4 derringer single action revolver. This is a “4C” model circa 1870s. Right side of the frame is marked “C.SHARPS PATENT/JAN 25. 1859”. Serial number on the bottom of the slide-out barrel. Bead front sight. Blued barrel with a silver-plated frame. Birds head grip with Rosewood grips. CONDITION: Metal retains 60% of its original finish with general finish wear. Grips have scratches and handling marks. Bores have frosting and some minor pits. Hammer is tight. Mechanically fine but the release lever is very stiff. JWA 400 - 600

1196 - (A) DESIRABLE FRANK WESSON SMALL FRAME WATCH-FOB PISTOL WITH SLIDING DIRK.
Manufacturer: Frank Wesson
Model: Watch-Fob Derringer
Serial No. 363
Caliber/Bore: .22 Short
Barrel Length: 2”
FFL Status: Antique



It is believed that less than 3000 of these rare guns were ever manufactured. Swivel breech configuration, with top and bottom barrels each having their own diminutive cone sights, while central “barrel” contains a sliding cruciform dirk with a squared blunt tip. Barrels marked “FRANK WESSON / WORCESTER, MASS / PAT. DEC. 15. 1868” in 3 lines, vertically. Distinct hammer with ring. Brass frame with recess on right side for loading/unloading. Two piece birdshead grips, with 363 serial number internally on each grip and on frame. CONDITION: Very good, barrels retaining approximately half of their bluing with some fading to silver and high edges and spots of flaking. Legends are crisp, and machining marks on central “barrel” are clean. Dirk slides appropriately. Brass frame is very good with a rich golden patina, and some marks from handling, most noticeable where barrel assembly and frame meet. Grips are very good with some scratches and marks on high edges. Mechanically fine, barrels are very good with some light frosting. A lovely example of a rare gun. EMW

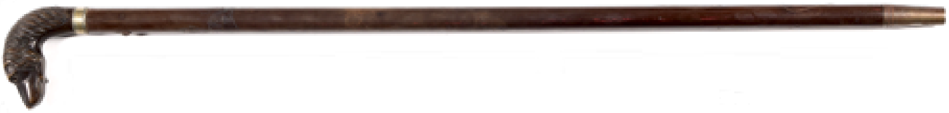
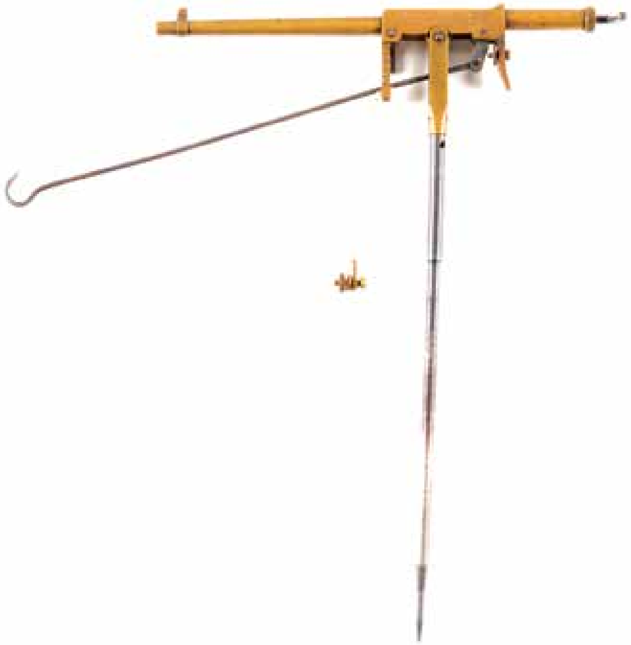
1221 - (A) REMINGTON LARGE DOG’S HEAD CANE GUN.
Manufacturer: Remington
Model: Cane Gun
Caliber/Bore: .32 RF
Barrel Length: 24 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique



A rather interesting offer from Remington, they were originally marketed as “Just the thing for taxidermists [and]...protection against dogs and highway men.” (Flayderman, 8th, pg. 150). Made of gutta percha wrapped around a central shaft that doubles as a barrel. This example has the detailed large dogs head. German silver band at head, iron barrel tip. Someone has attempted to do some simple line incised carving that measures approximately 8 - 1/2” from tip. CONDITION: Gutta percha has dried out with several areas of cracking and chips. Area around chamber has some adhesive residue. Iron tip is essentially gunmetal grey, with approximately half of the tip covered in oxidation. Mechanics need attention as mechanism does not cock, bore is dark. EMW 2,000 - 3,000

1222 - (C) RARE F.C. TAYLOR FUR GETTER SET TRAP GUN.
Manufacturer: F.C. Taylor
Model: Fur getter
Serial No. 443
Caliber/Bore: .22 RF
Barrel Length: 6”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



Initially patented in 1914, this interesting trap device fires a .22 RF cartridge when an animal actuates its bait hook trigger. Traps of this type were banned from use by the 1930s. It features overall brass construction with a 6” rifled barrel. Trigger, mounting swivel spike, and pins are steel. CONDITION: Good. Brass displays a pleasant mellow patina with a few darker spots. Steel components retain portions of thinning finish with some cleaned corrosion spots. Markings crisp with rifling fine indicating only moderate use. The pin which retains the mounting spike is missing, and the trigger adjustment appears to have the incorrect screw. Trap is otherwise mechanically fine. BAS

1223 - WILKINSON SHAKESPEAR HUNTING KNIFE.
Blade Length: 8”
Overall Length: 12 - 1/2”

Conceived in India during the glory days of the British Empire, the Shakespeare knife was designed by Henry Shakespear who is a man with an illustrious and adrenaline filled history. Shakespeare was a British Cavalry Officer, having served a lengthy career in the Bengal Army in which he retired as a Lieutenant Colonel and Commandant of the Nagpore Irregular Cavalry. He was also an author and a dangerous game hunter. His knife was manufactured by the renowned English sword and gun maker, Wilkinson of London, England. The knife features an 8” convex and double-edged shallow spearpoint blade with a deep fuller. The blade is marked “WILKINSON / PALL MALL / LONDON” which is etched in a small vignette just above the handle. The handle features a hand-checkered wood grip which is held in place by 3 pins on each side. The knife is complete with its leather covered wood scabbard that features a metal catch which secures the knife in the scabbard. The scabbard leather is checkered much like the grips. CONDITION: The blade is bright but exhibits scattered areas of pitting and spotting. edges and tip remain sharp. The grips remain secured to the handle but there is a significant split down the seam. The leather scabbard exhibits creasing and light areas of leather loss and there is a break in the tip which reveals the inside. Catch functions properly. Frog exhibits heavy creasing. Overall good. 1224 - (A) SPANISH AMERICAN WAR INSCRIBED COLT MODEL 1894 DOUBLE ACTION REVOLVER OF CAPTAIN EDWIN KING.
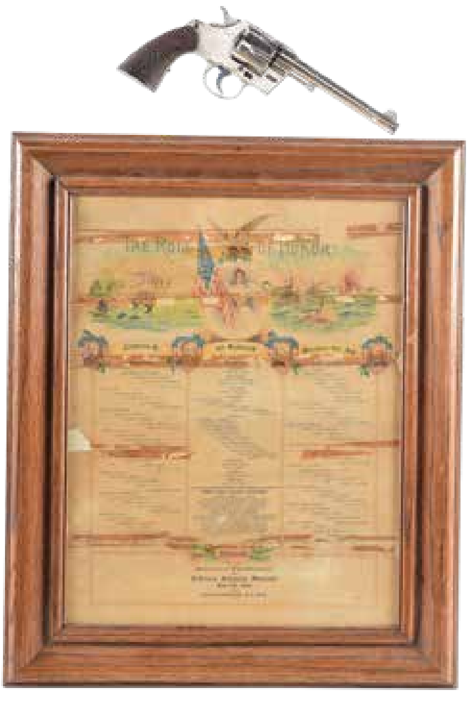
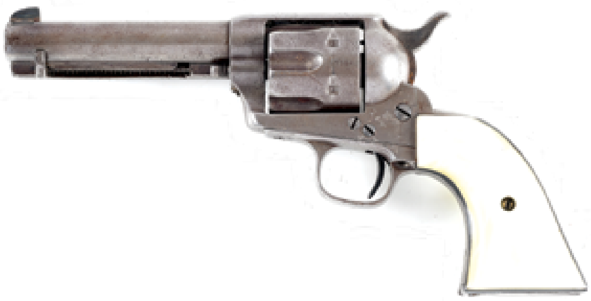
Manufacturer: Colt
Model: 1894
Serial No. 87328
Caliber/Bore: .38 Colt
Barrel Length: 6”
FFL Status: Antique

Shipped from the Colt factory January 18, 1898 to Wyeth Hardware of St. Joseph, Missouri, shortly before the Spanish American War began. Correct factory applied nickel finish with 6” barrel chambered for .38 Colt, half moon front sight, frame notch rear, 6-shot fluted cylinder, fire blued small parts, and 2-piece brown hard rubber grips baring rampant Colt logo. Base of grips is inscribed “E. E. King./ Mound City Mo.”. Captain Edwin E. King served with Company B, 4th Regiment of the Missouri Volunteer Infantry, which mustered at Jefferson Barracks, Missouri May 16, 1898 and mustered out of service February 10, 1899. King is listed in a framed period “The Roll of Honor” muster document, which descended in the family with the revolver according to a relative who sold the revolver initially. A letter signed by this relative listing the revolver by serial number, along with the honor roll, and factory letter are provided with this lot. CONDITION: Excellent. Vast majority of the factory applied finishes are retained. Nickel has started to cloud in some areas with some bubbling and losses. Nitre blue is still bright. Grips are fine with a few minor nicks. Fine bright bore and excellent mechanics, indicating little use. Framed honor roll has some tearing, tape repairs and staining. Overall a great antique Colt double action with Spanish American War provenance to boot! BAS 2,600 - 3,200

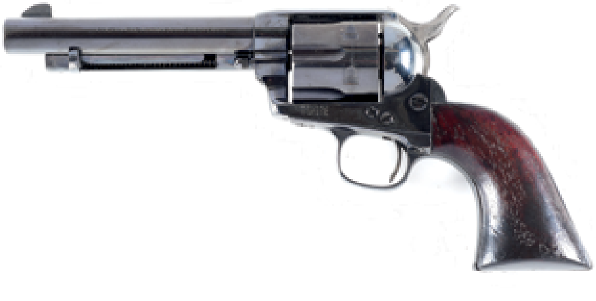


1225 - (A) COLT SINGLE ACTION ARMY .45 LC REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: Colt
Model: SAA
Serial No. 63755
Caliber/Bore: .45 LC
Barrel Length: 4 - 3/4”
FFL Status: Antique



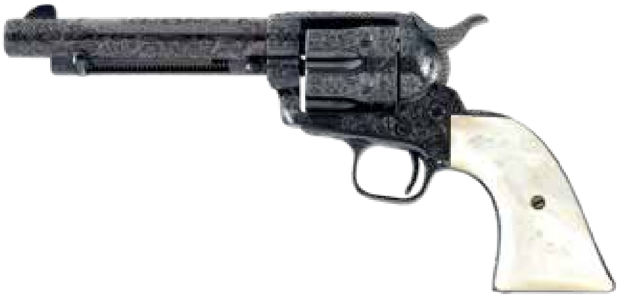
1881 vintage Colt Single Action Army revolver, serial number 63755. Barrel has been shortened to 4 - 3/4”. Chambered in .45 Colt with single line barrel address, frame notch rear sight, and replacement dovetailed blade front. Ejector rod head is a replacement. 2 piece imitation Mother of Pearl grips with wood backers. Backstrap is aftermarket engraved “TEXAS 1881”. CONDITION: Good, with virtually all of the original finishes turned to a gray patina with scattered light pitting and handling marks throughout. Grips are excellent with no major signs of distress. Action needs some attention as there are only 3 stops on the hammer, with the 2nd stop being slightly rough. Otherwise action is mechanically fine. Bore is frosted with visible rifling. TON 1,400 - 2,400

1226 - (A) COLT SINGLE ACTION ARMY REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: Colt
Model: SAA
Serial No. 96145
Caliber/Bore: .38 Special
Barrel Length: 5 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique



1883 vintage Colt Single Action Army revolver. 5 - 1/2” round replacement barrel chambered in .38 Special with single line Colt barrel address above ejector rod housing, frame rear sight, and blade front. Blackpowder frame. 1 piece plain walnut grips. CONDITION: Excellent, as totally refinished with virtually all of the reapplied high polish blue remaining. Grips are very good as sanded and finish added, with no major signs of distress. Mechanically fine. Bore is bright with sharp rifling. Would make an excellent shooter. TON 1,400 - 2,400

1227 - (A) ENGRAVED BLACK POWDER FRAME COLT WITH .38 SPECIAL BARREL AND MOTHER OF PEARL GRIPS.
Manufacturer: Colt
Model: SAA
Serial No. 18210
Caliber/Bore: .38 Special
Barrel Length: 5 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Antique



Serial number dated to 1875. Blade front, notched frame rear sight. Left side of barrel is marked ‘COLT SINGLE ACTION ARMY .38 SPECIAL”, right side with “COLT’S MFG. CO. HARTFORD, CT, USA”. Left side of frame with “PAT. JULY. 2. 1872”. Matching numbers observed of frame, trigger guard, and butt. Gun is engraved in near complete D class coverage of a mixture of Nimschke scroll and floral scroll, accented with lined borders and stippled ground; recoil shields engraved with florals, left shield with single large flower, right with 3: 1 on loading gate, and 1 each above and below gate. Barrel has a vignette of an American eagle mid-descent. Hammer jeweled on sides. Given the date of the frame and the introduction of .38 Special, this gun was clearly custom assembled to someone’s specifications. CONDITION: Excellent, retaining virtually all of the reapplied blue finish done after the gun was assembled and engraved, with a few minor marks from handling throughout. Cylinder has a minor turnline. Hammer has some fine oxidation on left side. Some minor muzzle wear of silvering on left side. Grips excellent with some minor chips to edge and great fire. Mechanically fine, bore is excellent with crisp rifling. A lovely example with great eye appeal. EMW 3,000 - 5,000

Manufacturer: Colt
Model: 1877 Thunderer
Serial No. 36707
Caliber/Bore: .41 Colt
Barrel Length: 4 - 1/2"
FFL Status: Antique

Manufactured in 1882. The front sight has been changed. The one that is on it has the profile of a Single Action Army sight, however, it was made out of a silver U.S. coin. You can see an eagle head and banner on the left side of the sight. 2-piece ivory grip panels that are worn and smooth. Scratched on the inside of the right grip is "BILLY BONNY". It is documented that Billy the Kid did carry a Colt Thunderer, but Pat Garret killed Billy the Kid on July 14, 1881. The center pin has been replaced by a cut down sheriff's model pin. It is engraved. CONDITION: Gun retains 30% of the non-original nickel finish. Grips are worn and do not fit the gun very well. Bore is dark with some pitting and frosting in the lands and grooves. Comes in a modern oak case with screwdriver and cleaning rod. REW 2,000 - 3,000

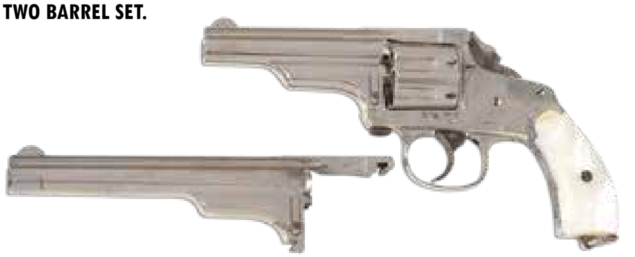
Model: Medium Frame Revolver
Serial No. 14079
Caliber/Bore: .32 Long
Barrel Length: 3 - 1/2", 5 - 1/2"
FFL Status: Antique



It is believed only a few thousand Merwin, Hulbert & Co. medium frame revolvers were manufactured in the 1880s by Hopkins & Allen. This .32 long caliber nickel finished example is outfitted as a 2 barrel set, with both a 5 - 1/2 and a 3 - 1/2" barrel numbered to the gun. Other features include standard 2-line barrel addresses, half moon front sights, integral V-notch rear sights, a 7-shot fluted cylinder, frame marked "32. CAL. 7 SHOT", desirable folding spur hammer, flat butt with lanyard loop, and pearl grips. CONDITION: Fine. The vast majority of the factory applied nickel finish is retained with some older cleaned corrosion spots, notably on the grip straps, in addition to some light flaking, clouding, and other evidence of use. Significant amounts of faded case colors retained on trigger and hammer. Grips have some minor staining around edges from older oxidation of metal components, and a small chip at the top of the right panel. Bores near excellent. Fine mechanics. BAS 1,600 - 2,600

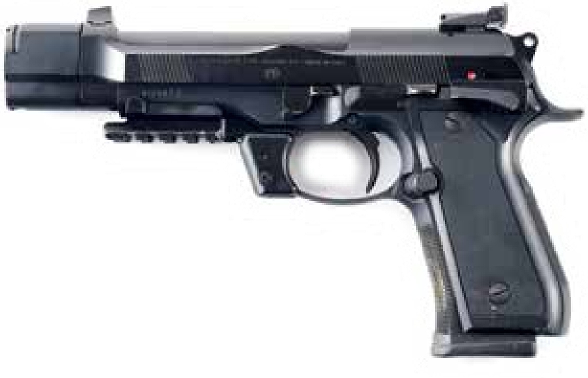
1403 - (M) BERETTA MODEL 92 COMBAT SEMI-AUTOMATIC PISTOL.
Manufacturer: Beretta
Model: 92 Combat
Serial No. G12467Z
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 6 - 3/4"
FFL Status: Modern



These guns were produced by Beretta with a longer barrel, accurizer bushing, adjustable rear sights, frame safety, more aggressive checkering, and single-action-only safety. They also used aluminum grips with an aggressive checkering pattern. While numbers have never been confirmed, speculation is that only between 50 and 150 or so were ever manufactured. This example has been modified with the addition of a rail system that clamps to the front of the trigger guard; this appears to be the second attempt to add a rail system as there is a pair of tapped and drilled holes in the dust cover that can be seen internally. CONDITION: Retains most of the factory blue finish with marks from handling and use throughout, including a significant area of silvering to the front strap. Grips are very good with silvering throughout. Accurizing bushing has some marks from use. Mechanically fine, bore is excellent with strong rifling. This is a rare example. EMW 1,600 - 2,400

Circa 1955. A West German made break open rifle with a blued octagon to round steel barrel that is crowned at the muzzle and chambered for the 7x57R cartridge. The barrel is fit with a machine cut matted quarter rib that reads "7x57R", sling swivel and claw mount bases fit with a vintage Nickel-Zielfernrohre Marburg/l. 4x32 E/S scope that is marked on the top "KURT JÄGER-MAINZ"; it is the experts opinion that this is the name of the gunsmith whom installed the claw mounts onto the rifle - he is the brother to the famous gunmaker Paul Jäger. Right side of the barrel in script reads "Stahl Bochumer Verein" while the left side of barrel is marked "J.P. SAUER & SON A.G.E MADE IN GERMANY". Bottom of barrel with serial number "70551" and appropriate German proof marks from the Kiel proof house. The coin finish scalloped action body is border scroll engraved with "J.P. SAUER & SOHN" on both the left and right sides, top of the action body is matted, bottom of the action body has the famous J.P. Sauer "Cave Man" trademark surrounded by "ORIGINAL SAUER" and scrolls, and the blued top lever is checkered on the left side of thumbpiece. Boxlock action is fit with a single Kersten lock on right side with crossbolt and non-automatic safety with the letter "S" just forward of the serrated safety slide and a blued trigger guard protecting the double-set triggers. The pistol hand gripped reddish-orange European walnut stock has 2 panel point pattern checkering, hard rubber grip cap, pancake cheekpiece, a thin brown Pachmayr "White Line" rubber recoil pad and sling swivel. The checkered forearm has a schnabel tip and Deeley style lever release. CONDITION: Very good. Barrels has handling/use marks and retains 80% blue, rifling is good and bore is bright and shiny. Caliber/Bore: .270 Winchester
Barrel Length: 22”
FFL Status: Modern
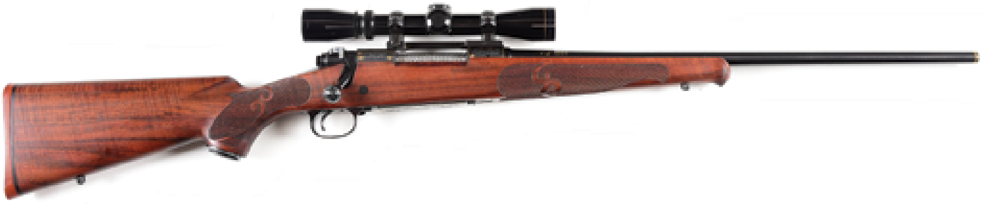
Length of Pull: 13 - 5/8”
Weight: 8 Lbs. 2 Oz. with Scope



Circa 1983. The rifle features a nicely floral scroll engraved receiver with gold inlaid border accents, gold “WINCHESTER/-TRADE MARK-” on the left wall, and serial number “UG 686” in gold on the right side of the receiver ring. The top left rear of the receiver is signed “Bottega C. Giovanelli” giving the source of engraving as the Cesar Giavonelli school of engraving in Brescia, Italy. The 22” featherweight profile barrel is chambered for the .270 Winchester cartridge, manufactured without sights, with double gold inlaid bands (1 thin, 1 wide) around the muzzle and gold “1 of 1,000” on the right rear. The left side of the barrel is marked “WINCHESTER MODEL 70 FEATHERWEIGHT ULTRA GRADE - 270 WIN MADE IN NEW HAVEN, CONN. U.S.A. WINCHESTER PROOF STEEL”. The breech end is marked with the Winchester oval proof. The top of the receiver is fit with a 1-piece base and engraved rings that hold a Leupold 2x7 VARI-X IIc scope. The floor plate, trigger guard and grip cap are engraved with the same floral scroll design, with a big horn ram in the center of the floor plate with gold bordering. Jeweled bolt and follower, with floral scroll engraving on the bolt handle. Rifle is stocked in an extra fancy American walnut pistol grip stock in the featherweight style with a Schnabel forend tip. Both sides of the reddish-brown butt are intensely figured with tiger striping. The rich colors continue throughout the stock. Checkering on forearm and grip is extra fancy with a ribbon pattern. The stock features a Schnabel forend tip, engraved steel grip cap, solid rubber Winchester recoil pad and sling swivel studs. CONDITION: Excellent. Bluing on rifle is in like new condition. Minor handling/storage marks on buttstock. Rubber recoil pad slightly compressed from rifle resting an extended period on its pad. A wonderful heirloom Winchester. (CP) 3,600 - 5,600

The left side of the receiver bears stampings stipulating the manufacturer information, with the right being marked “N. PIEPER PATENT”. Left side of barrel bears patent information as well as “09.” followed by an Austrian coat of arms, signifying production in 1909. Right side of barrel bears additional patent information with a Swiss cross as well as an Austrian NPV proof mark. Major metal components are rust blued, with some smaller components being nitre blued. Frame is mounted with 2-piece brown hard runner grips. Matching numbers are visible on the frame, bolt carrier, and barrel. CONDITION: Fine, with metal components retaining nearly all of their original 1909 factory applied finish, showing some very light spots of wear as well as some cleaned areas of light oxidation beneath the grip panels. Mirror bore, exhibiting some very light surface oxidation towards the breech and retaining well defined lands and grooves throughout. Hard rubber grips are excellent, exhibiting a few minor handling and storage marks overall. Right grip shows an area of fading, with the balance of the left grip fading to a light brown. A truly exceptional example of an over a century old Steyr Model 1908 semi-automatic pistol. 2147 - (C) E. SCHMIDT & HABERMANN WALDLAUFER DRILLING.

Manufacturer: E. Schmidt & Habermann
Model: Waldlaufer Drilling
Serial No. 41878
Caliber/Bore: 16 bore / 5.4mm
Barrel Length: 28 - 1/2”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic
Chamber: 2 - 1/2”
Choke: CYL and CYL
Drop at Comb: 1 - 3/8”
Drop at Heel: 2 - 5/8”
Internal Bore Diameter: .679 .680
Length of Pull: 14 - 3/8”
Weight: 6 Lbs. 12 oz.

Circa 1928. A German built boxlock drilling chambered for 16 bore and 5.4mm with 28 - 1/2” shoe lump barrels. The blued shotgun barrels are chambered for 2 - 1/2” cartridges and are fit with extractors. The tapered machined top rib is fit with U-notch flip-up rear sight and blade front sight. The interior of the rib is rifled for the 5.4mm cartridge. Top of the right barrel is marked “E.SCHMIDT & HABERMANN” and “KRUPP STAHL” while the top of the left barrel is marked “SUHL” and “KRUPP STAHL”. The left side of the rib towards the breech has German Proof marks and “5,4mm”. Bottom of both barrels marked “FLUSSSTAHL - KRUPP - ESSEN with German proof marks and the right side also has the gun’s serial number “41878”. The barrel flats have German nitro proof marks. Swivel loop for sling is attached to the bottom of the rib. The action body with a trace of case color hardened finish with more in protected areas has light scroll engraving with the bottom also engraved “WALDLAUFER D.R.G.M.” and “ESHA” in banner. Top of the action body is stippled. The boxlock action is fit with a Greener side safety, cocking indicator pins, blued top lever with both sides of the top lever checkered, blued and checkered slide to cock rifled barrel and raise rear sight and double triggers protected by a light scroll engraved trigger guard. The straight grain reddish-brown European pistol gripped walnut stock has a hard rubber grip cap, cheekpiece, swivel loop for sling and a hard rubber buttplate. Splinter forend with Deeley style lever release. CONDITION: Good with need for repair. Barrels retain most of their bluing with use marks and light freckling and bores are good. Buttstock has a crack approximately 1” long behind top tang and both sides of stock are not fit tight against the action body creating movement. Buttsotck and forend both with handling marks. Top slide doesn’t cock the gun so the rifled barrel is not able to fire and is also unable to raise the folding rear sight. Action is tight and the triggers are crisp. (CP) 1,500 - 2,500

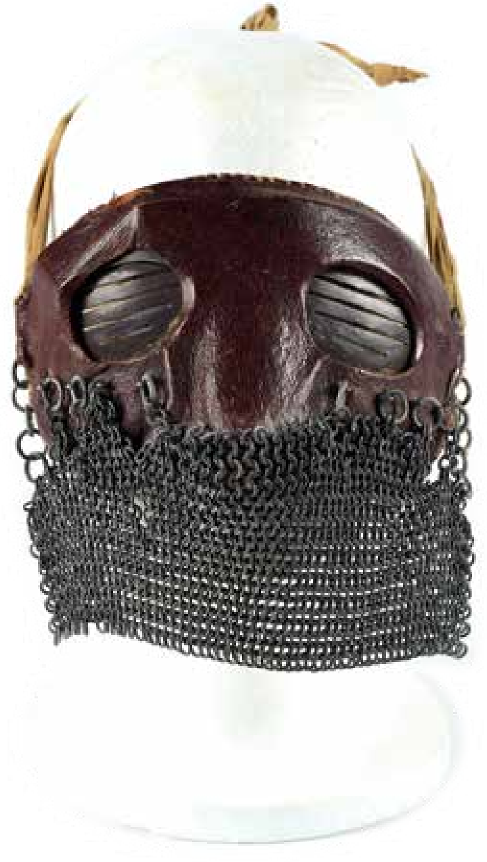
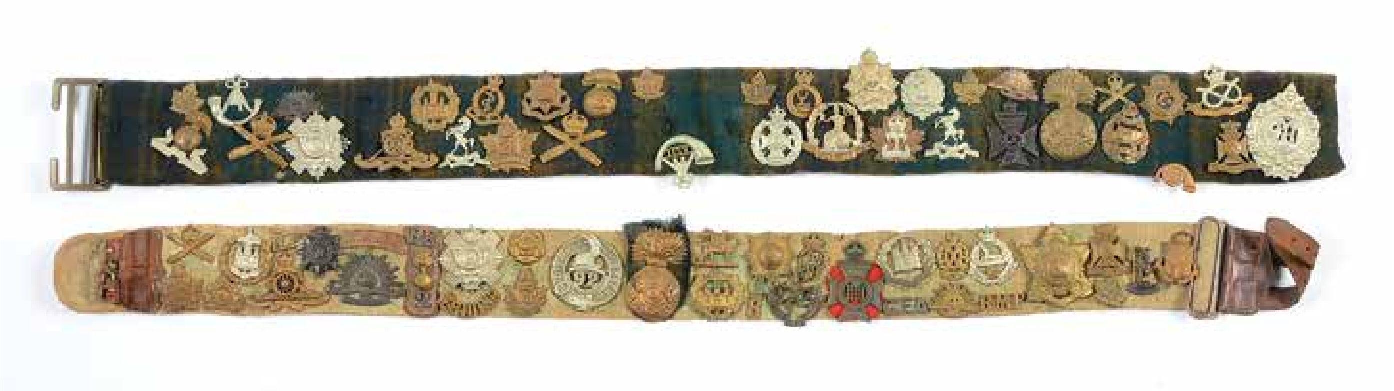
2305 - BRITISH WWI TANK CREWMAN SPLINTER SPLATTER MASK.
Excellent example of a British WWI tank crew splatter mask. Soon after the introduction of tanks in WWI, it was soon realized that the dangers were not exclusive to men outside of the armor. These early tanks were lightly armored and the crews were still vulnerable despite the armor plating that surrounded them. Worn in conjunction with the steel Brody helmets, these masks would protect tank crewmen in case a round penetrated the tank’s armor or caused a shockwave outside of the tank that would cause small pieces of fragmented metal and lead paint fragments flying around the inside of the tank, which could cause serious injury to the eyes and face. The mask features a metal eye covering that is covered with brown leather and padded on the reverse for the comfort of the crewman. There are metal eye apertures which feature pierced horizontal slits in order to prevent complete visibility. The lower section is constructed of chain mail in order to protect the mouth. Completing the mask is a cotton tie strap which could be used to secure the mask to the crewman’s face. CONDITION: The leather covering and padding both remain soft with wear evident on both sides. The eye apertures retain almost all of their original brown paint. Chain mail remains intact with 2 small holes where the chains have separated from each other. The cotton tie strap remains firm with no fraying or tears. These masks were produced in relatively small numbers and many have not survived or are incomplete. This is a great example of tank crewman gear from a time when armored warfare was in its infancy. Overall very good. JLD 1,000 - 2,000





2306 - LOT OF 2: ATTRAVTIVE WWI SOUVENIR BELTS.
Lot consists of: (A) Excellent example of a World War I souvenir belt. These belts have a mixed history, sometimes being referred to as “hate belts” and “grave digger belts” due to various ideas as to why the belts were created. Soldiers would often take various buttons, pins, and other insignia from soldiers they killed, captured, buried, or simply became acquainted with in order to keep mementos as a remembrance of the War. This example is constructed of thick wool which was most likely crafted from a Highlanders uniform kilt. The belt is very appealing and features a variety of insignia including the Machine Gun Corps, Royal Tank Corps, and various other badges from different Canadian and British regiments and corps. CONDITION: The wool remains intact and sturdy with no blemishes except for holes which represent badges that were removed. The badges present well with some exhibiting slight tarnishing. Overall very good. (B) Another excellent example of a WWI souvenir belt. Like the first example, this belt also exhibits a variety of badges from various British and Canadian regiments and corps also including the Machine Gun Corps. The insignia was assembled on a British stable belt that is marked “The Universal” on the leather. CONDITION: The belt exhibits fraying in some areas but remains quite presentable and sturdy. The badges present well with some exhibiting slight tarnishing. Overall very good. This is a very nice set of 2 attractive WWI souvenir belts. JLD 800 - 1,200

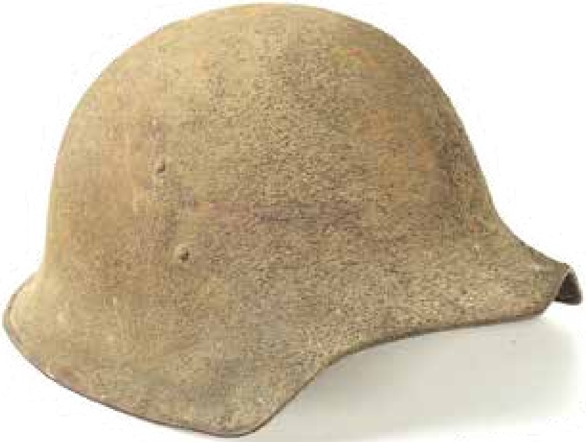
2307 - US WWI 1917 MODEL 2 EXPERIMENTAL HELMET.
Designed in June 1917 and based on the helmets of classical Greece and Italy in the 15th Century, the Model 2 helmet aimed to provide more protection to the sides and back of the head, unlike its British and French counterparts. The helmet was designed by Dr. Bashford Dean, curator of arms and armor at the Metropolitan Museum, and approximately 2,000 examples were produced by the Ford Motor Company towards the end of the Great War. The helmets were found to be comfortable for the wearer and provided satisfactory ballistic results, however, they were deemed too similar to the German Model 1916 helmet and were discarded. Despite its short service, some Model 2 helmets experienced limited field testing. This example is very nicely preserved and features a thick sawdust textured paint. The helmet is missing the 3 leather padded liner tabs but retains its original chinstrap. CONDITION: The helmet retains most of its original paint and exhibits scattered blemishes. The leather components of the sweatband remain supple. Chinstrap is clean with rust on the metal tacks. Overall very good. JLD 1,000 - 1,500



2308 - (C) WILKINSON WEBLEY REVOLVER.
Manufacturer: Wilkinson Webley
Model: Revolver
Serial No. 129549

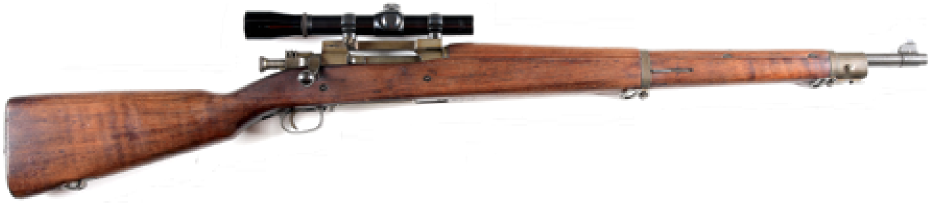
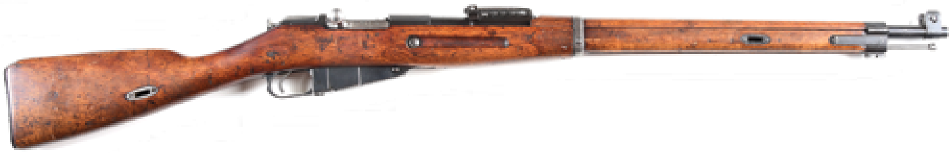
Manufacturer: Remington
Model: 1903A4
Serial No. 3421478
Caliber/Bore: .30-06
Barrel Length: 24”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



This rifle falls into the correct serial number range for a M1903A4 produced by Remington as per both Brophy and Campbell. Barrel with 2 groove rifling, marked “RA / (Flaming Bomb) / 8 - 43” with front sight blade. As the 1903A4 had the front sight sight removed, this is a period replacement. Scant stock with no finger grooves, faint crossed cannons cartouche and FJA in a lozenge on left side above trigger guard, and an “RIA / EB” proof on left side. Numerous proofs ahead of bottom metal including “1” “z” “5” in a triangle, “65” in a triangle, “69” in an oval, and what appears to be a “19” in a box. “R” proof and “G” in a circle behind trigger guard in wood. “R” proofs visible on bolt, firing pin assembly, safety, follower spring, trigger. Parkerized Refield scope mount with Lyman All-American 2 - 1/2x scope. Checkered buttplate with trap. CONDITION: Very good, with parkerization a grey-green hue with some brown oil staining. Some handling marks throughout, including some that have silvered, primarily to muzzle. Buttplate with even oxidation throughout. Stock is very good as rebuilt, lightly sanded and refinished, with softness to legends as a result. Left side near buttplate has a large patch of scattered woodfill. Some light handling marks throughout, including some dings and pressure marks. Mechanically fine, bore is very good with strong rifling. Scope somewhat hazy, may clean. EMW 2,500 - 3,500

2326 - (C) EXTREMELY INTERESTING RUSSIAN M91 MOSIN NAGANT CAPTURED BY THE GERMANS IN WWI & LATER CONVERTED TO A FINNISH M27 BOLT ACTION RIFLE.

Manufacturer: Tikka
Model: M27
Serial No. 21672
Caliber/Bore: 7.62x54R
Barrel Length: 27”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



Manufactured at the Izhevsk arsenal in 1901, this M91 was later captured and utilized by the Germans during World War I, afterwards being sold to Finland in the 1920s, and was subsequently converted by Tikka into an M27 rifle. Interior of barrel tang bears the Izhevsk arsenal bow and arrow over “1901”. The hex receiver bears a German “VII.58.” marking on the right flat, with a Russian Imperial Eagle proof over the chamber followed by additional German markings “1.K.173.” and “CTN DEUTSCH” on the left side, with German stampings likely indicating either the depot or Fremgerat (foreign equipment) code numbers. Barrel shank is stamped “D” (indicating conversion for the Finnish D166 cartridge) over the Tikka “T” within a triangle logo, above the serial number and “F/1928”. Finnish “SA” stamps are also present on the barrel shank. Right side of barrel bears a Century Arms International import mark. Features include a Konovalov rear sight, protected “eared” front sight, late M27 pattern 1-piece nose cap, as well as a spliced M91 pattern stock. CONDITION: Metal components retain bountiful amounts of their Finnish arsenal applied blue finish, exhibiting some wear overall, with some spots of pitting present beneath the finish, as well as some areas of light surface oxidation. Buttplate and rear barrel band exhibit a gray patina. Bore is bright, exhibiting moderate amounts of oxidation in the lands and retaining fair rifling throughout. Stock shows scattered handling marks overall, but is otherwise sturdy and serviceable. A very interesting and well traveled M27 rifle that was utilized by 3 different armies during the 20th century. The stiletto features a stainless dagger style blade with a stainless crossguard and grooved, black painted steel handle. The crossguard is marked “LE COMMANDO / INOX / MARQUE & MODELE DEPOSES / SUPER-NOGENT” CONDITION: The blade remains bright with scattered spotting. Handle exhibits light paint loss. Overall very good. JLD 400 - 600

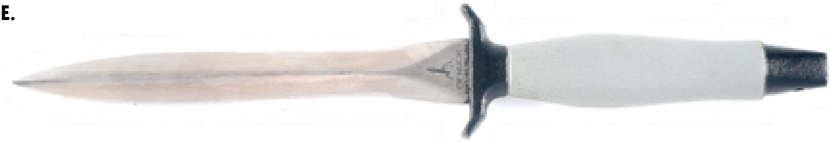
2372 - US VIETNAM WAR ERA GERBER MARK II FIGHTING KNIFE.
Blade Length: 6 - 3/4”
Overall Length: 11 - 3/4”



This is a great example of a complete Vietnam War Era fighting knife. The Gerber knife was one of the most coveted and sought after weapons by service members, as these knives were one of the best fighting knives used during the Vietnam War. Gerber knives were basically an updated version of the Fairbairn-Sikes fighting knife and were produced by the Gerber factory Each knife featured an aluminum cast handle which was desirable considering Vietnam’s climate. The thin stiletto stabbing type blade features a weighted front end that is razor sharp on the edges. The ricasso is marked with the Gerber knife in stone logo and “GERBER / Portland Ore. U.S.A.” The reverse ricasso is marked with the original issue number “10818”. CONDITION: The blade retains its bright polished finish and exhibits scattered scratches and blemishes. The cast aluminum handle retains most of its original paint with evidence of light handling wear. Overall excellent. JLD 400 - 800

2373 - RUSSIAN DP-28 DISPLAY LIGHT MACHINE GUN.

DP-28 display light machine gun assembled from surplus components on a dummy receiver. Bipod is dated “1940” and barrel bears a “1943” manufacture date. Russian arsenal stamps are visible on some exterior components. This example is accompanied by 3 magazines and a metal DP-28 magazine transit case. 2 magazines are “VKT” marked, with 1 bearing Russian cyrillic characters. All magazines bear a Finnish “SA” property stamp. CONDITION: Metal components retain large amounts of their reapplied finish, exhibiting varying degrees of wear overall. Lower assembly shows areas of silvering and some light patina. Barrel is plugged with a wood stopper and condition cannot be verified. Buttstock shows some scattered handling marks, but is otherwise sturdy and serviceable. MLW 1,000 - 2,000

2374 - BRITISH BREN MK I DISPLAY LIGHT MACHINE GUN.

Bren display light machine gun assembled from surplus parts and components on a dummy receiver. Right side of receiver is stamped “BREN MKI” followed by “IMA/1942”. External components show various British proofs and serial numbers with the barrel being stamped “MKI*”. Barrel’s breech has been shaved down and does not appear to be serviceable. Carry handle and bipod are present. CONDITION: Metal components retain the majority of their reapplied finish, exhibiting some wear overall as well as some spots of light oxidation. Bore is bright, exhibiting well defined rifling throughout. Wood furniture shows some scattered dings and handling marks, but is otherwise sturdy and serviceable. 1 clip on the sling strap is broken, but can be easily replaced. A nice example of a Bren Mk I light machine gun that would make for a nice display piece. MLW 1,000 - 2,000

2375 - US FLAG FLOWN OVER THE CAPITOL BUILDING ON JULY 4, 1976.
United States 50 star flag which was flown over the US Capitol building on July 4, 1976. The flag is constructed of thick cotton bunting and remains folded in its original box. The flag is accompanied by an envelope with a certificate which states the flag was flown over the Capitol building on July 4, 1976 for Mr. Robert C. Failing Jr. of St. Johnsonville, New York. The certificate is signed by George M. White, FAIA, Architect of the Capitol. CONDITION: The flag exhibits very light wear, as it was only flown once and most likely folded and stored in its box for the rest of its existence. The box exhibits scattered blemishes from handling and storage, bottom exhibits tears. Overall very good. PROVENANCE: John K. Lattimer Collection. JLD 200 - 400

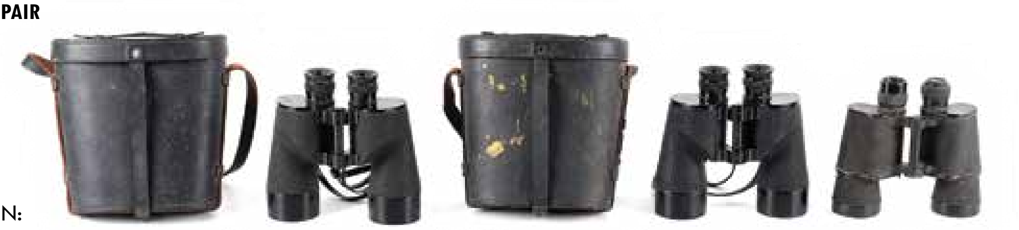
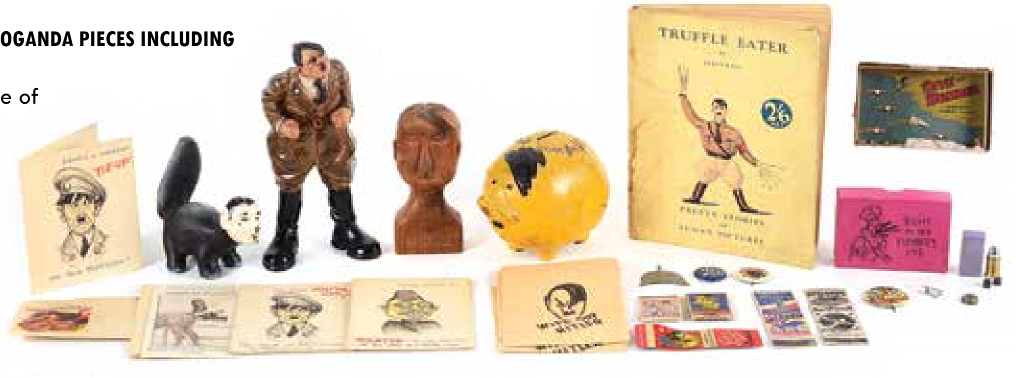
Lot consists of: (A) World War II USN Mark 27 7x50 binoculars by Bausch & Lomb dated 1942. The binoculars are housed in their original Bausch & Lomb marked leather case. CONDITION: Optics are clear with the exception of several blemishes that have contaminated the lenses between the glass. Focus adjustments function properly. Overall very good. (B) WWII USN Mark 27 7x50 binoculars by Bausch & Lomb dated 1942. The binoculars are housed in their original Bausch & Lomb marked leather case. CONDITION: Optics are clear with the exception of several blemishes that have contaminated the lenses between the glass as well as several scratches. Focus adjustments function properly. Case exhibits scuffs and wear. Overall good. (C) WWII Imperial Japanese 7x50mm 7.1 Binoculars. The binoculars are marked “YASHIMA / TOKYO / No. 1907” CONDITION: Optics are clouded and the glass is heavily tarnished. Focus adjustments are loose. Overall fair. (D) 1941 dated Bell & Howell Co. M5A1 Telescope. CONDITION: Optics remain clear, rubber is soft, paint loss is evident. Overall good. JLD 400 - 600



2377 - LOT OF 6: US WWII HOMEFRONT PROPOGANDA PIECES INCLUDING HITLER CARICATURES.
Lot consists of: (A) Piggy bank caricature of Adolf Hitler constructed of wood and composite material, painted yellow with black eyes, hair, and mustache. Impressed inscription near the coin slot that reads: ‘Save for victory make him squeal.’ Although it does not survive with this example, these banks would have had a small device placed inside that would make a squealing sound every time a coin was inserted. The cardboard stopper at bottom is not present. The bank exhibits several cracks and paint loss throughout its construction, in some areas revealing the wood. (B) Hand-painted porcelain caricature of Hitler marked “Made in Portugal” on the bottom of the foot along with maker marking. Most likely post-war, with scattered blemishes throughout. (C) Painted cast iron skunk caricature of Hitler which exhibits areas of paint loss and chips. Illegible marking on tail. (D) Wood caricature of Hitler’s head with chips and other blemishes. (E) “Truffle Eater” by Oistros which contains poems and amusing illustrations regarding the Third Reich. (F) Small box of various home front pieces including cards, matchbooks, and other pieces which were made to poke fun at the axis powers. Most paper pieces exhibit discoloration and blemishes typical of old paper. Overall fair to very good. JLD 400 - 800

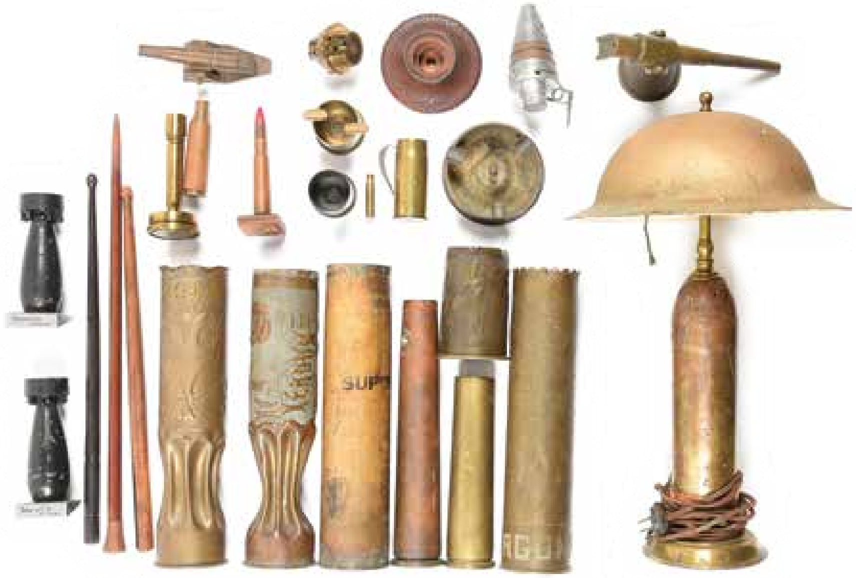


2378 - 1933 POPULAR SCIENCE MODEL OF THE USS TEXAS WITH BLUEPRINTS.

1933 3' long model of the USS Texas which was produced by the magazine "Popular Science" which could be ordered and assembled by readers. The model is mostly constructed of wood with various metal accessories and wires. The model is nicely detailed for a magazine order model, as the ship features rotating guns and turrets, flags, functioning rudder, search lights, and even life rings. The model is secured to a wood mount and is complete with the original "Sheet No. 2" blueprint which provides instructions on how to assemble the ship. CONDITION: The model remains sturdy but exhibits scattered blemishes to the paint. Several of the metal wires have broken as well as some of the wood beams. The model appears to be relatively complete and would make a nice display. There is a layer of dust on the deck, and the model could be made presentable after a thorough cleaning. The blueprints exhibit several rips and have torn into 2 pieces with a rip down the center. Overall good. JLD This is not a standard shippable item and will require 3rd party shipping or pickup arrangements to be made. 400 - 800

2379 - LARGE LOT OF US WWI AND WWII TRENCH ART AND SHELL CASINGS.

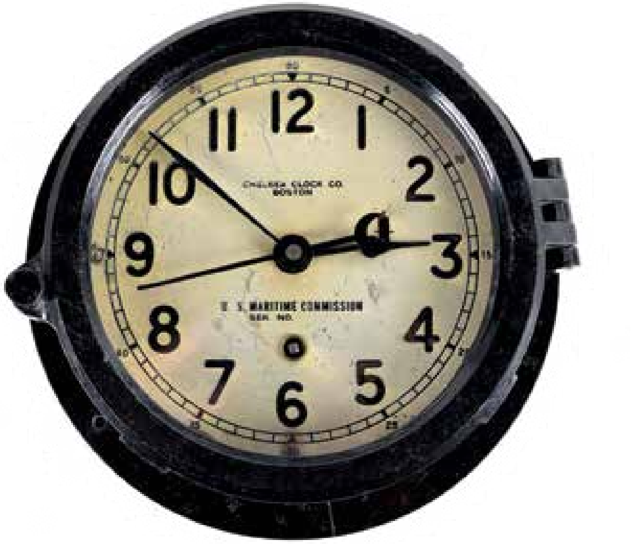
Lot consists of various pieces of WWI and WWII shell casings and pieces of trench art. There are three wonderfully decorated WWI shell casings which were turned into decorative vases. 1 shell reads "Good Luck and God Bless" with large letters "ARGONNE" decorating the bottom. There are also several shell casings which have been made into decorative ashtrays, several plain empty shell casings which were made into small artillery pieces, a pair of bookends which read "Souvenir of Germany" several blank shell casings, and a lamp which was made out of an artillery shell and a WWI brodie helmet. Also included are 2 wood carved drum sticks a swagger stick, and 2 fuzes. CONDITION: Most of the trench art pieces exhibit a pleasant patina. Many pieces exhibit scattered blemishes and scratches. Overall fair to very good. JLD 500 - 1,000



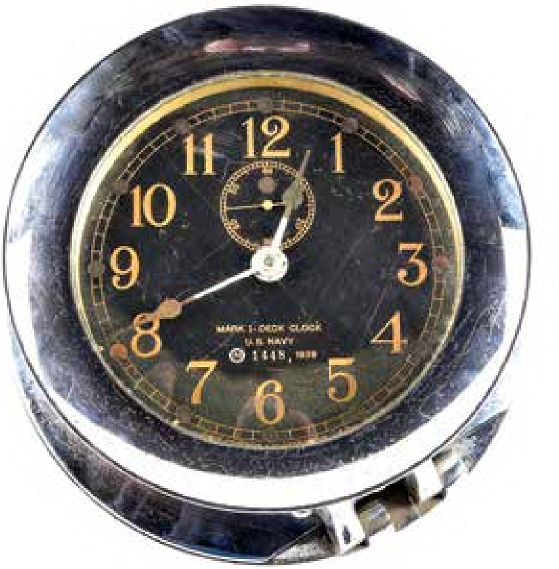
2380 - VIETNAM WAR ERA CHELSEA SHIP'S CLOCK.

Nice example of a World War II era Chelsea Clock Co. ship's clock which was meant to be mounted on the wall of deck and engine rooms. The case is constructed of black phenolic resin and features a hinged bezel that is secured with a knurled screw knob fastener. The face is black which contrasts the white numerals, white enamel spade hands, and sweep second hand. The face is marked "Chelsea Clock Co. / Boston" and "U.S. Government / Ser. No.". A brass specification label was fastened to the reverse of the case which reveals a manufacturer date of 1963 along with other stock and contract numbers. The clock is missing its key and the second hand does not turn when influenced. CONDITION: The phenolic resin case is nicely preserved and does not exhibit any major cracks. The glass exhibits some scattered blemishes but is otherwise clean. Face exhibits scattered scratches. Overall very good. JLD 400 - 800

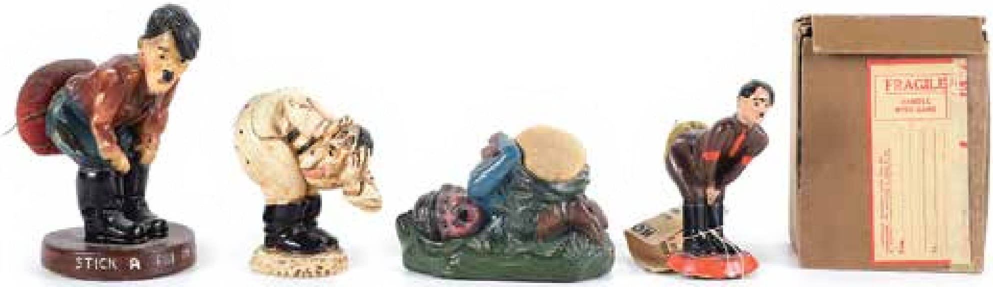
2381 - US WWII ERA CHELSEA TYPE B MODEL 12E SHIP'S CLOCK.
Nice example of a World War II era Chelsea Type B Model 12E clock which was meant to be mounted on the wall of deck and engine rooms. The clock was made to the U.S. government's specifications for the U.S. Maritime Commission leading up to and during the World War II era. The case is constructed of black phenolic resin and features a hinged bezel that is secured with a knurled screw knob fastener. The dial is treated with a silver finish that contrasts with the black numerals and the black enamel hands. The face is marked "Chelsea Clock Co. / Boston" and "U.S. Maritime Commission / Ser. No.". The clock is missing its key, but when the second hand is moved, it ticks smoothly around the clock. CONDITION: The phenolic resin case is nicely preserved and does not exhibit any major cracks. The glass exhibits some scattered blemishes but is otherwise clean. Face exhibits scattered scratches. Overall very good. JLD 400 - 800



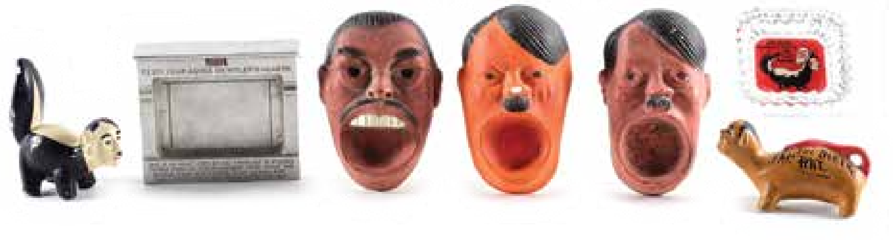
2382 - US WWII US NAVY SETH THOMAS MARK I DECK CLOCK.
Nice example of a World War II era Seth Thomas Mark I Deck Clock which was meant to be mounted on the wall of decks and engine rooms. The case is made of nickel plated brass and features a hinged bezel that is secured with a knurled screw fastener. The face is black and contrasts the orange/yellow numerals and the white painted brass hands. The face is marked "Mark-I Deck Clock / U.S. Navy / N 1448, 1939" and "Made By Seth Thomas In U.S.A." on the bottom. Once the case is opened, the back can be unscrewed which reveals the inner workings of the clock. The key is missing but was wound by hand and functions properly. CONDITION: The nickel plated case exhibits scattered scratches and blemishes. The glass exhibits scattered scratches and blemishes but is otherwise clean. Face exhibits scattered blemishes and the hands are missing some of the white paint with obvious cracking. Overall very good. JLD 400 - 800



2383 - LOT OF 4: US WWII HOMEFRONT HITLER PINCUSHIONS.
Lot consists of: (A) World War II Mason Co. plaster hand painted Hitler pincushion. This example is more detailed than the commonly seen "Hotzi Notzi" pincushion. The text "Stick A Pin In The Axis" is incised on the front of base. Original felt covering on bottom. CONDITION: The pincushion has faded and there are scattered areas of paint loss. Overall very good. (B) Unmarked white plaster Hitler pincushion. CONDITION: Areas of finish loss where plaster is revealed, especially on the base. Overall good. (C) WWI era hand painted plaster figurine of a hog-tied Imperial German solider with a pincushion on his rear singed A. De Ranferi on the base. Original felt covering on bottom. CONDITION: Areas of paint loss, with scattered blemishes. Overall very good. (D) Very nice example of a "Hotzi Notzi" Hitler pincushion contained in its original box. The pincushion retains its original tag which is tied around the feet. Original pins remain in cushion. CONDITION: Original paint is very well preserved. Box lid has separated, paper stuffed wrapping has disintegrated on the interior. Overall excellent. JLD 500 - 1,000



2384 - LOT OF 7: US WWII HOMEFRONT AXIS POWER CARICATURES AND ASHTRAYS.



Lot consists of: (A) World War II US metal ashtray which is a replica of Adolf Hitler's fireplace in the great room at the Berghof. Engraved at top is the legend: "FLICK YOUR ASHES ON HITLER'S HEARTH" with the addition at bottom: "This is an exact copy of the fireplace in Hitler's former home at Berchtesgaden from which the marble piece inset above is an actual part taken from there one month after V-E Day". At top is inset an unevenly cut piece of red-brown marble. CONDITION: Scattered blemishes. Overall very good. (B) Bassons Dummy Products "The Jack-Axis" plaster ashtray caricature of Hitler. Original label on reverse. CONDITION: Scattered wear. Overall good. (C) Bassons Dummy Products "The Jack-Axis" plaster ashtray caricature of Hideki Tojo. Original label on reverse. 2385 - US WWI ERA US NAVY CHELSEA DECK CLOCK NO. 2 WITH STAND AND KEY.

World War I US Navy Chelsea No. 2 ship's deck clock. The clock was manufactured by Chelsea Clock Co. of Boston, Massachusetts, and is marked as such on the face, as well as "U.S. NAVY / DECK CLOCK No 2 / NO, 6210". This example is housed in a brass case with a glass cover which is also marked "CHELSEA / CLOCK CO." and numbered "129857" on the reverse. The clock features an F-S adjuster to quickly fine tune the speed at which the clock is running and is complete with its original key marked "Chelsea" in script writing. Highlighting the face are silver numerals and silver painted hands which nicely contrast the face. The clock is mounted on a custom wood stand. CONDITION: The brass housing exhibits a pleasing mustard patina with scattered blemishes. The face exhibits scattered scratches and the paint has chipped off several areas on the hands revealing their mustard color. The glass exhibits light blemishes. When wound the clock functions properly. Overall good. JLD 400 - 800

Lot consists of: (A) Small photo and document grouping of Adolph Rahner, a German immigrant who served in M Troop 5th Cavalry from 1885-1980. The grouping consists of Rahner's discharge documents, 2 cabinet cards of Rahner in uniform, and miscellaneous documents including prayer cards and a 1939 card from the World's Fair. (B) Small ephemera lot of WWI Divisional Insignia cards with Wagoneer patch and foreign currency. Small Red Ball Express ephemera grouping from a soldier in the 3882 QM Truck Company. The group includes a coin purse with foreign currency, postcards, loose pages about the Red Ball express from Life Magazine, pocket guide books, and two envelopes named to "Col. GR Severns" that contain numbered German collector cards. (C) Small photo group of Thomas H. Owens. Co. H 331 Infantry. The photos include US soldiers posing on wrecked German aircraft including BF-109s, JU-52s, and FW-190s. There are also photos of the soldiers at home and in various landscapes. (D) Small WWII German Luftwaffe photo group which includes postcards, a Reise-Pass, visor hat insignia, and photos of Luftwaffe personnel guarding civilians. There is also a ripped card that is marked in pen on the reverse "FOUND IN GOERING'S VILLA BERLIN". (E) Large WWI photo grouping of Captain Paul H. Plough, who was a Silver Star Recipient in the 3rd Division during WWI. The group contains a large amount of photos, most were mass-produced, but there are some of men in 3rd Division uniforms which may have been taken by Plough. His 1920 dated Silver Star Citation is also included. (F) Small photo grouping of 2 brothers, James H. Saraceni and Hugo Saraseni. One of their names may be misspelled. The group has James' dog tags and Hugo's business card. There are photos with great content, including soldiers posing on knocked-out German tanks, soldiers in the countryside, with vehicles, a buzz bomb, C-47s, and at home. Many of the photos are wonderfully labeled on the reverse. There are various patches visible in the photos including 9th Air Force, AA, 5th Army, as well as various rank insignia. (G) Lastly there are a few miscellaneous service documents from soldiers who served in the early 1900s. CONDITION: All photos and ephemera exhibit blemishes that are typical of old paper. Many photos are rolled and will need to be flattened. Overall fair to very good. JLD 500 - 1,000

2387 - US KOREAN WAR F-86 SABRE PILOT UNIFORM AND B-15C FLIGHT JACKET GROUPING.

Robert A. Blosser was born on February 10, 1921 and resided in Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania. According to documents, at the outbreak of WWII, Blosser filed for the draft and enlisted on September 27, 1943. Records regarding Blosser's service during WWII are spotty as there is a gap until he was discharged from the service at Randolph Field, Texas on December 16, 1945. He is mentioned to have served as a fighter pilot in WWII and a small P-38 sweetheart pin that was passed down with his possessions may hint that he was a P-38 pilot. Blosser reenlisted in the Air Force on May 2, 1952 in order to serve his country during the Korean War. It was during this conflict that Blosser also served as a fighter pilot behind the controls of the swept wing, transonic F-86 Sabre. The F-86 was a revolutionary fighter during its time, as it was the United States' first swept-wing fighter that could match its counterpart, the Soviet MiG-15 in dogfights in the war-torn skies over Korea. He was released from service on November 30, 1957. Blosser's obituary lists him as a career officer with the U.S. Air Force with 20 years of service. He passed away in Sumter, South Carolina on July 13, 2008. Blosser's grouping is small but includes his desirable medium azure B-15C flight jacket. The jacket, with its signature slant pockets and fur collar, retains its original spec tag. Although the tag is worn, the size marking "38" is still legible as is the manufacturer "Pritzker & Sons". The jacket exhibits scattered staining but remains supple with 1 small area of fur loss on the collar and sturdy waistband and cuffs. There is fraying to the bottom of the right cuff. The crown zipper functions properly and zips and unzips smoothly. There is 1 Major oak leaf on the left shoulder and ghosting of pins on the right shoulder. The group also includes Blosser's US Air Force Dress tan uniform tunic complete with all insignia and US Air Force Buttons. The fruit salad features his pinback pilot wings, with various campaign and service ribbons and a Silver Star with 3 oak leaf clusters and Purple Heart. There is also clutchback US insignia on the collar and clutchback Major oak leaves on each shoulder. His WWII period dog tags are secured to the left epaulette. The group also includes various smalls from Blosser's career including his hat badge, zippo lighter, cloth and metal wings, and his concealed weapons permit from his civilian life. Interestingly, his WWII-era sterling marked wings are engraved "Love Ann" on the reverse and was most likely a symbol of affection from his sweetheart, as he most likely wore the wings over his heart on his WWII uniform. This is a very nice grouping that deserves further research. CONDITION: Clothing articles are in very good condition with the flight jacket exhibiting stains as mentioned. Dress tunic is excellent. Various smalls range from fair-very good. JLD 1,000 - 2,000

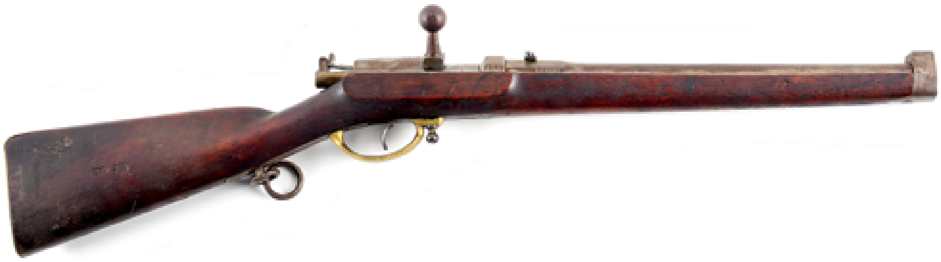
Manufacturer: Herzberg
Model: 57
Serial No. 4346
Caliber/Bore: 15.4mm
Barrel Length: 15”
FFL Status: Antique



Model 57 needle gun (Zundnadelgewehr) cavalry carbine manufactured at the Adolph Krause factory in Herzberg, Saxony in 1870. Left side of receiver is stamped “Herzberg/ Mod: 57.”, with the right side being stamped “1870”, indicating the year of manufacture. Top of barrel is stamped “Stahl” with a crown/FW stamp for Kaiser Wilhelm I. Right side of receiver and barrel bear Prussian arsenal proofs, with small arsenal proofs found on most external components in the usual Prussian manner. Right side of buttstock bears 2 large crown proofs, with additional proofs present on the bottom. Needle firing pin is intact and sling suspension rings are present. All visible external numbers are matching. No unit markings are present. CONDITION: Metal components retain a mottled grey and brown patina overall, exhibiting some small scattered areas of cleaned oxidation overall. Arsenal stamps and proofs are sharp and legible. Brass components retain a pleasing mustard patina. Bore is very bright, exhibiting a layer of what appears to be old grease and retaining well-defined 4-groove rifling throughout. Stock shows some signs of shrinkage and exhibits scattered handling marks and impressions overall but is otherwise sturdy and serviceable. A nice example of a very scarce and early Dreyse needle gun carbine. MLW & WEZ 3,000 - 4,000

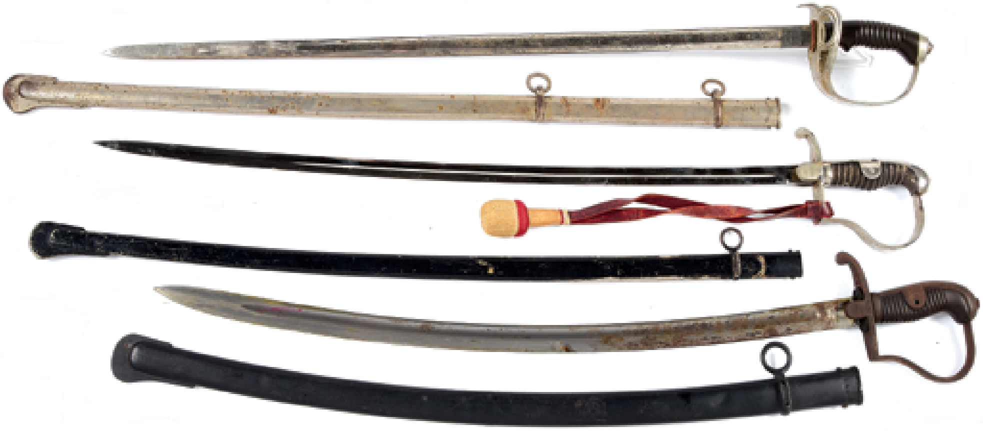
Bores have some light frosting, with good rifling retained. Mechanically fine. JWA 700 - 1,000



3008 - LOT OF 3: IMPERIAL GERMAN SWORDS.
Blade Length: (A) 30 - 1/2” (B) 31” (C) 29 - 1/2”
Overall Length: (A) 36” (B) 36 - 1/4” (C) 35”

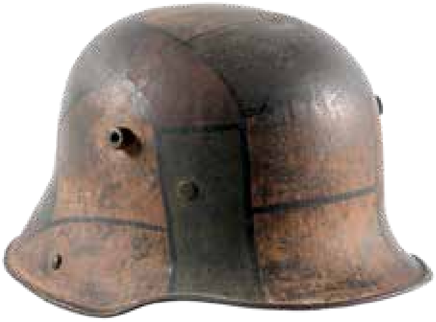
Lot contains: (A) Imperial German Wurttemberg M1889 cavalry sword with a triple-etched “J. Junemann, Stuttgart” marked nickel-plated sharpened blade retaining approximately 90% of its plating, with scattered marks and freckling. Dragoon unit marked on one panel (Drag. Reg. Konig (2. Wurtt) Nr. 26) with a floral pattern with military equipment on the reverse panel. Nickel-plated brass fittings retain 95-90% of their finish with dullness, freckling, and scattered marks. Brown grip has light wear. Nickel-plated dual-ring steel scabbard retains 75-80% of the finish with freckling and scattered marks. Scabbard is unit marked to a different unit (10.A.r.2.41). CONDITION: Overall very good. (B) Imperial German “dove head” sword with an unmarked nickel-plated blade with light scattered marks, dull nickel-plated fittings at 85-90% with patina and freckling. Sharkskin grip has moderate wear, with a unit level portepee attached with moderate wear. Steel scabbard retains 70-75% of its black painted finish with a 10 degree bend 10” from the tip, with scattered marks. CONDITION: Overall very good. (C) Imperial German WWI “Blucher” sword with a “1915” dated blade with heavy freckling to include the fittings, with light damage to the grip, and a missing grip screw. Blued steel scabbard is unit marked (58. E. A. 2. 246.) and retains 85-90% of its repainted black finish, with freckling and several light dents. CONDITION: Overall good. WEZ 600 - 900

3009 - GERMAN WWI U-BOAT TORPEDO TIMER STOP WATCH.
Nice example of a World War I German naval stop watch. The watch is in the classic design of naval stop watches which were used by the German navy on U-Boats and E-Boats in the North Atlantic during both World Wars. The fluted knob on the top controls all of the watch's functions. The first push activates the single second hand, the second push freezes the hand at the time elapsed position, and the third push resets the hand to zero. The watch is marked on the reverse "(Crown) / M / 1047 / 1918" and numbered "3077210" on both interior pieces. The mechanism is marked "FA (Arrow) SR" and "Patent (Cross) 86533". These markings do not refer to the maker of the movement and are typically found on watches manufactured in Switzerland for export. The "S" stands for "Slow", "F" for "Fast", "R" for "Retard" (French for "delay"), and "A" stands for the French word "Avance" (advance). A glass covering protects the face. CONDITION: The watch exhibits several scratches on the glass face and on the reverse. The watch functions properly and presents well. Overall very good. JLD 300 - 500

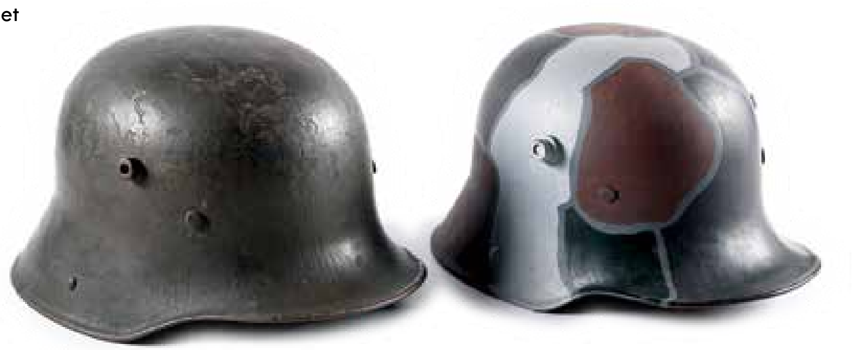
3010 - GERMAN WWI HEBEL MODEL 1894 FLARE GUN WITH LEATHER FLARE POUCH.
Manufacturer: Hebel
Serial No. 1836
Caliber/Bore: 26.5mm
Barrel Length: 9"

Lot contains: (A) German World War I Hebel M1894 flare gun marked "CHR.F.", other Imperial proofs, with a serial number of "1836". Many parts have the serial number (2 or 4 digits) and are matching. Steel frame, barrel, etc, retain 45-50% of their blued finish, with light to moderate freckling and staining. Walnut grips have light wear. Some screws have been damaged from using an improper screw driver. Flare gun functions properly. CONDITION: Overall fair to good. (B) German pre-WWII black leather 26.5mm flare pistol cartridge pouch marked "Lederwarrenwerk, Curt Vogel, Cottbus", with an early pre-1940 "eagle WaA94". Pouch is designed to hold 18 cartridges, has 2 loops with freckling to attach the strap to, and has 2 belt loops. Pouch has light wear, scuffing, and closure straps are supple. CONDITION: Overall excellent. WEZ 600 - 900

3011 - GERMAN WWI M1916 CAMOUFLAGE HELMET.
Fine example of a World War I Imperial German camouflage helmet. The helmet is marked with a clear "T" stamp that appears to be followed by a very faint "J" which would indicate manufacture by Thiel & Sohne-Lubeckis and is also named to several soldiers on the back of the interior rim. One name appears to be "Krieger" while the other is mostly illegible. The initials "I.K." are marked in ink on the leather retaining band. The helmet is beautifully painted and features shades of green, red-brown, and yellow in a patch pattern with the colors being separated by pattern thin black stripes which are thinner than Ludendorff's "finger wide" specifications. The shell retains both of the extended ventilation lugs which are the correct short version for the M16 helmet. The helmet also retains both of the domed chinstrap retaining rivets which hold the interior chin strap lugs in place. Only 2 of the liner split pins remain in place including the correct thicker rear pin. The pin on the front right is missing. The pins retain their original camouflage paint which matches the paint of the panels they are secured to. The interior of the helmet contains the correct 3-pad all leather liner with leather retaining band which remains intact. 3 of the 6 liner string adjustment tabs are intact, while the other 3 exhibit tears. The chinstrap is present but is worn. CONDITION: The helmet retains most of its original period camouflage. There are scattered areas of paint loss that reveal the original green paint and light areas of surface rust. The camouflage remains attractive but has faded in some areas. The liner remains intact, but the leather is a bit stiff with areas of cracking and creasing. This is a quality example of a desirable German WWI camouflaged helmet. JLD 800 - 1,200

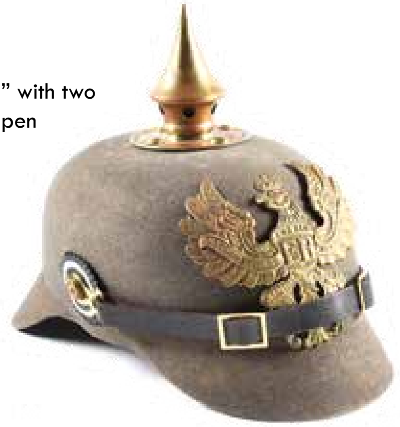


3012 - LOT OF 2: GERMAN WWI M1916 HELMETS.

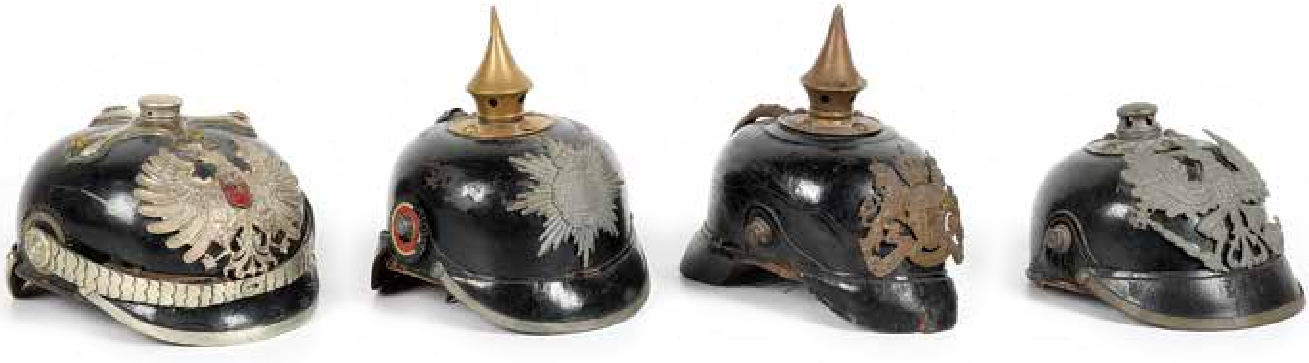


Lot contains: (A) German World War I Model 1916 helmet marked “ET66” for “Eisenhuttenwerk Thale” in a shell size of “66”. Exterior retains 65-70% of its original gray-finish with freckling, etc. Interior retains 75-80% of its gray-green finish with freckling, dust, etc. On the inner skirt is scratched an illegible German name and what appears to be “1916-1917”. An M1916 leather liner assembly is present with all 3 pads, filler, drawstring, and band. Leather exhibits moderate staining, dryness, and is intact. Both M1891 chinstrap mounting posts are present. The rear liner mounting rivet is a postwar replacement. CONDITION: Overall very good. (B) German World War I postwar camouflage Model 1916 helmet marked “SE62” for “Sachsische Emailler” in a shell size of “62”. Exterior retains 90+% of a postwar-applied camouflage paint scheme. Interior retains 60-65% of its gray-green finish with postwar-applied spray red brown camouflage paint over the remainder. An M1916 leather liner assembly is present with heavy damage to the pads, leather band is present, no filler but the bags are present, and the drawstring is missing. All 3 of the liner rivets are present, as well as both M1891 chinstrap mounting posts. CONDITION: Overall good. WEZ 600 - 900

3013 - IMPERIAL GERMAN WWI M1915 PRUSSIAN FELT PICKELHAUBE.



Imperial German World War I M1915 Prussian felt Pickelhaube (Filzhelme) dated “1916” with two other illegible markings in black ink. Green felt body has light stains and is slightly misshapen (could be reformed). Brass front plate (retained by 2 leather pieces) and spike assembly (attached with 4 untouched rivets) retain less than 30% of their gilt finish and are original to the helmet. Chinstrap with brass fittings exhibit only light wear, and the M1891 attachment lugs are intact. Prussian and national color cockades are original and only present light wear. Black leather liner has damage on all 9 tongues, and drawstring is present. Liner has a 2 inch section which has separated from the right side body. CONDITION: Overall very good to excellent. WEZ 600 - 900



3014 - LOT OF 4: IMPERIAL GERMAN PICKELHAUBES

Lot contains: (A) Pre-1900 Imperial German officer Pickelhaube which appears to have been worn by a government (perhaps Lower Saxony) official. Black leather body has moderate crazing, and officer quality leather and satin liner has moderate wear and damage. Brass trim has sliver electro plating with moderate wear, and spike is missing. Only a Prussian officer cockade is present. CONDITION: Overall very good. (B) Imperial German World War I Saxon enlisted Pickelhaube. Black leather body has moderate wear and crazing, front visor has a 2” piece missing, and brown leather liner has moderate wear and damage. Brass spike and top plate are replacements, Hessian front plate and trim are the M1915 gray ones, and chinstrap is missing. Both the Saxon and national cockades are present. CONDITION: Overall very good. (C) Pre-1900 Imperial German Bavarian enlisted Pickelhaube. Black leather body has heavy damage and wear, and black leather liner, while intact, is dry with moderate wear. A cloth name tag is sewn to the liner. Brass trim exhibits heavy patina with none of the gilt remaining. CONDITION: Overall fair. (D) Imperial German World War M1915 Prussian enlisted Pickelhaube. Black leather body has moderate crazing and damage, rear visor is missing, and enlisted brown leather liner has moderate damage. Wartime gray finish metal trim is present on Prussian front plate, top plate and front rim, etc. CONDITION: Overall good. WEZ 700 - 1,000

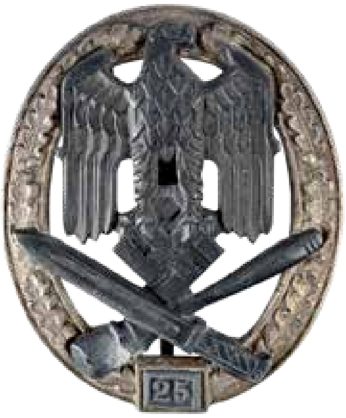
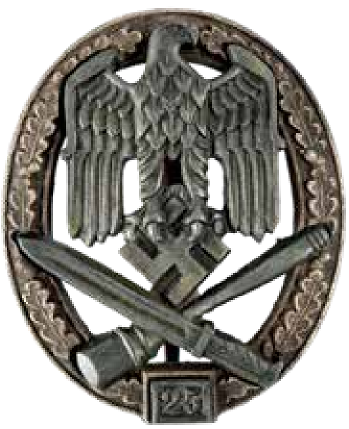
3068 - GERMAN WWII 25 ENGAGEMENT GENERAL ASSAULT BADGE.
A German World War II 25 Engagement General Assault badge by the maker "JFS". The badge is constructed of 2 separate zinc based pieces: the eagle, and the wreath. The eagle retains most of its original grey finish with remnants of the protective lacquer. The badge's wreath retains most of its original silver wash. A heavy patina can be seen on the obverse of the badge. The "25" number box in the correct style for this manufacturer, and was, originally, attached to the badge by solder. 4 aluminum rivets can be seen on the reverse of the badge which hold the eagle firmly to the wreath. The rivets are textbook for the maker. The hinge and catch are correctly crimped in place, and the catch does have the "anti-rotation" device in the crimps recess. However the pin and catch are non-magnetic; as they should be magnetic they could possibly be replaced. The maker mark of "JFS" can be seen on the badges reverse 3 o'clock position. CONDITION: Very good. DMW 1,500 - 1,800



3069 - GERMAN WWII 25 ENGAGEMENT GENERAL ASSAULT BADGE.
A German World War II 25 Engagement General Assault badge by the maker Rudolf Karneth. The badge is constructed of 2 separate zinc based pieces: the eagle and the wreath. The eagle retains some of its original dark finish with remnants of the protective lacquer in the recesses. The badges wreath has lost most of its original silver wash over time, which is expected to see with many zinc based badges. A heavy patina can be seen on the obverse of the badge. The "25" number box in the correct style for this manufacturer, and was, originally, attached to the badge by solder. 4 zinc rivets can be seen on the reverse of the badge which hold the eagle firmly to the wreath. The rivets are textbook for the maker. The hinge and catch are correctly crimped in place, and the catch has the "anti-rotation" device in the crimps recess. The correct magnetic pin is still attached to the hinge, and functions properly. The maker mark of "RK" can be seen on the badges reverse 3 o'clock position. CONDITION: Very good. DMW 1,800 - 2,000



3070 - GERMAN WWII 50 ENGAGEMENTS PANZER ASSAULT BADGE.
A German World War II Panzer Assault Badge in Bronze by the maker "Gustav Brehmer". The badge is made of a zinc based 2 piece construction which is held together by 2 hollow style rivets on the reverse. The obverse of the badge retains most of its original bronze brennlack finish throughout. Some zinc pest in areas. The reverse of the badge features the 2 main securing hollow rivets, Brehmer style hinge, pin, and catch on square solder plate. A maker mark of "G.B." can be seen on the left hand reverse of the tank. CONDITION: Excellent. DMW 2,000 - 2,400

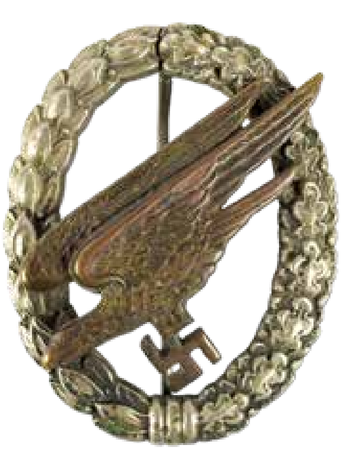
3077 - GERMAN WWII FALLSCHIRMJAEGER BADGE.
A German World War II Paratrooper Badge produced by the manufacturer JMME. The badge is made of 2 separate pieces, a nickel silver wreath, and a brass based diving eagle. The eagle retains none of its original fire gilding, and the wreath is also void of any of its original silver plating. The entire badge has been heavily cleaned at some point, leaving the retaining rivets on the reverse appearing soft and worn down. It should be noted that JMME did not follow the same pattern for their badges as the other manufacturers. JMME produced their Luftwaffe Paratrooper badges with silver wreaths instead of the regulation darkened wreath. The reverse of the badge is maker marked for JMME in the center of the eagle. The original hinge and pin are still originally attached to the badge, however the catch has been replaced with a clasp style device. CONDITION: Good. DMW 700 - 900



3078 - LOT OF 14: MISCELLANEOUS GERMAN WWII MEDALS AND COINS.

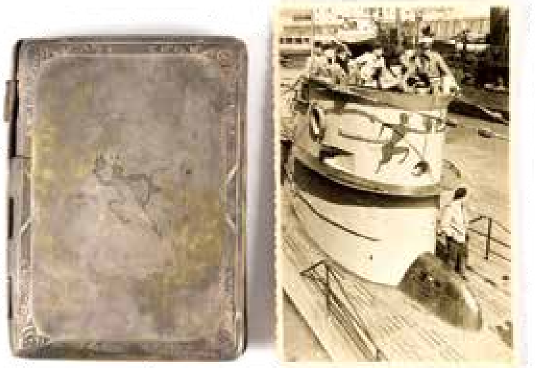
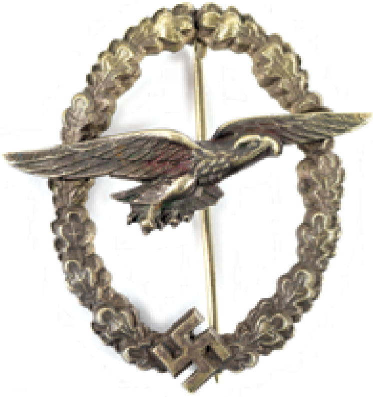
Lot consists of: (A) German U-Boat cigarette case with engraved Red Devil on the top lid of the case, as well as "Kriegsmarine", and "U-Flotille". The case is with heavy wear and patina throughout. The case's top 2 hinges have become detached from the main hinge assembly, however the lower 4 remain intact holding the 2 halves of the case together. The wear on the case has warped it in a way where the 2 halves do not fully close tightly, leaving a gap approximately 1/4" to 1/2". The inside of the case has an engraving of "Obermechaniker Carl Schlag, 12 Oktober 1943", and appears to have been applied using an electro-pencil. A small, half scratched out, stamp on the lower edge of the inside case lid reads "ALPA", the scratch could be over the remaining letters and most likely reads "ALPAKA", a common German metal used in place of silver during wartime. The "Red Devil" emblem was made most famous by U-Boat Commander Erich Topp, who commanded U-551, amongst several others. CONDITION: Fair. (B) An original German World War II photograph of German U-boat with Red Devil emblem on the ships tower, and crew in port. CONDITION: Excellent. DMW 600 - 800



3083 - GERMAN WWII LUFTWAFFE GLIDER PILOT BADGE

German World War II Luftwaffe Glider Pilot Badge produced by the manufacturer "BSW". The badge is made of nickel silver, with most of the silver electroplating on the wreath and dark burnishing on the eagle having worn down over time. The badge is made of 2 piece construction being held together by 2 brass rivets on the reverse. Small cracks can be seen on the wreath's reverse side next to the rivets from the pressure created when they were crimped in place. These cracks are common to see on these Glider Pilots produced by BSW. The hinge, pin, and catch are intact and function, however the catch has been bent backwards. The badge is unmarked. CONDITION: Excellent. DMW 1,800 - 2,400



3084 - GERMAN WWII 25 ENGAGEMENT PANZER ASSAULT BADGE.

A German World War II Panzer Assault Badge in bronze by the maker Gustav Brehmer. The badge is made of a zinc based 2 piece construction which is held together by 2 hollow styles rivets on the reverse. The obverse of the badge retains approximately 75% of its original bronze brennlack finish throughout with some light zinc pest in areas. The reverse of the badge features the 2 main securing hollow rivets, Brehmer style hinge, pin, and catch on square solder plate. A maker mark of "G.B." can be seen on the left hand reverse of the tank. CONDITION: Excellent. DMW 1,800 - 2,200

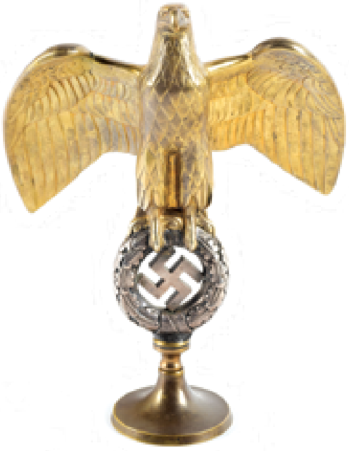
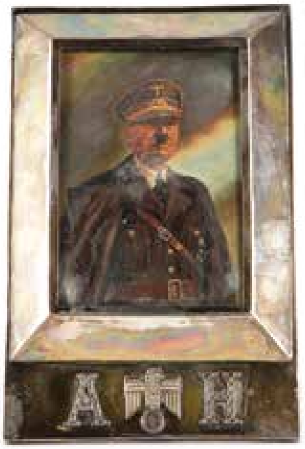
3093 - THIRD REICH SS/NSKK REITER POLE TOPPER

Third Reich SS/NSKK Reiter pole topper. This SS/NSKK pole topper was designed in 1935 by the very famous silversmith in Munich, Otto Gahr. The firm of Otto Gahr also produced many other famous pole toppers for the various organizations of the Third Reich, most notably the NSDAP Deutschland Erwache Standarte Topper. Otto Gahr also produced the famous SS Honor Ring, as he was the Nazi party's most favored silversmith. This SS/NSKK Topper is affixed to a post-War produced base, and stands approximately 9-1/2" high with an 8" wingspan. Originally, this piece would have the had been mounted so the eagle would hang horizontally. The eagle retain approximately 50% of it's original gold plating, with light patina throughout. The silvered wreath and swastika the eagle is clutching has taken on a very appealing dark patina. The topper is soldered to the brass base with dark solder. CONDITION: Excellent. DMW 6,000 - 8,000



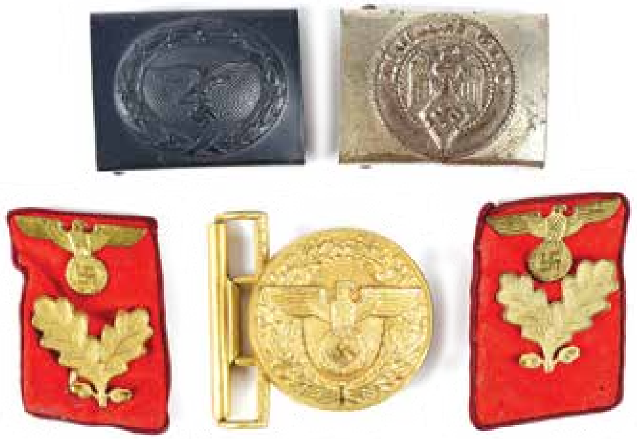
3094 - THIRD REICH ADOLPH HITLER PHOTO IN FRAME ATTRIBUTED TO THE HEAD OF THE NS-FRAUENSCHAFT.

Third Reich photo of Adolf Hitler (3" x 4 - 1/2") in a silver frame (4 - 1/2" by 7")) attributed to Gertrud Scholtz-Klink, the head of the NS-Frauenschaft (Third Reich's women's organization) on April 4, 1941. Her name, the date "20 - 4 - 1941", and a facsimile of Hitler's signature are engraved on the upper reverse. A folding frame stand in the shape of an "AH" is on the reverse as well. The obverse has has the initials of "AH" with embedded glass, and an NSDAP eagle with a red ruby eye. Consignor provided a biography of her, but she is also easily researchable on the internet. Silver presents heavy patina. CONDITION: Overall very good. WEZ 800 - 1,200



3095 - LOT OF 5: THIRD REICH BUCKLES AND COLLAR TABS.

Third Reich buckles and collar tabs. Lot contains a gold finished zinc NSDAP Leader's buckle marked "RZM", "M4/87", and a pair of NSDAP Gauleiter "Bereichsleiter " (Regional Leader) collar tabs with a paper RZM tag on one. Lot also contains an unissued blue-gray painted unmarked Luftwaffe buckle and a nickel-plated steel HJ buckle marked "RZM", "M4/13". CONDITION: Overall excellent. WEZ 800 - 1,200



3096 - GERMAN WWII FRAMED AFRIKA CUFF TITLE WITH DOCUMENTS.

German World War II framed "Afrika" cuff title and documents to the same soldier. Lot contains a vehicle drivers license to "Julius Turi" dated "October 17, 1938", and a document dated "May 1, 1942", with a facsimile signature of "Rommel" awarded to "Gefreiter Julius Turi" in North Africa for having driven 20,000 kilometers. Frame also presents a camelhair "Afrika" cuff title and an award document dated "October 11, 1944" for that cuff title. The award document notes that Turi served in "2./Nachschub - Btl. (mot) 633", or the "2nd Company of the 633rd Motorized Transportation Battalion". An interesting grouping to a veteran of the "Afrika Korps". CONDITION: Overall excellent. WEZ 600 - 900

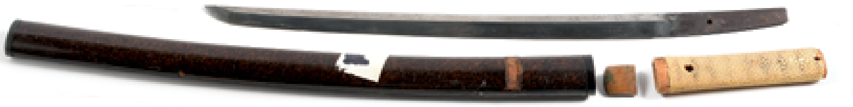
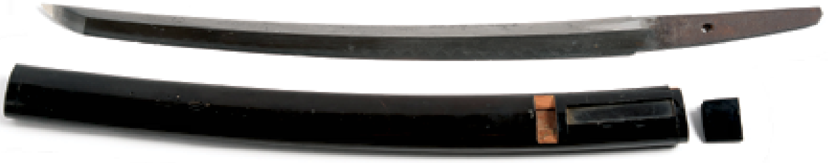
Blade Length: 14 - 15/16"
Overall Length: 23"



Measures 14 - 15/16" from from tip of kissaki to munemachi. Shinogi zukuri form with polished out. Iori mune. Hada and hamon are obscured by an amateur polish. Suriage nakago with single mekugi-ana, kiri yasurime and kiri nakagojiri. Copper habaki. Housed in a saya with lacquered pine needle decoration. Horn koiguchi. Slot for kogai/kozuka, reverse with slot for kurikata, broken off. Tag reading "W-27 / 38.0" on body. Metal koijiri with textured ground. Same wrapped tsuka with 2 holes for mekugi-ana that do not line up with nakago. CONDITION: Details of blade have been obscured by amateur polish that has left surface scratches and clouding throughout. Some ware is visible throughout. Saya has numerous scrapes and chips throughout, including where kurikata and kozuka slot were damaged, and a long crack along cutting edge. 150 - 300

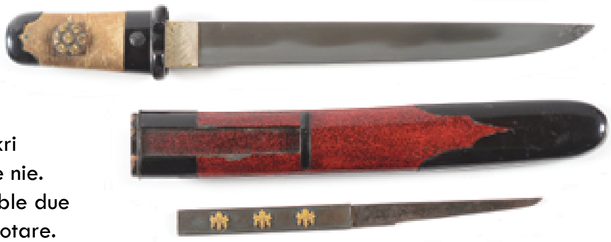
3152 - JAPANESE WAKIZASHI.
Blade Length: 15 - 3/4"
Overall Length: 21 - 1/4"



Measures 15 - 3/4" from tip of kissaki to munemachi. Shinogi zukuri form with torii-zori architecture. Chu-kissaki. Hada not visible due to polish, hamon is a gunome midare. Mumei nakago with ha agari kurijiri nakagojiri. Yasurime is a mixture of kuri at top and katte sagari. Single mekugi-ana that appears to have been repunched at some point to widen hole. Black enamel painted habaki with evidence of catscratch decoration under enamel. Housed in a black saya with slots for kozuka and kogai. CONDITION: Blade has had an amateur attempt at polish which has obscured some of the finer details and left clouding and surface scratches throughout. Hagire and what looks like shinae in boshi. Ha with several microchips and a few deeper chips. One area of what resembles crazing near hamachi. Saya has kurikata broken off, koiguchi damaged at rear. Body of saya with numerous scrapes and bumps throughout. 200 - 400

3153 - JAPANESE TANTO IN KOSHIRAE.

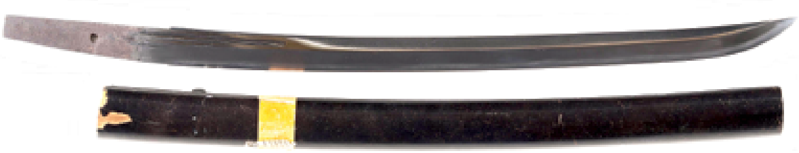
Blade Length: 8 - 7/8”
Overall Length: 13 - 3/4”



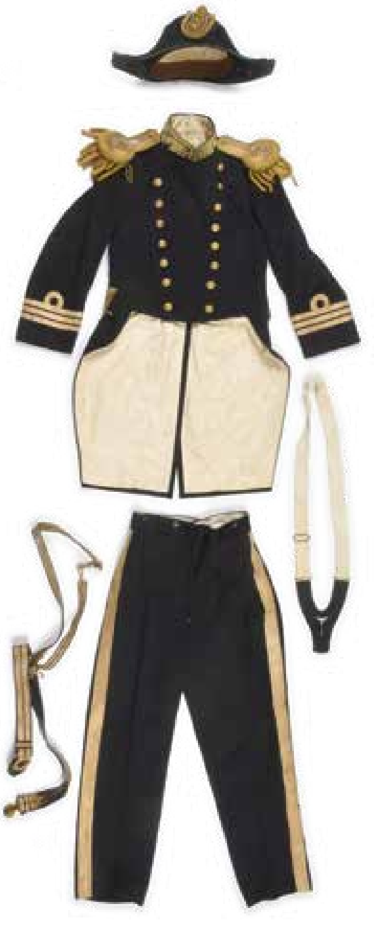
Measures approximately 8 - 7/8” from kissaki to munemachi. No visible menuki so blade has not been disassembled for precise measurement. Hira-zukri form with iori mune, mu-zori curvature. Hamon with frosty nioi and large visible nie. Silverwashed catscratch habaki with beaded decorations. Hada is not discernible due to polish (looks like it might be masame?), hamon looks to be a very gentle o-notare. Clear turnback at boshi with the tip out of polish, appearing to have been sharpened. Aikuchi style kashira with fuchi flared slightly to help keep water out of saya. Tsuka is wrapped cord, with fuchi and kashira made of horn. No visible menuki, probably underneath the cord. 2 tabs are affixed to the cord and depict florals. Saya with horn koiguchi and koijiri with a red speckled body. Slot for kozuka, kozuka decorated with florals en suite with tabs on tsuka on a roe ground. CONDITION: Blade has a visible hamon but polish does not show every feature such as hada. Kissaki has been cleaned over some spotted oxidation. Mounts are very good, with one tab on fuchi somewhat off. Saya is very good with some cracks (mostly around koijiri), some lifting, exercise caution to avoid further breaks. Well presenting. EMW 500 - 1,000

3154 - AN ATTRACTIVE JAPANESE WAKIZASHI, MADE FROM A REMOUNTED POLEARM BLADE.

Blade Length: 17 - 7/16”
Overall Length: 22” (Blade Only)



Measures 17 - 7/16” from tip of kissaki to munemachi. Kanmuri-otoshi-zukuri form with hi cut in the naginata-hi style, with top of bo-bi rounded and a very small soe-bi. Hada looks to be mokume, with a ko-midare hamon based on suguha with abundant nie, including a distinct deep turnback that nearly touches shinogi, ko-maru sagari. Nakago is signed on left side, but heavily softened and difficult to read; kiri nakagojiri. Single mekugi-ana, punched. Housed in a plain saya with kurikata and a second notch. CONDITION: Blade is very good in a good polish, with distinct features. Some spots of ware and some pinprick oxidation along mune, left side. Hi, especially soe-bi, are inexpertly cut and likely ato-bi. Saya is good and exists solely to protect the blade with damage mouth (no koiguchi) and no koijiri (exercise extreme caution to avoid damage as kissaki pokes out bottom), with tape having an old piece of newspaper affixed. A very attractive blade. EMW 500 - 800



3155 - JAPANESE WWII IMPERIAL NAVY COMMANDER’S FULL DRESS UNIFORM.

Lot consists of (A) Naval officer’s double breasted dress tunic with elegant bullion rank epaulettes and commander sleeve rank. The tag remains present inside the raised collar, which also features elegant bullion thread. All buttons are present with the exception of the top left button. 3160 - GERMAN WWII KRIEGSMARINE COASTAL ARTILLERY OFFICER'S TUNIC WITH US VETERAN PROVENANCE AND EPHEMERA GROUPING.

Clarence J. Laushell was born in 1922 and resided in Pennsylvania. When World War II broke out, he enlisted in the Army in Altoona, Pennsylvania on September 4, 1942. Clarence completed his training at Camp Lee, Virginia and was assigned as a truck driver in the 3712th Quartermaster Truck Company. He is listed as a corporal in England in January 1944 with overseas service from November 17, 1943-November 13, 1945. Although it is not a notable unit, the 3712 Quartermaster Truck Company played a crucial role in the movement of supplies and even participated in the Normandy landings on June 6 and 7, 1944. Quartermaster units and personnel were in the English Channel and landed on Omaha and Utah beach during the invasion when allied forces hit the beach. Truck companies participated in continuous operations during the assault at Normandy, and the following breakouts especially at St. Lo, and the rapid advances and pursuit of Axis forces across France in the summer of 1944. The lot consists of: (A) German World War II Kriegsmarine Coastal Artillery Officer's Tunic produced by "August Kuster & Sohne". The tunic is a fine example which is made from quality early war feldgrau wool with only 1 small moth nip on the wearer's left elbow area, otherwise no other damage or staining can be seen. 5 brass Kriegsmarine buttons are originally affixed to the front closure flap of the tunic, and still retain some of their original gold wash. Above the wearers upper right pocket is a nicely hand embroidered gold bullion Coastal Artillery Kriegsmarine eagle with moss green backing. The eagle has a very light patina throughout and is originally attached to the tunic by hand stitching. All four front pockets retain their original buttons, and are without any visible damage. The tunic's collar was period upgraded to an dark green M36 officer collar. The collar's bullion officer litzen are with no wear or patina, and are attached to the collar by means of machine stitching. The collar tabs appear to be originally attached and not replaced. 2 shoulder boards, for the rank of "Leutnant", with winged cyphers indicating anti-aircraft, are attached through the tunic's shoulder board loops and mounted with 2 Kriegsmarine buttons. The boards appear original to the tunic and match it very nicely The tunic is lined with a fine early war cotton twill lining, which is stamped on the wearers left side with the tunics sizes, as well as the maker of the tunic. Near the collar is a what appears to be a depot stamp of "B.A.W." with the date of "16.6.40". There is one interior pocket, as well as a medical bandage pocket which remains loosely sewn shut from the tailor who produced the tunic. 2 sets of 3 eyelets for belt hook adjustment are nicely reinforced. The tunic appears to possibly be unissued, and if anything hardly worn. A very nice example. CONDITION: Near mint. (B) World War II ephemera and personal effects of Clarence Laushell who captured this Coastal Artillery Tunic, most likely shortly after he landed on the beaches of Normandy. His personal effects include a piece of one of the coastal defense bunkers which is correctly camouflaged in RAL-green. The tunic and bunker fragment were most likely prized possessions of Laushell. The personal items also include over 100 photo negatives from Laushell, subject matter includes his family, friends, various photos of Laushell in uniform, and much more. There is also an incredible photo of Laushell with his son wearing the captured coastal artillery tunic and holding a massive German flag. 1 of his dog tags, and various other pieces of his US insignia are included. There are also various pieces of ephemera that he picked up during his travels through Europe. 2 of the highlight pieces are a map of the First Army's movements throughout Europe, and a November 1944 Thanksgiving Day menu which was handed out to the men for their Thanksgiving celebration while they were in Belgium. Laushell is listed on the roster as a Private. This is an excellent German Kriegsmarine Coastal Artillery Tunic that is complemented by the ephemera of the veteran who captured it. CONDITION: The ephemera and photos exhibit blemishes which are typical of old paper. Overall fair-very good. DMW/JLD 1,600 - 2,000

3161 - GERMAN WWII SS OFFICER BELT BUCKLE, BELT, & CROSS STRAP.
German World War II SS officer late war zinc belt buckle marked "GWL", "RZM", and "SS" with less than 25% of its silver finish remaining. Black leather belt is marked "SS" in a circle with moderate wear and appears to have been polished long ago. Black leather cross strap is marked with the same "SS" in a circle and "V.A. - SS 1938", with 2 clips both marked "SS", "A" (Assmann), "RZM", and "155/38", which is attached to the belt via 2 "D"- rings. CONDITION: Overall very good. WEZ 1,400 - 1,800

3162 - GERMAN WWII WAFFEN SS GENERAL'S VISOR.
German World War II Waffen SS General's Visor. The visor is constructed of a fine grey doeskin body, which has darkened throughout on the exposed areas, possibly from liquid or oil. The areas of the doeskin under the folds, or near protected areas shows the original true lighter grey color of how the fabric originally appeared. The center band is made of a black crushed velvet which remains tight to the cap and shows no damage. The visor is trimmed with a silver braid piping which designates the General rank in the SS. The silver piping is nicely executed and tight to the visor with no visible damage. The front insignia of the visor is zinc late war SS eagle and skull from the firm of F.A. Assmann. The chin cord is a late war style cello type which has faded slightly in the exposed areas to a tannish color, whereas the protected areas still retain more of their original silver color. The fiber bill of the visor retains most of it's black exterior paint, with a checkered underside that has what appears to be a control sticker affixed to it. The bill of the visor, and part of the sweatband have become detached from the visor's body. This is common on visors that have not been stored in climate controlled areas and the construction threads begin to dry rot. The sweatband of the visor is made of thin pigskin, and exhibits natural wear throughout. As mentioned previously the sweatband has become partially detached from the visors body and has torn in half. The visor's interior is lined with an artificial cream silk, which exhibits natural wear. The lining is loosely attached to the caps interior body as it should be. A celluloid rhomboid sweat shield is sewn to the visors interior lining. The sweat shield has become partially unstitched from the lining and has a small tear. The interior of the visor is completely void of any maker labels, which is what collectors want to see for wartime Waffen SS caps. The SS took over production of their own garments and clothing towards the middle of the war, and therefore were not maker marked or RZM marked any longer. A rare cap to find on the market. CONDITION: Very good to excellent. DMW 9,000 - 12,000

3163 - LOT OF 9: GERMAN WWII BELTS, BUCKLES, & Y-STRAPS.
German World War II aluminum SS buckle marked "RZM, 822/38, SS", Heer gray-green painted (at 45% mostly on reverse) "F.R.O." marked aluminum buckle with maker marked and dated "1938" leather tab, Heer gray-green painted (at 40% mostly on reverse) "F.R.O." marked aluminum buckle, and Wehrmannschaft silver painted (95%) unmarked steel buckle. Lot also contains 2 complete pairs of combat y-straps with light wear and no easily visible markings other than postwar applied SS markings on one set. Also included is a SS marked ("SS, 39/38, RZM") black leather officer belt with silver painted zinc buckle, a late war black leather combat belt marked "0/0146/0049" and "80", and a "1940" dated maker marked size "100" combat belt. CONDITION: Overall very good to excellent. WEZ 1,200 - 1,700

3164 - LOT OF 3: GERMAN WWII LUFTWAFFE WINTER FLIGHTSUIT AND FUR COAT
Lot contains: (A) German World War II 1-piece Luftwaffe winter fur-lined white leather flight suit, size marked "II A" with moderate staining and damage overall, but heavily damaged on the right shoulder. Fur lining has light wear, all zippers and snaps are present and functional. CONDITION: Overall fair to good. (B) Luftwaffe fur lined winter white leather parka with no visible markings and light to moderate wear and damage. CONDITION: Overall good to very good. (C) Unknown Third Reich red piped black wool tunic with no markings and a partial black cotton lining. CONDITION: Overall very good. WEZ 600 - 900

3165 - LOT OF 13: THIRD REICH BELT BUCKLES.
Miscellaneous Third Reich belt buckles. Lot contains an unissued Heer gray-green paint steel buckle with a leather tab marked "B. Haarmann, Ludenscheid, 1940", a Heer olive painted tropical buckle with green web tab, a blue-gray painted steel Luftwaffe buckle with a leather tab marked 'FW Assmann, Ludenscheid, 1941, and a gray-green painted Heer steel buckle with leather tab marked "Franke & Co., Ludenscheid, 1941". Lot also contains 2 Heer aluminum buckles with gray-green paint mainly on the reverse, a Luftwaffe aluminum buckle, a gray-green painted steel Heer buckle, a nickel plated steel HJ buckle marked "M4/7" and "RZM", and a brass SA buckle. Lot also contains the following officer buckles: an aluminum RAD, a gold finished Reichsbahn marked "A", "DRGM", "38", and a late war zinc Reichsbahn marked "RZM", "M4/24". 3166 - LOT OF 3: THIRD REICH NSKK CRASH HELMET, LUFTWAFFE WINTER HAT, AND KRIEGSMARINE RAIN COAT.
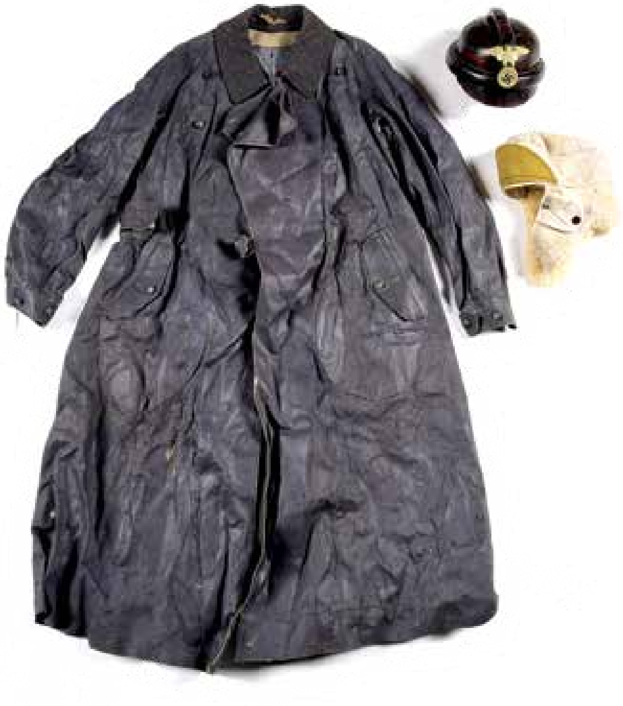
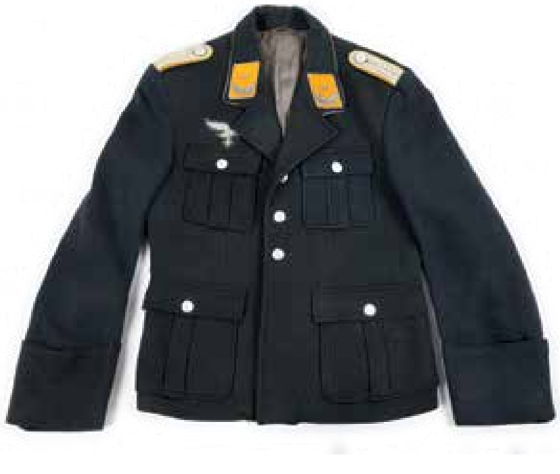
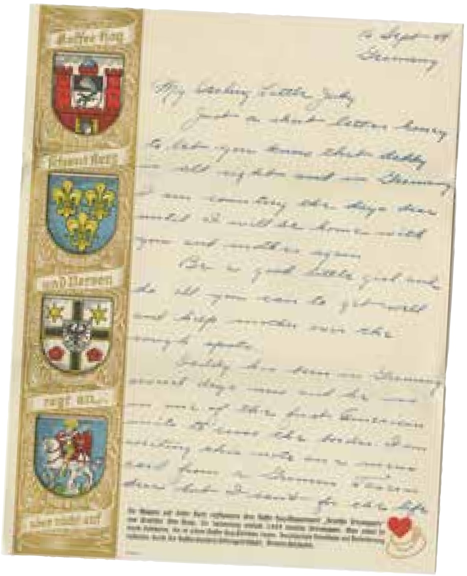
Lot contains: (A) German World War II Luftwaffe fur-lined white leather winter cap marked "57", "76", and "1942" on an inner tag. Hand applied Luftwaffe cap eagle and cockade on front, with 2 "Pyrm H9" snaps and 1 tan glass button securing the ear and neck flap. Freckling on a couple of snaps which has bled into the fabric. CONDITION: Overall excellent. (B) NSKK black leather crash helmet with no visible markings with a tombac NSKK eagle originally mounted on the front. Black leather body have moderate wear and heavy cracking. Visor and ear flaps (secured by a buckle) have light wear, and neck flap has moderate damage. Brown leather liner is intact with light to moderate wear, and crown padding is present. CONDITION: Overall very good. (C) Kriegsmarine blue-gray rain coat with no visible markings, and light to moderate wear overall. Shoulder lining has moderate to heavy wear, and all buttons seem to be present. CONDITION: Overall good to very good. WEZ 700 - 1,000



3167 - GERMAN WWII M35 LUFTWAFFE OFFICER TUCHROCK.
German World War II Luftwaffe officer (2nd Lieutenant) flying branch (aircrew or Fallschirmjager) 4-pocket tunic (Tuchrock) made from tricot blue-gray wool with light wear and damage. Both sleeves and the upper left pocket are made from a slightly bluer wool than the rest of the tunic. The officer bullion breast eagle and collar tabs appear to have been added postwar. The shoulder boards have been added postwar and are not attached properly, as the buttons are sewn to the boards and not the tunic, and the boards are sewn directly to the tunic. The tunic is fully lined in a gray rayon with light wear, no markings, name, or inner pockets. CONDITON: Overall very good to excellent. WEZ 400 - 700



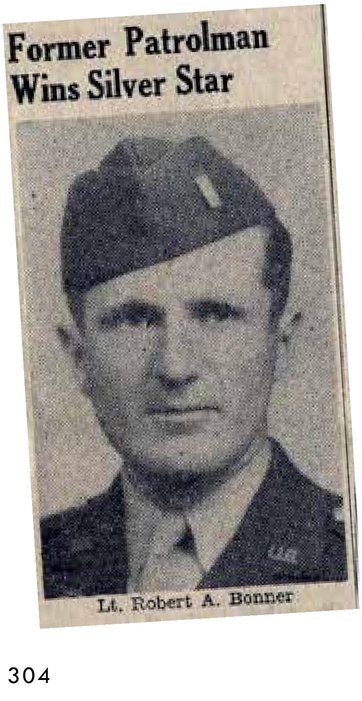
THE HISTORIC TIME CAPSULE OF LIEUTENANT ROBERT A. BONNER, 1ST INFANTRY DIVISION



16 Sept 44
Germany

My Darling Little Judy
Just a short letter honey to let you know that daddy is all right and in Germany. I am counting the days dear until I will be home with you and mother again.
Be a good little girl and do all you can to get well and keep mother over the rough spots.

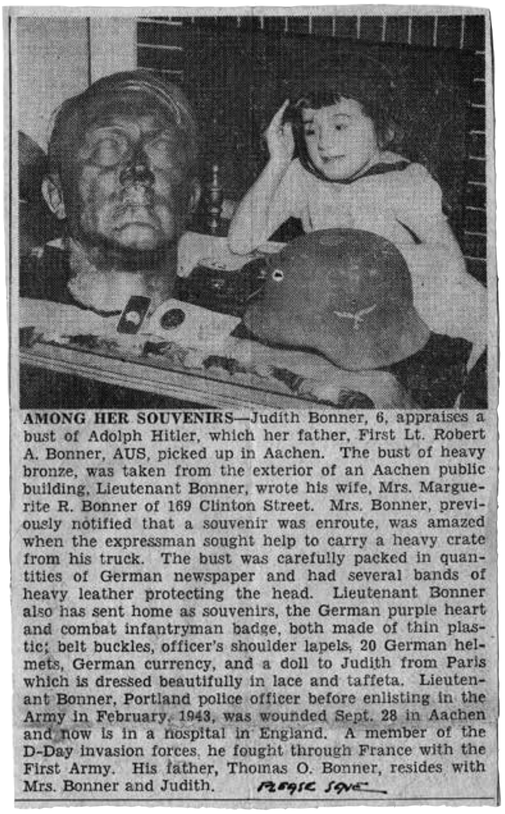
“My Darling Little Judy, Just a short letter honey to let you know that daddy is all right and in Germany. I am counting the days dear until I will be home with you and mother again.” These are the words of Lieutenant Robert Ashley “Bob” Bonner which he wrote in a letter to his daughter Judy on September 16, 1944, as the First Infantry Division was laying siege to the city of Aachen. Bonner was born in Portland, Maine during the year 1912 and after finishing his schooling, became a Police officer in his home state. He continued to serve his community after the outbreak of World War II and enlisted in the Army in February 1943. Due to his prior service and leadership experience as a police officer, he was commissioned as a Second Lieutenant and was assigned to the 3rd Battalion, 26th Infantry Regiment, of the 1st Infantry Division. The Division earned the nickname “The Big Red One” for its distinctive insignia but received the moniker “The Bloody First” due to its involvement in some of the fiercest fighting experienced by a US Army division since its creation in 1917. During World War II, the men of the Fighting First distinguished themselves early on in the conflict in North Africa, as they were a key component of the fighting force that caused the Desert Fox to retreat with his tail between his legs. Bonner joined the division after this early saga, but landed on Omaha beach as a 31-year-old Lieutenant as the Army punctured the German coastal defenses. The ferocity of the fighting on Omaha beach needs little introduction, as Bonner and the rest of the invasion forces had to run 300 yards to get to the bluffs which provided much needed cover from the intense and accurate machine gun fire. Some of the division’s units suffered nearly 30 percent casualties in the first hour of the assault during the long and bloody day. Eventually the beachhead was secured and Bonner began to move inland with the rest of his unit. There was little time for rest and relief, as the division then drove across France in a continuous offensive. It was during this long offensive that Bonner would repeatedly distinguish himself in combat, as he was awarded the Silver Star “For gallantry in action in Saint-Fraimbault, France on August 10, 1944.” The award was officiated on October 3, 1944. Just 14 days after his gallantry was recognized, Bonner was promoted to First Lieutenant on August 24, 1944 by the command of Lieutenant General Courtney Hodges. After continuing to lead his men by example through the Fall of 1944, Bonner’s gallantry was again recognized when he was awarded the Bronze Star “For Heroic achievement in connection with military operations against the enemy in Belgium, 4 September 1944.” It was during the siege of Aachen that Bonner was wounded and would later receive a Purple Heart for wounds received on September 28, 1944. A month later the men of the First Division directly assaulted the town on October 21, 1944, then attacked east of Aachen through the Hurtgen Forest, driving German forces back to the Ruhr River. After this long push, Bonner and his men were moved to the rear for refitting and rest following six months of combat. When the German Wacht Am Rhein offensive was launched on December 16, 1944, the division, now commanded by Major General Clift Andrus, was quickly moved to the Ardennes front where they fought continuously from December 17, 1944 to January 28, 1945. The Division played a crucial role in reversing the German offensive and restoring allied lines. A month later, the unit attacked and breached the Siegfried Line, fought across the Ruhr River, pushed on to the Rhine River, and crossed at the Remagen bridgehead in March 1944. The division later broke out of the bridgehead and took part in the encirclement of the Ruhr Pocket, and later fought through Czechoslovakia when the war ended. Bonner spent the remainder of his time in the Army as part of the occupation forces, where he commanded Company A. 384th Military Police Battalion, a fitting role for a former police officer.



Former Patrolman Wins Silver Star

Lt. Robert A. Bonner

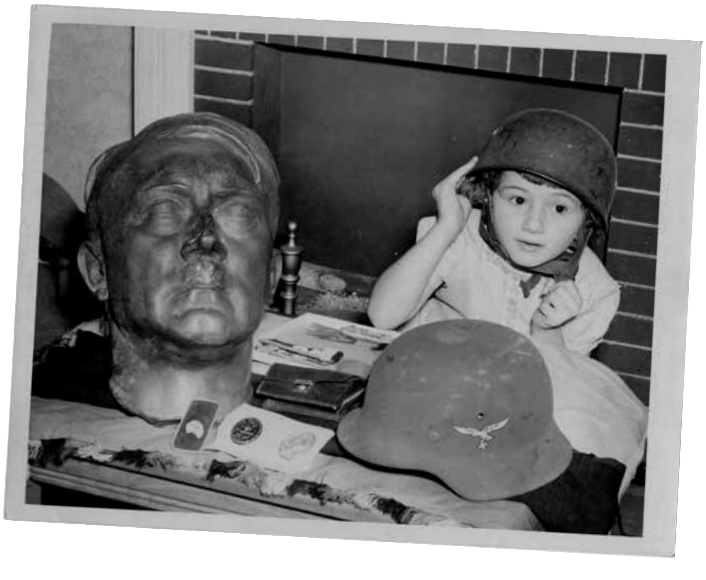
During his time in the Army, Bonner was also in command of 3rd Battalion, 26th Infantry Regiment's anti-tank platoon. Not only did Bonner hunt enemy tanks, but he hunted for souvenirs as well, and Aachen proved to be a treasure trove for him. Lt. Bonner's lasting memories are the items in which he captured from Germany, including the impressive Hitler bust, high condition M38 Fallschirmjager helmet, Heer M40 tri-color helmet, Luftwaffe M40 single decal helmet, and various German badges and insignia. These items were all sent home to his wife, Marguerite R. Flaherty Bonner and his daughter Judith Bonner towards the end of the war, and the event garnered significant attention in their area of Maine, making his daughter Judith somewhat of a celebrity. His bring backs were documented in the local newspaper and a photographer from the Associated Press took pictures of little Judy Bonner as she "appraised" all of the gifts her father sent her. The pictures tell an incredible story, as the exact items are being offered for the first time to the open collector market. Under careful inspection, the blemishes on the Luftwaffe M40 single decal helmet are identical to those in the original photo. One article describes the event: "Mrs. Bonner previously notified that the souvenir was enroute, was amazed when the expressman sought help to carry a heavy crate from his truck." and reveals just how extensive the collection was, citing the various insignia, currency, the bust, and last but not least, a small number of German helmets, only 20 in total. The photos show a young Judy, only six years old at the time the photo was taken, adorned with the M38 helmet as she smiles and looks over her new gifts which were generously salvaged by her father.



AMONG HER SOUVENIRS—Judith Bonner, 6, appraises a bust of Adolph Hitler, which her father, First Lt. Robert A. Bonner, AUS, picked up in Aachen. The bust of heavy bronze, was taken from the exterior of an Aachen public building, Lieutenant Bonner, wrote his wife, Mrs. Marguerite R. Bonner of 169 Clinton Street. Mrs. Bonner, previously notified that a souvenir was enroute, was amazed when the expressman sought help to carry a heavy crate from his truck. The bust was carefully packed in quantities of German newspaper and had several bands of heavy leather protecting the head. Lieutenant Bonner also has sent home as souvenirs, the German purple heart and combat infantryman badge, both made of thin plastic; belt buckles, officer's shoulder lapels, 20 German helmets, German currency, and a doll to Judith from Paris which is dressed beautifully in lace and taffeta. Lieutenant Bonner, Portland police officer before enlisting in the Army in February, 1943, was wounded Sept. 28 in Aachen and now is in a hospital in England. A member of the D-Day invasion forces, he fought through France with the First Army. His father, Thomas O. Bonner, resides with Mrs. Bonner and Judith. PLEASE SAVE

After the war Robert Bonner remained in the Army and retired as a Major in 1967. He appears to have stayed in Germany for some time and remarried Annaliese Kurtz, who was born in Germany and lived there until moving to the United States after Robert's retirement. Tragically, Judy Bonner passed away in 1952 at the young age of 13. Robert passed away in 2000 and was reunited with his daughter after she was taken away much too soon. They are buried next to each other and rest on the Bonner family plot in their home state of Maine.

This time capsule collection was at some point obtained by the consigner and was left untouched since the end of the war. Collections like the time capsule of Lt. Robert Bonner are seldom found, let alone fresh to the market. There is no better provenance then a period photo and newspaper articles which document the history of such a historic group of artifacts from a war that was fought eight decades ago. These artifacts are the silent witnesses of war and tell the story of an Infantry Lieutenant as he fought his way through occupied Europe, and the family at home who was waiting for his safe return. Although the photo of little Judy Bonner is not known and has not been shared since World War II, it is an iconic photograph in its own right, as it shows the young face of innocence and the reason why the war was fought. There is no better way to symbolize the end of tyranny than the decapitated head of a dictator, which was smashed off of a pedestal in a once conquered town by a triumphant liberator, and sent home as a trophy of victory. This historic and fresh to the market collection will be offered in lots 3168-3191. JLD



3168 - LOT OF US WWII EPHEMERA FROM LT. ROBERT A. BONNER, 1ST INFANTRY DIVISION, D-DAY VETERAN, AND SILVER STAR RECIPIENT.

Very nice small World War II ephemera grouping of Lt. Robert A. Bonner who served throughout the war and into the occupation with the 1st Infantry Division. Bonner, who landed on Omaha Beach during the D-Day invasion, collected various souvenirs throughout the 1st Infantry Division's campaigns across Europe. This lot includes several pieces of ephemera from Bonner including his high condition Firestone M-1 helmet liner which is marked on the interior with his laundry number. The lot also includes a crate which is marked with his information that he used to ship some of the items home. The crate contains various pieces of ephemera including translation documents, letters, newspaper articles, foreign currency, photos (some are graphic and show charred bodies), and a wonderfully made 26th Infantry Regiment plaque. There are also several occupation guides, his medals, post cards, various occupation documents, his original silver star citation, 2 1st ID patches (one is German made) and 2 custom skull patches with Bonner's name. CONDITION: Helmet liner is in excellent condition with scattered blemishes. All paper items exhibit blemishes that are typical of old ephemera. Overall fair-excellent. PROVENANCE: Lt. Robert A. Bonner Collection. JLD 400 - 800

3169 - THIRD REICH RAD SUBORDINATES HEWER.

Blade Length: 9 - 1/2"
Overall Length: 14 - 3/4"

Third Reich RAD Subordinates Hewer produced by the maker Julius Krebs. The Hewer has a 9 - 1/2" nickel plated steel blade, which is maker marked for the manufacturer Julius Krebs. The blade is also marked "Ges Gesch" (Patent Pending), "RAJD (in triangle)", and the number "837" which does not correspond to any number on the scabbard. The blade also features the RAD motto "Arbeit Adelt", which translates to "Work Enobles". The blade has scattered light marks throughout, most likely from cleaning, and evidence of an attempted sharpening. The crossguard, hilt, and pommel beak, are made of nickel-plated steel. The nickel plating has light wear and patina throughout, but no lifting of the plating. The two stag bone grip plates are intact, without damage, and have developed a nice dark patina. The black painted steel scabbard body retains approximately 75% of its original gloss black factory paint, with areas on both edges having wear to the paint. The lower drag and throat body are made of nickel-plated steel with patina and freckling throughout. All four scabbard screws are made of aluminum and are present. CONDITION: Very good to excellent. German World War II Heer M40 tri-color helmet marked “Q64” for the maker “F.W. Quist”, in a shell size of 64, with a lot number of “DN334”. Shell has a 3-color spray camouflage (collectors refer to this style as “Normandy” camo) applied in tan, green, and red brown; and applied in that order. The standard color used for German armor from 1943 onwards. Camo paint is 70-75% with scattered scratches. The outline of the Heer decal is visible under the camouflage paint, and that area is also chipped away. Interior retains 85+% of its untouched gray-green, with dust and freckling. A faint crown stamp is visible. Original zinc liner band is present and appears untouched. Rivets are untouched. Liner has damage on one tongue, is in a medium tan color, size marked “57” with moderating staining, dryness and flaking around its rim. Drawstring is missing. Chinstrap with aluminum fittings is attached with medium to heavy wear, cracking, and dryness. The helmet was brought home by the WWII US veteran from the 26th Infantry Regiment (1st Infantry Division). CONDITION: Overall very good. PROVENANCE: Lt. Robert A. Bonner Collection. WEZ 1,500 - 2,000

3190 - GERMAN WWII LUFTWAFFE M38 FALLSCHIRMJAGER HELMET.
German World War II late war M38 Fallschirmjager helmet marked “CKL66” for “Eisenhuttenwerk Thale” in a shell size of “66” with a lot number of “4237”. Shell exterior retains 75-80% of its late war slate gray paint with light to moderate freckling and scattered marks. Interior retains approximately 90% of its slate gray paint with freckling. Ventilated slotted aluminum bolts are on the side with slotted steel bolts on the back. All 4 bolts retain both inner nuts in the correct arrangement. Size “55” light tan leather liner has light wear, and is correctly marked “Kopfweite: Gr. 55”, “Stahlhelm - Gr. 66”, “Baumuster: Heisler. Berlin C2” and “Hersteller: F.W. Muller”. Zinc liner band with hard foam rubber pads are present, as well as its crown pad. Fallschirmjager chinstrap assembly is intact with light wear and a “PYRM 4” snap. This untouched FJ helmet is configured exactly as most other late war examples in slate gray should be: bolt arrangement, maker marked liner, etc. This helmet was brought home, with a number of other items being offered, by a US WWII veteran who served as a 1st Lt. in the 26th Infantry Regiment, 1st Infantry Division, and there is a photo of this helmet. See also lot numbers 3225, 3226, and others. CONDITION: Overall excellent. PROVENANCE: Lt. Robert A. Bonner Collection. WEZ 3,000 - 4,500

3191 - THIRD REICH ADOLF HITLER BUST WITH EXCELLENT CAPTURE PROVENANCE FROM LT. ROBERT A. BONNER, 1ST INFANTRY DIVISION.
Third Reich Adolf Hitler Bust which was captured by Lieutenant Robert A. Bonner who served with the 1st Infantry Division throughout World War II. The bust was taken from the exterior of an Aachen public building, according to one of the articles. This impressive bust of Adolf Hitler measures 16” x 12” x 14”. The bust was hollow cast from zinc which then received a high quality bronze plating over the exterior. The bust’s features are crisp and detailed with evidence of hand enhancing after the original casting by the artist. Some dents and gouges can be observed on the exterior which, due to its large size and weight, is from handling during and also after the war. The bust’s bronze finish has areas of flaking and wear throughout. Stress cracks can be observed on the bridge of the nose, the right side of the nose (as bust is facing), and the front hairline area. It is not known if these cracks pass through to the inside of the bust. The original mounting step for mounting the bust to a piece of marble is broken. As such, the bust cannot stand in the upright position on it’s own. The lower reverse of the bust is maker marked for Ferdinand Liebermann. The bust is accompanied by 3 period newspaper articles, 2 of which show photos of the bust with Bonner’s daughter in 1945 after his war trophies were sent back to his home in Maine. One is captioned “AMONG HER SOUVENIRS--Judith Bonner, 6, appraises a bust of Adolph Hitler, which her father, First Lt. Robert A. Bonner, AUS, picked up in Aachen.” There is a small note which was written in ink next to the caption on the second article that reads “Sent by Capt. Ray Uffner 1/12/44”. The third newspaper article is of a small excerpt regarding Bonner his earning of the Silver Star. As if the provenance could not be any more solid, The lot includes a period 9” x 7” high quality photograph of Judith Bonner as she posses next to the Hitler bust surrounded by her father’s war trophies as she wears the Fallschirmjaeger helmet in lot 3227. The photo is marked on the reverse “Mail to Mrs. Robert Bonner 169 Bolton Street City”. The photo is undoubtedly the original copy from the newspaper which took the photos in order to have them published in the local paper. This is an excellent and incredibly well documented piece of World War II history. CONDITION: Very Good. PROVENANCE: Lt. Robert A. Bonner Collection. DMW/JLD 5,000 - 10,000

3192 - IMPRESSIVE THIRD REICH LUFTWAFFE BUILDING EAGLE WITH CAPTURE HISTORY.

Impressive Third Reich Luftwaffe building eagle which was recovered from Berlin at the end of World War II. The eagle was supposedly removed from the Luftwaffe RLM (Reichsluftfahrtministerium) or "Ministry of Aviation" located on Wilhelmstrasse in central Berlin by a US Army Intelligence Officer. The RLM building was one of the few official Third Reich buildings in central Berlin to survive the severe Allied bombings during 1944-1945. Through oral history with supporting information, this impressive, yet crude eagle, was captured at the end of the war by William Burns "Bill" Fraser. Fraser was born on April 25, 1910 in Port Arthur, Texas. While he was a junior in high school in Oklahoma, he was offered an appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point the following year. In order to accept this appointment, Fraser pushed himself and was able to graduate high school in 3 years. Despite being small in stature, Fraser was able to meet the physical requirements by "eating prodigious amounts of bananas." He excelled at West Point both athletically and scholarly with particular success in gymnastics and horsemanship. After graduation, Fraser was able to secure a commission in the cavalry and was later assigned as commander of the Maines on board the USS Wyoming. His additional duties would include but were not limited to duties as the assistant gunnery and navigation officer on the midshipman's summer cruise. After this assignment, Bill pleasantly joked that he was "the only true Horse Marine". His first assignment with the cavalry was at Fort Bliss with the 8th Cavalry from 1932-1934. One of his most crowning achievements was being the only winner of the 1st Cavalry Division's Hunt Bowl, which was a 2 - 1/2 mile steeplechase which was judged as being too hazardous and never contested again. He later earned an MS in Mechanical Engineering and was sent to Fort Riley in order to attend Cavalry school where he joined the 13th Cavalry. the 13th became a mechanized unit and was sent to Fort Knox as a motor officer. Over the next several years, Fraser was the Executive Officer of various regiments of the 6th and 12th Armored Divisions. He was later called back to teach horsemanship at West Point in 1944. In May 1944, he was assigned to the 8th Army as Deputy G-2 at Fort Sam Houston Texas. Shortly after Fraser was assigned as Deputy G-2 of the 9th Army and sent overseas to England in June 1944, later traveling throughout Europe, eventually meeting the Russians at the Ruhr River. He was occasionally hospitalized for old riding injuries, but remained in Germany after the war during the Occupation. He spent time in Tolz, Germany, as Chief of intelligence and counter intelligence and was later assigned to the 1st Infantry Division fulfilling the same intelligence roles before being sent back to the United States in 1948. He continued to serve in the Army in the post war years, the Korean War, and eventually retired due to disability in 1959. Bill Fraser passed away in San Francisco on October 2, 1997 after a second, short battle with cancer. His military career is quite impressive and due to his various assignments in Europe with intelligence clearances, it is more than possible that Fraser recovered this Third Reich Luftwaffe Building Eagle whilst part of the occupying Army in Germany. During the occupation, in order to set up military government organizations, the Western powers requisitioned real estate in order to have a base of operations to carry out their occupation duties. The former Luftwaffe district headquarters, Luftgaukommando III in Berlin-Zehlendorf, became the US headquarters in Berlin. The RLM building was located just across the border of the US occupation zone, inside the Soviet occupation zone. It is possible that Fraser ventured over to the Soviet zone, explored the RLM building, and recovered this symbol of the Third Reich. It is also possible that Fraser mistook the Luftgaukommando III headquarters for the RLM building and recovered it from his new intelligence headquarters when he moved in and there was simply a transcription error when the eagle was passed down. The eagle is of a multi-piece cast iron construction: body, claws, wings, and feathers. Eagle is mounted on its original base, and no foundry mark is visible. Eagle retains approximately 80% of its gilt finish, with oxidation and light freckling. The eagle is accompanied by a history of Fraser's service as well as his obituary. An impressive piece of WWII history with an interesting story. Overall good. WEZ/JLD

Shell exterior retains 65-70% of its era applied rough gray-green paint, with freckling, and heavy dirt and dust. No decal is present. A US style helmet net is attached to the helmet and is tucked under the rim, and between the liner band and the liner. It was clearly attached during WWII, and has been undisturbed since. The net exhibits rust stains from being in contact with the rim and rivets, as well as breaks from being on the rim, and flat spots on the top and other points of contact when the helmet is placed down. Interior retains approximately 75% of its untouched smooth blue-gray finish, with dust and freckling. Light streaks in the crown appear to be from blood. Original zinc liner band is present and appears untouched. Liner has heavy damage (three tongues are missing), is very dark from blood damage, with heavy staining, dryness and flaking around its rim. Drawstring is missing. A chinstrap exhibiting the same wear as the liner is present and attached over the rim, and has not been disturbed since the war. An untouched and rare example of a combat helmet with an era applied net. CONDITION: Overall good to very good. WEZ 1,100 - 1,600

3207 - GERMAN WWII HEER M40 TAN CAMOUFLAGE HELMET.
German World War II Heer M40 camouflage helmet marked “SE64” for the maker “Sächsische Emailler”, in a shell size of 64, with a lot number of “8204”. Shell retains 80-85% of its tan brush applied camouflage, with stains and discoloration. No decal is present, or visible under the paint. This style of camouflage is similar to others with provenance to the Southern European theater, and even North Africa. Tan camo is also applied on the interior skirt area, and it is approximately 75%. The dome area retains approximately 60% of it gray-green paint with freckling, dust, and dirt. Original zinc liner band is present and appears undisturbed. Liner is original but is a replacement (likely postwar), is intact, appears to have been treated, in a dark brown color, and having staining, dryness, and light flaking. Original drawstring is present, and there is an illegible name. Chinstrap is an aged reproduction. CONDITION: Overall very good. WEZ 1,000 - 1,500

3208 - GERMAN WWII M1918 SINGLE DECAL TRANSITIONAL HELMET.
German World War II M1918 single decal transitional helmet. Helmet has been era painted black and has a Heer decal, which identifies the helmet as being the type used by the Third Reich’s railway protection (Bahnschutz) entity. Helmet has no visible marked which may be the result of the layer of black paint. Exterior retains approximately 90% of its black paint. The interior only had black paint applied around the inner rim and that is 90%, while the crown area has its original gray-green paint, with 70-75% remaining with freckling dust and dirt. The Heer decal rates 90-95% with some light scratches, and its coat of lacquer which glows light green under a blacklight. The M31 liner assembly is heavily damaged with only 4 of its 8 tongues remaining, with a size stamp of “55” present. A third of the leather around the liner band is missing. A zinc liner band is present. Both the M18 and M31 chinstrap mouns are present, but the chinstrap is missing. CONDITION: Overall good to very good. WEZ 700 - 1,000

3209 - GERMAN WWII LUFTWAFFE SSK90 SIEMENS FLIEGERSTAHLHELM.
A rare Luftwaffe World War II armored SSK 90 “Fliegerstahlhelm”, marked “SIEMENS, SSK 90, LUFTFAHRTGERATEWERK, HAKENFELDE, GMBH” on a sewn tag. The helmet is constructed with interlocking nickel steel plates creating an inner steel core, covered by padding and brown leather. Leather is supple with light to moderate wear, and its Fallschirmjager style chinstrap assembly is dry with light cracking where it has been folded over the rim. Freckling is present on the rivets and the “PRYM 9” marked snaps. Helmet is lined with a liner made from cotton very similar to the type used in Luftwaffe summer lightweight tan flight uniforms. Liner exhibits only very light wear. These “flyer’s steel helmets” were only used for a couple of weeks in May of 1941, before they were withdrawn from service. A unique opportunity to own a rare helmet. CONDITION: Overall excellent. WEZ 1,500 - 2,000

3210 - GERMAN WWII FLIGHT HELMET WITH GOGGLES AND EXTRA LENSES
German World War II Luftwaffe brown leather flight helmet with 2 maker tags sewn into its wool liner with moderate wear overall. 3211 - LOT OF 3: GERMAN WWII HEER PITH HELMETS AND GOGGLES.
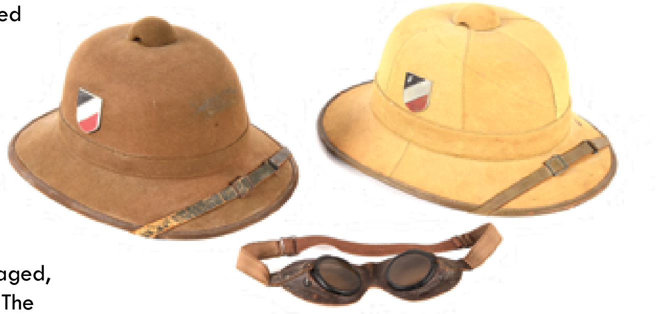
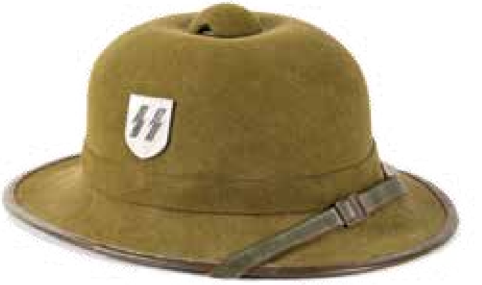
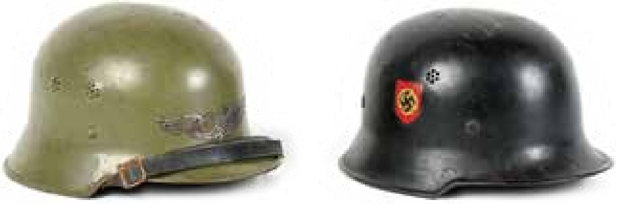
Lot contains: (A) German World War II tropical olive cotton pith helmet marked "JHS, "55-1942" with light wear, stain, and dust. Rim trim is unusual and appears to have been glued. Cork body appears to be undamaged, and leather sweatband has light wear with moderate staining and rim wear. The Heer and national shields appear to be original to the helmet. Red cotton crown has very light wear. Green leather chinstrap is attached, with moderate wear and cracking. CONDITION: Overall excellent. (B) German World War II tropical tan cotton pith helmet marked "Made in Germany", ORL", "1942", "57" with light to moderate wear, staining, and dust. Rim trim has light wear and damage. Cork body appears to be undamaged, and leather sweatband has light wear with moderate staining and rim wear. The Heer shield has been replaced, and national shield appears to be original to the helmet. Red cotton crown has very light wear and staining. Olive leather chinstrap is attached, with light wear. CONDITION: Overall very good to excellent. (C) Brown leather googles with tinted glass eye pieces and elastic strap. CONDITION: Overall very good. WEZ 600 - 900



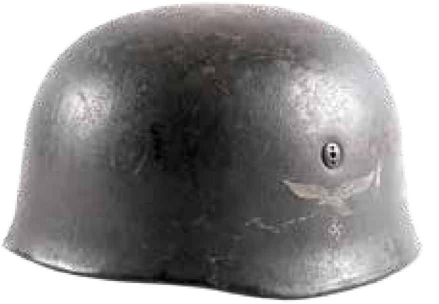
3212 - GERMAN WWII SS PITH HELMET.
German World War II 2nd Pattern Pith Helmet with SS shields. The helmet is produced of a dark green felt, which exhibits minimal wear and patina throughout. 2 zinc based shields are attached to each side of helmet, 1 being the SS runes, and the other the typical NSDAP party shield seen on SS combat helmets. The shields are made of zinc, and retain most of their original factory paint. We do not know is they are correctly maker marked on the reverse with "JFS42" & "JFS43". The leather chinstrap is present over the helmets brim, and appears to have no damage. The helmets interior exhibits no wear, as it is most likely unissued. Leather sweatband is present, as well as all liner clips. Sweatband is maker marked with a "W" in a shield. CONDITION: Near mint. DMW 1,200 - 1,500



3213 - LOT OF 2: THIRD REICH M34 GREEN LUFTSCHUTZ AND FIRE POLICE HELMETS.
Lot contains: (A) Third Reich light weight steel M34 Luftschutz helmet with no visible markings. Shell exterior retains 85-90% of its smooth olive green paint with light freckling and scratches throughout. A 2" light dent is on the top. A Luftschutz decal is applied to front and is 70-75% with an era-applied coat of lacquer. Interior retains 90+% of its olive green paint with scratches, rim wear, and freckling. Medium brown leather liner has moderate staining with its original drawstring. Size stamp of "56" is present. Cork liner pads, leather chinstrap, neck protector attachment tabs, are present with light to medium wear. Crown pad is missing. CONDITION: Overall excellent. (B) Third Reich steel M34 Fire/Police helmet with no visible markings. Shell exterior retains 85-90% of is dull black paint with light scratches and freckling. Police and NSDAP decals are 80-85% with era-applied coat of lacquer. Interior retains 60-65% of its dull black paint with spots of freckling throughout. Liner assembly is a reproduction. Original crown pad is present. CONDITION: Overall good. WEZ 700 - 1,000



3214 - GERMAN WWII M38 SINGLE DECAL FALLSCHIRMJAGER HELMET.
German World War II single decal mid-war spanner bolt Luftwaffe M38 Fallschirmjager helmet marked "ET68" for "Eisenhuttenwerk Thale", in a shell size of "68" with a lot number of "170". Shell exterior retains 65-70% of its rough gray-green paint, with moderate freckling, scattered marks, and paint streaks. Luftwaffe decal is 65-70% with its era-applied lacquer. Interior retains approximately 75% of its gray-green paint with freckling. The 4 gray-green painted steel spanner bolts all retain both of their steel inside nuts. The bolts and nuts have not been disturbed since WWII. Size "57" medium brown leather liner has moderate wear and damage. Rim has moderate wear, liner is broken through between 2 holes under the RBNr, cracked on the front, and dry. Liner is marked "Kopfweite Gr. 57", "Stahlhelm Gr. 68", and "RB-Nr. 0/0250/0201" (for Karl Heisler, Berlin). Zinc liner band with hard foam rubber pads are intact, as well as its crown pad. Fallschirmjager chinstrap assembly has moderate wear and has a repair. The right side strap was cut, perhaps from being removed from a Fallschirmjager casualty on the battlefield by the US GI, and later repaired with black thread. The chinstrap snap is locked down on the sliding leather piece. A nice combat worn helmet likely to have been recovered from the battlefield by a US GI. CONDITION: Overall good to very good. WEZ 4,500 - 5,500



3215 - GERMAN WWII LUFTWAFFE M35 CHICKEN WIRE NORMANDY CAMOUFLAGE HELMET.

German World War II Luftwaffe M35 tri-color spray camouflage (known to collectors as a “Normandy” style) helmet marked “ET68” for the maker “Eisenhüttenwerk Thale / Herz”, in a shell size of 68, with a lot number of “4206”. Shell retains 90+% of its tan, red brown, and green spray applied camouflage: the standard German armored camouflage colors from 1943 onwards, and applied in that order. The camouflaged has clearly been applied over this helmet which had earlier damage to the smooth prewar blue-gray paint, and would be expected on a helmet which was manufactured several years before the camo was applied. These prewar M35 helmets were often used during the Normandy campaign with camouflage paint and wire applied, and often sent/ brought home by US GIs. The outline of the Luftwaffe eagle and national colors decals are both visible under the camo paint, and you can observe a few tiny areas of the white eagle peeking out. The galvanized chicken wire is of the textbook type used by German forces, with the correct twist pattern, and with the normal accumulation of the zinc wash present among the twists. The wire exhibits oxidation and patina, especially near the rim, and has been attached by bending it under the rim. Interior retains 85-90% of its untouched smooth blue-gray finish, with dust and freckling. A dome stamp is present, and the name “Wieting” is written on the rear skirt. Original aluminum liner band is present and is untouched. Liner is intact, untouched, in a medium brown color, with moderate to heavy stains, dryness, and flaking around its rim. Drawstring is missing and the size stamp is illegible. An original chinstrap with steel fittings is attached, with moderate to heavy wear, dryness, and flaking. The name “Friedl” is present on the liner. The presence of 2 different names on a helmet which had a long life of service is not uncommon. Chinstrap appears to be an era replacement and has been secured over the helmet’s rim for a very long time. A very desirable untouched spray camouflage chicken wire helmet. CONDITION: Overall very good to excellent. WEZ 6,000 - 8,000

After the issues with the Beretta M9 slide cracking and injuring a Navy Seal during a VIP demonstration, a small company named Phrobis redesigned the slide to address these shortcomings, closing the top and reinforcing the locking lug area, while widening the ejection port and deepening the slide serrations for improved control. It is speculated that very few, less than 30 total, were ever made, and they are highly desirable. This example is marked "U.S.N. 9mm M9 - (Phrobis Dolphin)", right side with "ASSY 9346487A - 75081". Right side of dust cover with "U.S.N. 9mm M9 - P. BERETTA - 75081". Right side of trigger guard with "P" in shield. Left side of dust cover with BER086363Z. Beretta 2-piece plastic grips. Advertising from Phrobis when the slide was offered shows the slide being marked as U.S.N. CONDITION: Very good, with some marks from handling and storage throughout but retaining the vast majority of the blued finish. Some silvering on high edges, slide legends enhanced with white paint on left side. Rear sight with added dot of white paint to simulate figure 8 sights. Frame and controls with some wear that has silvered, including some dings. Mechanically fine, bore is excellent with strong rifling. This is a very rare opportunity to acquire a Phrobis slide. Manufacturer: Walther
Model: P.38
Serial No. 778
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 5”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

1 of only 1,000 of these first variation P.38 zero series pistols were manufactured by Walther to be utilized in the 1939 Wehrmacht troop test trials, resulting in the acceptance of the P.38 for military issue. While technically still being a pre-production variation, some of these 1,000 P.38s were issued and taken into some of the first battles of World War II. This variation is further explained on page 26 of “The P.38 Pistol” by Alexander Krutzek. This example bears the Walther banner logo followed by “P.38” and the serial number “0778” on the left side of the slide, with the right bearing 2 Walther “(Eagle)/359” Waffenamts surrounding a German Eagle firing proof. Early features include an internal extractor, dished slide, angled takedown lever, lightening cuts on the barrel rails, center-cut locking block, as well as wire-type locking block retainer. Matching numbers are present on the frame, slide, barrel, locking block, and interior of the grip panels, as well as on the magazine. Pistol is accompanied by a period leather holster marked “cxb/1940” above an “(Eagle)/727” Waffenamt, indicating manufacture by Moll, Goch. CONDITION: Very good overall, with metal components retaining bountiful amounts of their original factory high polish blue finish, exhibiting some scattered areas of wear as well as some scattered marks from handling and storage that show through to silvering overall. Exceptionally bright bore, exhibiting some light oxidation on the lands and within the grooves and retaining well-defined rifling throughout. Black checkered bakelite grips show some scattered handling marks, as well as some minor smoothing to the diamonds, but are otherwise fine. Holster shows age-related cracking, some areas of light crazing, as well as a cut along the left side of the flap, but is otherwise sturdy and serviceable. An exceptionally rare and high condition example of a Walther 1st Variation Zero Series P.38 semi-automatic pistol, utilized in the 1939 Wehrmacht troop test trials. MLW 5,000 - 8,000

Manufacturer: Mauser
Model: P.38
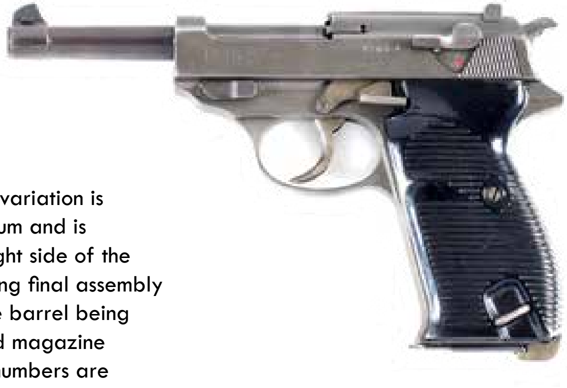
Serial No. 8505c
Caliber/Bore: 9mm Para
Barrel Length: 5"
FFL Status: Curio & Relic



P.38 semi-automatic pistol manufactured by Mauser near the end of WWII. This variation is unique, in that the slide was manufactured by Fabrique Nationale in Liege, Belgium and is stamped "P38 ac/44", signifying its intent for use at the Walther factory. The right side of the slide bears 2 Mauser eagle/135 waffenamts surrounding a firing proof, indicating final assembly at the Mauser factory. The frame and slide are both phosphate finished, with the barrel being blued. Frame is mounted with 2-piece grooved black polyamide grips. The blued magazine is stamped "P38/U" indicating that the feed lips were not hardened. Matching numbers are present on the frame, slide, barrel, and locking block. This example is accompanied by a brown leather holster marked "bla/1944" and "(Eagle)/WaA159", indicating manufacture by E. G. Leuner in Bautzen, Germany, that contains a spare phosphate finished magazine. CONDITION: Excellent, with metal components retaining the vast majority of their original factory-applied phosphate and blued finishes, exhibiting some high edge wear as well as some scattered handling marks overall. Mirror bore, exhibiting well-defined lands and grooves throughout. Grips show some light superficial handling marks overall, with the bottom rear of the right panel showing a small spot of marring. Holster shows some age-related cracking and minor spots of crazing but is otherwise sturdy and serviceable. A very fine example of an extremely intriguing and rare Mauser produced P.38 variation. 3345 - (C) GERMAN WARTIME COMMERCIAL WALTHER MODEL PPK .22 LR SEMI-AUTOMATIC PISTOL WITH HOLSTER & SPARE MAGAZINE.

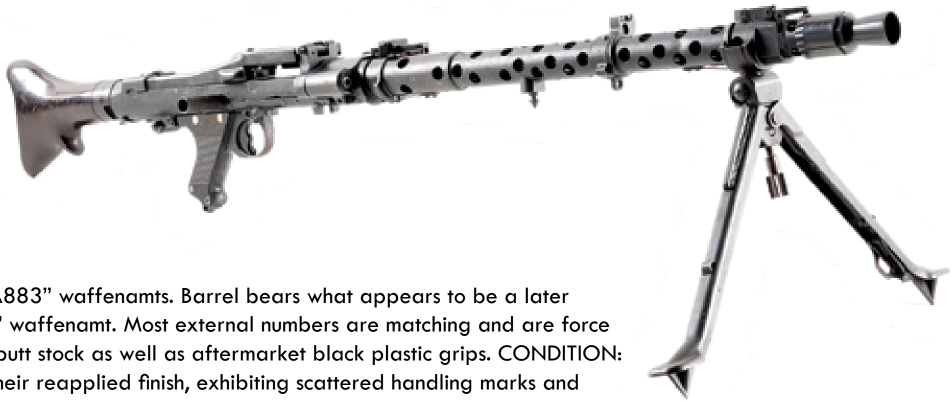
Manufacturer: Walter
Model: PPK
Serial No. 343900K
Caliber/Bore: .22 LR
Barrel Length: 3 - 1/4”
FFL Status: Curio & Relic

Standard configuration PPK chambered in .22 LR manufactured by Walther in 1941. Left side of slide bears the Walther banner logo followed by stampings stipulating the manufacturer information as well as the caliber and model designations. Right side of chamber and slide bears horizontal German “(Eagle) / N” commercial nitro proofs. Metal components are blued and frame is mounted with a 1-piece checkered Walther black plastic wrap around grip. Matching numbers are present on the frame and slide. Pistol is accompanied by a “D.R.G.M.” marked leather holster containing 1 spare magazine. CONDITION: Metal components retain large amounts of their original factory blue finish, exhibiting areas of wear and thinning showing through to gray and brown patinas overall. Bore is bright and retains fair rifling throughout. Grips show some minor warping, as well as some scattered nicks and handling marks from use, but are otherwise sturdy and serviceable. MLW 1,000 - 1,800

3346 - DESIRABLE GERMAN WORLD WAR II MG-34 DISPLAY MACHINE GUN.



MG-34 display machine gun assembled from original World War II components on a dummy receiver. Barrel shroud is stamped bears Waffenwerke Brunn’s “dot” code above “1943”. Receiver cover markings have been ground and bear a contemporary “clc” manufacturer code above “(Eagle) / WaA883” waffenamts. Barrel bears what appears to be a later applied “cra” over an “(Eagle) / WaA11” waffenamt. Most external numbers are matching and are force matched. Gun is mounted with a bakelite butt stock as well as aftermarket black plastic grips. CONDITION: Metal components retain the majority of their reapplied finish, exhibiting scattered handling marks and some light surface oxidation overall. Bore is bright and retains good rifling throughout. Buttstock shows some scattered handling marks, but otherwise appears serviceable. Grips show scattered handling marks and minor losses, with the left grip panel bear a loss at the mid section. A nice non-firing example of an MG-34 machine gun that would make for a fine display piece. MLW 2,000 - 3,000

3352 - PRE-WWII GERMAN ERMA E.L.24 K98 CONVERSION KIT WITH CAPTURE PAPERS.

Serial No. 1846

German Pre-World War II .22 Caliber K98 EL24 conversion kit in its wooden storage box. Receiver is marked “Erma Fabrikat Erma”, various “WaA77” (Erma & Geipel) proofs, and the bolt assembly, receiver, and barrel have matching numbers (1846). 2 .22 5-round magazines are included and are of different types. 1 with a side spring is marked “Erma” with a “WaA132”, and the second more conventional type is marked “WaA280” and “Erma”, “Erfurt”, and “1937”. The second magazine is missing its spring, but the follower and base plate are present. The conversion floor plate magazine well is marked “WaA280”, “Erme”, “Erfurt”, “1937”, and a mismatched serial number (2370). Blued components retain 90+% of their finish. The original wooden box was sent by a US WWII GI (PFC Sidney Steiger) to a “Lt. Steiger “ at Ft Meade, MD. While the inside of the box was marked to a different conversion kit in black ink, an era pencil marking has the matching serial number of “1846”. Both sets of markings identify the serial number of the K98 the kit was assigned to. A capture paper filled out on “13 May 1945” by “Pfc. Sidney Steiger” listing “1 Conversion Kit For German Rifle” is included in the lot, but is tattered. CONDITION: Overall excellent. WEZ 1,500 - 2,000

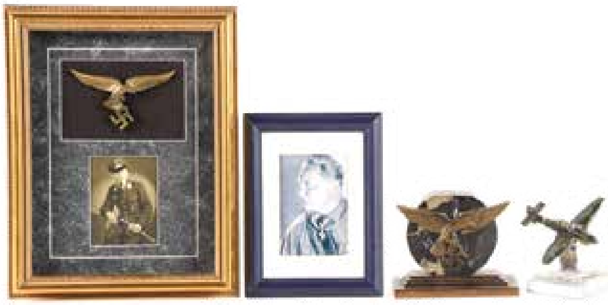
3356 - US WWII CATERPILLAR CLUB POW DIARY AND DOCUMENT GROUPING OF LT. ROSS H. LAWSON, 459TH BOMB GROUP, 756TH BOMB SQUADRON SHOT DOWN OVER PLOESTI.

Small but significant WWII POW diary and document grouping to Lieutenant Ross H. Lawson who was a navigator on B-24 bombers in the 459th Bomb Group, 756th Bomb Squadron. Lawson's Prisoner of War saga begins on July 28, 1944, when the 459th suffered one of it's worst combat mission losses over Ploiesti, Romania. Though not as costly as "Black Sunday" 6 crews failed to return, with 2 lost at the target from direct flak hits. 4 aircraft later crashed due to damage. That day, the total count was 26 POWs, 16 KIAs, and 19 men evaded and were eventually returned. The lot consists of Lawson's POW diary, his personnel cards, newspaper excerpts, blank letters, and liberation document. Lawson's diary is colorful and is filled with details of his POW experience. The diary begins with a section he titled "FOREWARD" which includes details of his last mission, how his B-24 was damaged, and how he bailed out. "I was on a bombing raid to the Ploesti Oil Fields and the intelligence was right-- there was intense, accurate flak." There are pages filled with information from other POWs, as the diary served as a small yearbook where members of Stalag Luft 3 would sign their names, units, and other information. The information also includes how these other airmen were shot down. There is also a section of poetry and the middle of the diary contains photos of Lawson's sweetheart, as well as very interesting cartoon drawings along with entries of Lawson's day-to-day life as he talks about the conditions of the camp, different interactions, the poor diet (he was not fond of the soup), and forced marches leading up to liberation by the Russians. There is even a section in the back of the diary in which Lawson addresses the commandant of Stalag Luft 3 regarding the conditions and lists his complaints. The back of the diary contains small clippings of German propaganda, including a cartoon of US soldiers being listed as "Roosevelt's Gangsters" and was translated by Lawson. Completing the diary is a Christmas 1944 Stalag Luft 3 menu and the original document that accompanied the diary, signed by the YMCA. Another highlight of the group is Lawsons Personnel cards which recorded Lawson's personal information including his "mugshot", fingerprints, address, and other information. The edges are deformed and have browned, almost giving the appearance of having been in the center of a large document fire which claimed the edges but not the center of the documents. Also included is a document from Headquarters, Camp Ramp, which explains how to maintain a proper diet and adjust to eating after liberation. There are also scattered newspaper clippings and several blank letters which were distributed to the POWS. Finally, Lawson's pilot, Claude Porter, wrote a book after the war titled "Cuckoo Over Vienna". The book is not included with this grouping, however, the winner may want to purchase a copy, as there may be details on Lawson. CONDITION: The diary's cover is fraying at the binding and separating. The pages show typical age, but drawings and entries are wonderfully preserved. The POW personnel cards are worn as mentioned. The other pieces of ephemera exhibit age and wear that is typical of old paper. Overall good. This is an excellent Caterpillar Club POW grouping. JLD 1,000 - 2,000

3357 - LOT OF 4: GERMAN WWII LUFTWAFFE DESK ORNAMENTS AND FRAMED PHOTOS.



Lot contains an aluminum Ju87 Stuka mounted to an aluminum block with an aluminum Luftwaffe eagle mounted as well. Consignor provided a Certificate of Authenticity stating this item was manufactured prior to May 1945. Also included is a WWII award consisting of a bronze Luftwaffe eagle mounted to what appears to be marble, which is then mounted to a bronze base with the inscription "Z. Verm. gew. v. d. Kamen d. Abt.I Funk Brieg. 19.3.40.", and appears to be an award won by a Luftwaffe signal unit in 1940. Lot also includes a non-WWII print of Hermann Goering mounted in a frame. Also included is a nicely postwar framed wartime portrait of a Luftwaffe NCO wearing a Luftwaffe Air Gunner's badge as well as a Glider Pilot's badge with a bronze Luftwaffe eagle, as well as another wartime wedding photo of the NCO attached to the reverse. CONDITION: Overall excellent. WEZ 500 - 800

The artist's name "Kunz Weidlich" is on the upper right, and the printer "Stenders Kunstverlag Nuernberg" is on the lower left. The poster cannot be removed from its frame, as it was professionally mounted and sealed. The poster appears to be made of a wood pulp fiber paper with a black overprint, and remains vibrant throughout. The print does not appear to have been folded. CONDITION: Overall excellent. (B) Third Reich framed print, measuring 21" X 17", featuring General Werner von Blomberg; Hitler's first Minister of Defense. The print has a facsimile of Blomberg's signature and was printed by "Verlag Albert Fils, Berlin SO 16". The poster cannot be removed from its frame, as it was professionally mounted and sealed. The poster appears to be made of a wood pulp fiber paper with a black overprint, and remains vibrant throughout. The print does not appear to have been folded. CONDITION: Overall excellent. (C) Third Reich framed print, measuring 17 - 1/2" X 15 - 1/2", featuring General Erich Ludendorff. The print features what appears to be his signature, and and extends from the matting to the print itself. The print/ matting is backed by a piece of cardboard which in turn exhibits buckling and water stains. The matting has light stains and damage, and the frame has moderate wear. CONDITION: Overall very good. WEZ 700 - 1,000

Should MORPHY'S deny an authenticity issue dispute of the buyer, and the buyer is not satisfied, the buyer may, at his or her own expense, obtain the written opinion of two mutually agreed upon recognized experts in the field of the disputed item. The final decision of those experts will determine any refund consideration. This limited guarantee is only available to the buyer of record. Please also refer to POST SALE RETURN POLICY at end of terms.

Except as stated in the limited guarantee above, MORPHY'S will not be held responsible for typographical errors. Neither we nor the consignor, make any guarantees, warranties, or representation, expressed, or implied, in regard to the property or the correctness of the catalog or other description of the authenticity of authorship, physical condition, size, quality, rarity, importance, provenance, exhibition, literature or historic relevance of the property or otherwise. It is the bidder's responsibility to initiate contact with MORPHY'S in request for additional information regarding the items. Submit all questions regarding upcoming auction items at least 48 hours prior to the date of auction. We will make every effort to answer all submitted questions in a timely manner. We will do our best but cannot promise that questions submitted within 48 hours of the auction date will be answered prior to the auction. The consigner and we make no representation or warranty as to whether the buyer acquires any reproduction rights in the property. All items will be available for preview approximately one (1) month prior to the auction.

TIMING

There will be no options for refunds of any type beyond 35 calendar days from the auction date. Paying late and thus receiving items late will not change the limitation on the dates above for refund consideration. Please also refer to POST SALE RETURN POLICY at end of terms.

FIREARMS – All firearms transfers will be in strict accordance with all International, Federal, State and local laws. Be sure to check your country, state and local laws before bidding. If you are unable to import, purchase or own a firearm according to your residency laws, do not bid on these items. If you bid and find out later you cannot legally own/accept delivery, the bid is still a valid contract that the buyer must pay.

- Firearms Catalog Designations
  - o A: antique
  - o M: modern (post 1898), Federal Firearms License (FFL) requirements apply
  - o C: curio & relic eligible
  - o N: National Firearms Act / Title II Gun Control Act of 1968 (Class III SOT) requirements apply
  - o D: Destructive Devices
  - o ^:Modern firearm imported from Canada, will have an unassuming marking that contains at least "BV LYNDEN WA" and any of the following not already marked on the firearm: serial number, caliber, country of manufacture, manufacturer name and model. Marking letters are 1/16" tall and just over 0.003" deep. Buyers must consider this in their bidding. Marking will not appear on antique firearms imported from Canada.

- Checkout and pickup at our location:
  - o The same person to whom the bidder number is registered must be the person to pick up the firearm(s) at the conclusion of the sale – Federal Law disallows anyone else from accepting the transfer.
  - o Licensed bidders, i.e. Federal Firearms licensees or Curios & Relics license holders must present a current signed copy of their license. C&R licensee purchases must conform to the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, Firearms and Explosives (BATF) C&R requirements.
  - o Non-Residents of Pennsylvania
    - may not pickup modern or curio and firearms without a valid FFL or C & R license
  - o Residents of Pennsylvania
    - Modern firearms sales to non-licensed Pennsylvania bidders who are picking up guns at our location will require the completion of a form 4473 background check.
    - Handgun purchases also require an additional PICS form/background check for each handgun purchased. This process to fill out forms and obtain a response may take 5-10 minutes. Any applicable state fees associated with these checks will be added to the customer's invoice.
    - If you are "Denied" by FBI / PICS background check you will not be able to take possession of the firearm and the firearm will be consigned to the next available firearm auction. Dealers and Individuals that bid on and win items own the items and are fully responsible for payment within terms regardless of whether the FBI / PICS approves their taking physical possession of the items. MORPHY'S will not cancel the sale due to disapproval for any reason.

• If you are appealing a "Denied" decision, we will hold the firearm only if you pay in full.

• Shipping

o Any firearms being shipped are legally required to be shipped to a BATF licensed FFL dealer within your state of residence for transfer and pickup. For states that allow shipment of C& R firearms to the C&R license holder, MORPHY's reserves the right to ship those C&R firearms to the address listed on C&R license. You will be responsible for all shipping and transfer costs incurred.

o Modern handguns are required to be shipped via FedEx 2-Day Air.

o Modern long guns are shipped via FedEx ground to the FFL dealer.

o Upon receipt of the invoice, buyer is to confirm the FFL validity and ship to address on the invoice. If not already on the invoice or it is changing, contact a licensed dealer to send their FFL to firearms@morphyauctions.com with the paid invoice number notated in the subject field.

o MORPHY'S will not be responsible for exporting modern firearms, weapon or any ammunition. Please see INTERNATIONAL SHIPPING below for additional shipping information. Buyer may contact a third-party provider. We recommend making contact with an exporter prior to bidding for pricing, process and timeline information.

• National Firearms Act (NFA) Class 3 Weapons and Destructive Devices (DD) Processing

o Dealers: Buyer must provide MORPHY'S with a copy of their active FFL and either their SOT or DD license, whatever applies. Estimated time for processing and approval of the required Form 3 normally takes two months, dealer to dealer via E-File is usually less than a week.

o Individuals: Law requires a completed Form 4, or Form 5 for deactivated guns. MORPHY'S will prepare and sign the front of the applicable transfer form, and send to the individual buyer. Individual is responsible for completing requirements for fingerprints, photo, and a fee of $200 per item, as well as completing applicable portions of the reverse side of the form. Estimated time for processing and approval of Form 4 is 9-12 months.

o Dealers and Individuals that bid on and win NFA or DD items own the items and are fully responsible for payment within terms regardless of whether the BATF approves their taking physical possession of the items. MORPHY'S will not cancel the sale due to BATF disapproval for any reason.

• Long guns will only be sold to persons 18 years of age, or older. Handguns will only be sold to those persons 21 years of age, or older. Dealers are bound by these minimum age requirements.

• Since all firearms sold are "collectible" items, MORPHY'S does not test the safety or warrant functionality of these firearms. All firearm purchases should be examined by a certified gunsmith prior to shooting.

• MORPHY'S reserves the right to deny the sale of a firearm to any buyer.

GOODS MADE FROM OR CONTAINING MATERIALS FROM PROTECTED SPECIES - MORPHY'S does not accept any responsibility or liability for the sale of items containing materials from protected species or for any omission in marking or labeling goods as containing materials from protected species. Such material includes, but is not limited to, ivory from elephants and walruses, tortoise shell, crocodile skin, whalebone, rhinoceros horn, some species of coral and certain woods. Restrictions on the importation, exportation, sale, transfer, and/or possession of goods containing materials from protected species derive from international, federal, and state laws and regulations promulgated thereunder. Laws include, but are not limited to, the Convention on International Trade in Endangered Species of Flora and Fauna (CITES), the Endangered Species Act (ESA) and the Marine Mammals Protection Act (MMPA). States currently restricting trade of protected species include, but are not limited to, California, New York and New Jersey.

Prospective buyers are on notice that several countries completely prohibit importation of property made, all or in part, of protected materials. Some countries require special permits, such as a CITES permit, from the relevant regulating authority in the countries of exportation and importation as well. Potential buyers intending to import the property into another country should be familiar with the relevant customs laws and regulations prior to bidding on goods containing material from protected species. Regulations may vary as the U.S. generally prohibits importation of articles containing material(s) from species it has designated endangered or threatened if the articles are less than 100 years old, subject to certain exceptions.

It shall be the potential buyer's sole responsibility to research and satisfy the requirements of any laws and regulations that apply to the import and export of property as described in the aforementioned paragraphs. All buyers agree to comply with any and all domestic and international restrictions on the trade of protected species as a condition of the sale. Please note that the ability to obtain an export license or certificate does not ensure the ability to obtain an import license or certificate in another country, and vice versa. It is the buyer's responsibility to obtain any export or import licenses and/or certificates as well as any other required documentation. MORPHY'S is not able to assist the buyer in attempting to obtain the appropriate licenses and/or certificates, and there is no assurance that an export license or certificate can be obtained. The inability or delay in obtaining permits, licenses or other permissions to import or export goods containing material from protected species will not constitute a basis for rescission or cancellation of the sale of said goods or the delay in payment of purchased items in accordance with these Bidder Terms and Conditions.

BIDDING RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES

The auctioneer will determine the highest bidder. The auctioneer alone has the right to reopen the bidding of an item if deemed necessary due to a dispute. If there is a tie bid between the floor and Internet or absentee bid, the floor bid takes precedence. MORPHY'S and its representatives reserve the right to remove those attendees who impede preview and/or the auction. Title to all merchandise shall pass to the highest bidder at the fall of the auctioneer's hammer. The buyer will then assume all risk and full responsibility of the lot purchased once ownership has changed. We recommend that you arrange insurance for your items immediately upon becoming the highest bidder. MORPHY'S is not responsible for any errors in bids, omissions of bids, or failure to execute bids and shall have no liability to any bidder for any technical or other failure associated with the internet, absentee bidding, or telephone bidding.

BIDDER
Terms & Conditions

- ABSENTEE BIDDING - MORPHY'S will accept absentee bids if pre-authorized by mail, fax or through www.morphyauctions.com online. Absentee bidders must use the absentee bid form and clearly mark the lot number, title and maximum bid amount. Absentee bidding forms may be accessed online at www.morphyauctions.com. If there are two (2) identical bids placed on the same item, priority will be given to the first bid received. All bids must be left in increments as explained on our bid form. If a bid is "out of increment," the auctioneer has the right to round the bid up to the next correct increment. Bidders may preview, register and place bids online through our website, www.morphyauctions.com. Invoices will be auto charged to the credit card MORPHY's has access to and is on file within 48 hours after the end of the sale. If you wish to pay by another method please contact us within 48 hours after the sale. Seller(s) agree to allow the Auctioneer to accept and execute absentee bids in a competitive manner for potential buyers and under the MORPHY'S absentee bidding terms and conditions. During the live sale, the auctioneer will execute your absentee bid competitively up to the maximum amount you have indicated.
- ONLINE BIDDING - Online bidding through www.morphyauctions.com, Live Auctioneers, Invaluable, Proxibid, or other bidding platforms may be available; all Terms and Conditions still apply. A surcharge may be added for third party online platforms. Refer to your bidding platform of choice for the final buyer's premium. If there is a tie bid between the internet bidding venues and the floor, the floor bid takes precedence. Invoices will be auto charged to the credit card MORPHY's has access to and is on file within 48 hours after the end of the sale. If you wish to pay by another method please contact us within 48 hours after the sale. If you are a first-time bidder with Morphy, we do not have access to Live Auctioneers and Invaluable credit card information. Due to our fast-paced auctions and bids coming from floor bidders, phone bidders, internet bidders and absentee bids, the auctioneer has the final word on all item(s) sold. You (the bidder) assume the risk of winning an item online and not having the item actually sell to you. This is due to the final call of the auctioneer and the operator not being able to re-open that lot. Online bidders are fully responsible for accidental bidding as if they bid normally.
- BID RESULTS – MORPHY'S will only contact successful bidders. Please allow 24-48 hours post auction to receive your official invoice from MORPHY'S. The invoice will include item, hammer price, premium, packing and handling, shipping, insurance, and any other charges that apply. Please hold phone inquiries regarding bid success until after receiving your invoice. For verifications, MORPHY'S cannot provide winning bid information until the second business day after the auction. MORPHY'S will not provide bidder information to any outside sources.
- TELEPHONE BIDDING - Requests for phone lines must be received at least three (3) days prior to the auction date. MORPHY'S cannot guarantee phone lines but will make every attempt to accommodate those who wish to participate through that method. Phone lines are provided on a first come first served basis. Please visit www.morphyauctions.com or call 877-968-8880 to request a call from our representatives during the live auction.

BID INCREMENTS

Bid increments listed are a general guideline. Actual increments are at the auctioneer's discretion. If a lot does not receive a bid of 50% of the low estimate, the lot will be passed by the auctioneer.

$0 - $500...................$25
$500 - $1,000............$50
$1,000 - $2,000.........$100
$2,000 - $5,000.........$200
$5,000 - $10,000.......$500
$10,000 +.................. Auctioneer's discretion

RESERVES

Most of our items are unreserved, but occasionally items may carry a moderate reserve. Please note that when a lot carries a reserve, the reserve is usually somewhere below our low estimate. In the case of a reserved item, the seller has authorized the auctioneer to bid on their behalf until the reserve price is reached.

BUYER'S PREMIUM

A 20% buyer's premium will be added to all successful bids and is payable by the buyer as part of the total purchase cost. A 3% merchant fee is also automatically applied to all invoices but can be discounted upon payment by cash, check, money order or wire transfer that is received within 7 days from the receipt of the invoice. If the type of payment is split, invoice will reflect the 3% charge for merchant fees on the entire invoice. In addition, a surcharge will be added for certain third-party online bidding platforms the bidder utilizes. Refer to your bidding platform of choice for the final buyer's premium.

SALES TAX

MORPHY'S is required to collect sales tax where our company established nexus in the previous year. Sales tax rate will be charged by law on behalf of the state and locality where the customer of record takes possession of their purchase. Lots are subject to all applicable state and local taxes, unless appropriate permits are on file with MORPHY'S including lots delivered to you, or your representative. It is the bidder's responsibility to know the sales tax rate applicable. As a convenience, here is a resource to find your applicable sales tax: https://www.taxjar.com/sales-tax-calculator. Bidder agrees to pay MORPHY'S the actual amount of tax due in the event that sales tax is not properly collected due to: 1) an expired, inaccurate, or inappropriate tax certificate or declaration, 2) an incorrect interpretation of the applicable statute, 3) or any other reason. The appropriate form or certificate must be on file at and verified by MORPHY'S five days prior to Auction, or tax must be paid; only if such form or certificate is received by MORPHY'S within 4 days after the Auction can a refund of tax paid be made. Lots from different auctions may not be aggregated for sales tax purposes.

PAYMENT, INTEREST & STORAGE FEES

Any invoice totaling more than $100,000 must be paid within three (3) days. All other merchandise must be paid in full within seven (7) days of the date of the invoice. Payments can be made by going to your account online at www.morphyauctions.com, call 877-968-8880 or mail payment to: Dan Morphy Auctions LLC 2000 N Reading Rd, Denver, PA 17517. Upon payment in full, it is the bidder's responsibility to submit any additional information necessary, including an FFL, to initiate transfer and shipping. Interest will be charged on all balances not paid at the rate of 1-1/2% monthly (18% APR) effective 30 days from the invoice date. All goods not retrieved by Buyer within 45 days after the invoice date, shall be subject to a daily storage fee as follows: $5/day per regular sized item or $10/day per oversized item. Buyer authorizes MORPHY's to sell, at their standard commission and consignment contract terms, any goods not retrieved after a 90-day period in any manner deemed appropriate by MORPHY's and the proceeds will be applied to any outstanding balance due from the buyer.

BIDDER
Terms & Conditions

Any outstanding balance will be auto charged to the credit card on file. If you wish to pay by another method, please contact us within 48 hours after the sale.

We accept Visa, MasterCard, Discover, American Express, personal checks, certified checks, wire transfers, money orders, and cash.

- CREDIT CARD – If a credit card is used as any form of total payment, invoice will reflect a 3% surcharge on the entire invoice. This charge is automatically added but will be discounted if payment is received by cash, check, money order or wire transfer. MORPHY's reserves the right to refuse to ship to a different address than the billing address on the credit card being used.
- CHECK - There will be a $30.00 service charge for returned checks. Make checks payable to: Dan Morphy Auctions LLC. MORPHY'S reserves the right to hold items paid for by personal or company check until said check clears (14 days). MORPHY'S has the right to hold all checks over $2,000. Customers who have an established successful buying history with MORPHY'S may be exempt from this requirement. We will accept a personal or company check >$2,000 from a first time buyer if you provide a Bank Letter of Credit, available on our website, www.morphyauctions.com.
- WIRE TRANSFERS – There will be a $30 charge added to all wire transfers less than $2,000. Please add this amount to your invoice total before sending a wire transfer.

In the few situations where a successful bidder does not remit payment when due, MORPHY'S will proceed with the legal steps necessary to protect its interests and will block the bidder from future auction participation.

PACKING/SHIPPING

- It is the bidder's responsibility to take shipping, handling, and insurance costs into consideration when bidding on items.
- BIDDERS PRESENT AND TAKING ITEMS AFTER AUCTION – Since item liability transfers upon a successful bid, items paid for must be packed, transported and/or removed by the buyer at his/her own risk after the close of the sale. We recommend that you arrange insurance for your items immediately upon becoming the highest bidder. If any employee or agent of MORPHY'S shall pack or transport the merchandise, it is fully at the risk and responsibility and expense of the buyer. MORPHY'S shall not be held liable for any loss or damage that may be caused by the said agent or employee.
- ITEMS NOT PICKED UP THE DAY OF THE SALE – Packaging, shipping, and insurance on all items that MORPHY'S agrees to ship to locations that can accept shipments will be made available as an added courtesy and at an additional cost. We recommend that you arrange insurance for your items immediately upon becoming the highest bidder. All applicable charges will be applied to the invoice. Shipping will be based on actual costs via FedEx, USPS, or other carriers required based upon the contents of the shipment. Packaging and insurance will vary in cost depending on the items on each invoice. All packages will be shipped with insurance. Oversize and breakable items, which MORPHY'S will indicate on the invoice will ship based upon the buyer's arrangement with a 3rd party shipper. MORPHY's cannot combine standard item shipments with oversize and breakable item shipments. If any employee or agent of MORPHY'S shall pack or transport the merchandise, it is fully at the risk and responsibility and expense of the buyer. MORPHY'S shall not be held liable for any loss or damage that may be caused by the said agent or employee.
- SHIPPING TERMS - MORPHY'S will ship items to the buyer at the listed address via FedEx or other carriers, FOB Denver, Pennsylvania or FOB other auction locations. Any risk of loss or damage to the item(s) during transit via FedEx, or any other carrier, in excess of the insurance provided by or purchased from MORPHY'S, is at the risk of the buyer. Any additional insurance coverage should be purchased by the buyer through the carrier. Buyer releases MORPHY's from any and all claims for loss or damage to any item during transit and agrees to pay all costs of defense, including attorney's fees, for any claims brought against MORPHY'S for loss or damage occurring during transit.
- INSURANCE - Shipping insurance is automatically added, which you can decline by contacting us and providing a signed waiver of insurance form. Insurance for all 3rd party shipments must be arranged through that carrier. Insurance provided or purchased through MORPHY's applies only to shipments to the United States and Canada. Buyers must purchase their own insurance for shipments to other countries.
- INTERNATIONAL SHIPMENTS – MORPHY'S welcomes our international customers. MOPRHY'S can provide upon request a complete process and set of recommended company contacts with whom the Buyer can work to understand the steps, timing, and cost to acquire items at auction. It shall be the potential buyer's sole responsibility to research and satisfy the requirements of any laws and regulations that apply to the import and export of property and for paying all shipping costs, customs and duties on the items. By law, MORPHY'S cannot, and will not, declare lesser values for any international purchases and all shipments will include the invoice with purchase totals including the buyer's premium and shipping cost.
- 3RD PARTY SHIPPING of OVERSIZE ITEMS – Buyers will need to either pick up the items personally or arrange a 3rd party shipping service for oversize items. As a general guideline, the following will indicate which packages apply, as they are of a certain weight, length, or dimensional size.
  · Dimensional size is length (the longest measurement) + (height x 2) + (width x 2). For example a 36" x 36" x 12" package = 36 + (36 x2) + (12 x 2) = 132"
  · USA home shipments must be <70 lbs. and <108" length and <165" dimensional size
  · USA business shipments must be <150 lbs. and <108" length and <165" dimensional size
  · International shipments must be <150 lbs. and <108" length and <130" dimensional size
  · There may be certain shipments that meet these requirements that will still require 3rd party shipping, and we will communicate the reason in those cases.
- 3RD PARTY SHIPPING OF BREAKABLE ITEMS - MORPHY'S reserves the right to choose items and orders that it will pack, ship, and/or insure directly using our shipping department. Those items that MORPHY'S will not ship will require that the buyer either pick up the items personally or arrange a 3rd party shipping service. Examples of items that may apply after determination by our shipping department include but are not limited to: items with neon of any type (working or non-working), all glass display cases of any size; coin-operated, arcade and vending items with fragile parts and/or glass; signs with parts or protrusions beyond the main body of the sign, oversized vases (guideline – larger than fit in a 20" x 20" x 40" box), high value lamps and glass of all sizes, high value artwork including but not limited to paintings, statuary, sculpture, figurines, dioramas, and other intricate items; and items subject to impact by moisture and known handling issues in the supply chain. Under no circumstances will MORPHY'S be responsible for shipping damage to picture frames of any kind.

- For any buyers who wish to arrange for their own shipping, MORPHY'S must be notified at least seven (7) days prior to arrival of the shipping company name, arrival date and time. Pickup must be scheduled to begin and end within our normal business hours (9am – 4pm weekdays). Buyers must arrange weekend pickups in advance with MORPHY'S staff, and additional charges may be necessary for overtime. All 3rd party shippers must arrive with a copy of the invoice.
- STORAGE FEE – MORPHY'S will charge a daily storage fee of $5/day per regular sized item or $10/day per oversized item for any items awaiting pickup for more than 45 days following the invoice date. Buyer authorizes the MORPHY's to sell, at their standard commission and consignment contract terms, any goods not retrieved after a 90-day period in any manner deemed appropriate by MORPHY's and the proceeds will be applied to any outstanding balance due from the buyer.

AGREEMENT REGARDING GOVERNING LAW, VENUE, AND LEGAL RIGHTS

I hereby understand and agree that any controversy or claim arising out of or relating to MORPHY'S Bidder Terms & Conditions, which includes this provision (hereafter referred to as "Terms & Conditions"), MORPHY'S, or the breach thereof (hereafter referred to as "Claims"), shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of Pennsylvania, without regard to its conflict of law provisions. I hereby irrevocably submit to the personal jurisdiction of the appropriate court in Lancaster County, Pennsylvania in any action or proceeding arising out of or relating to the Claims and their enforcement, and I agree that any and all Claims must be adjudicated, heard, determined, and resolved in said court, and I hereby irrevocably waive any objection on the ground that any such action or proceeding in said court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. MORPHY'S failure to exercise or enforce any right or provision of these Terms & Conditions or any other legal rights, shall not constitute a waiver of such right or provision. Any waiver of any provision of these Terms & Conditions by MORPHY'S must be made in writing and signed by an authorized representative of MORPHY'S specifically referencing the provision(s) contained within the Terms & Conditions to be waived. Headings used in the Terms & Conditions are for convenience only and are not to be relied upon. If any provision of the Terms & Conditions is found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be invalid, the parties nevertheless agree that the court should endeavor to give effect to the parties' intentions as reflected in the provision, and the other provisions of the Terms & Conditions shall remain in full force and effect. These Terms & Conditions will inure to the benefit of, and are intended to be, enforceable by MORPHY'S, its parents, subsidiaries, affiliates, successors, assigns, members, directors, officers, and licensees. There are no third party beneficiaries to these Terms & Conditions; a person or entity who is not a party or signatory to these Terms & Conditions has no rights under the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Act 1999 to rely upon or enforce any term or provision of these Terms & Conditions.

POST SALE RETURN POLICY

MORPHY'S engages knowledgeable experts to provide catalog descriptions on the merchandise we sell. Every effort is made to ensure those descriptions are accurate and that they fully disclose any exceptions to condition. Any buyer who has made their payment within the due date of 7 calendar days who wishes to report a problem must notify MORPHY'S within three calendar (3) days of receipt of their purchased item. Buyers who have not made their payment within the due date of 7 days may not return any items under any circumstances. No lots purchased by floor bidders (including those bidders acting as agents for others) may be returned. Please refer to MORPHY'S limited guarantee herein. A Return Authorization Number (RA#) must be issued by MORPHY'S before you ship anything back to our address. Any items arriving without a return authorization will not be given a refund. The item in question must be shipped with the RA# on the outside and inside of the package, with full insurance, so it arrives at MORPHY'S within one week of the aforementioned authorization.
